ORR IS ELECTED TO HIGH COURT OVER SAMUELL

Democrat Piles Up 4,000 Majority.

Republican senatorial primary in Iowa gives big lead to L. J. Dickinson over Gov. John Hammill; Dan Turner holds lead for governor.

Rock Island, Ill., June 2.—[Special.]—With only 14 precincts missing in the 14 counties comprising the Fourth judicial district Judge Warren H. Orr, Democrat, was the winner tonight over Justice Paul Samuell, Republican, in the election to fill the state Supreme court post made vacant last year by the death of Justice Cyrus Dietz of Moline. Orr's majority was approximately 4,000. Judge Orr is County judge of Hancock county. His home is in Carthage. Justice Samuell, whose home is in Jacksonville, has been temporarily serving in the Dietz vacancy by appointment of Gov. Emmerson. How much the voters' reaction against the G. O. P. had to do with the result is a matter of speculation here.

Samuell Concedes Defeat.

Springfield, Ill., June 2.—(AP)—Justice Paul Samuell tonight concedes the election of Judge Warren H. Orr to the Illinois Supreme court from the Fourth district.

The following statement was made by Justice Samuell:

"Returns indicate the election of Judge Warren H. Orr. I congratulate him and extend my best wishes. May this be the beginning of an illustrious career for him.

"My work on the court was extremely pleasant. While I regret to leave it, I bow to the voters of this district, always believing that they have expressed themselves wisely. I am indeed grateful to those who supported me so zealously. It is a pleasure to have such friendship, even though I am defeated."

Orr Thanks Voters.

Judge Orr, from his home in Carthage, issued the following statement after his election became certain:

"I am deeply grateful to my many friends throughout the Fourth district for the excellent vote I have received today and for their fine coöperation. I realize the great responsibility which the office carries with it. I know that my election has been brought about with the aid of hundreds of Republican friends in each of the counties of the district and I trust that my work on the Supreme court will justify their confidence in me.

"The verdict of the people shows that they believe that the judiciary should be kept as free as possible from the influence of partisan politics, and this is as it should be."

Partisanship Election Issue.

This last statement expresses the issue kept before his meetings as paramount by Judge Orr in his campaign. Gov. Louis L. Emmerson had supported Justice Samuell, whom he appointed, and Judge Orr seized on that as an issue, stressing it in all his speeches.

The Fourth district, normally considered Republican, gave its heaviest vote to Judge Orr in the southern counties. Justice Samuell was assumed to have the backing of the regular Republican organization.

In the 1928 election, when his name was included in the general ballot, Judge Orr lost by 12,000 votes to Justice Dietz in the Republican landslide of that year, although he ran 2,500 votes ahead of his ticket.

DICKINSON FAR IN LEAD

Des Moines, Ia., June 2 (Tuesday).—(AP)—Congressman L. J. Dickinson at midnight remained far in the lead of three other candidates for the Republican senatorial nomination. Dan W. Turner of Corning, upholding a proposed state income tax law, also held a large margin in a three cornered race for the party's choice for governor.

Countess Dechow Assassin's Target

SEIZE 200 ALIEN SUSPECTS; WAR ON GANG KILLERS

Police Ask U. S. Aid in Deportation.

Police Commissioner Russell moved last night to stifle the threatened gang warfare outbreak of which, the commissioner believes, the massacre of three men at Fox lake Sunday morning and the shooting of eight Chicago Sicilians may have been only a prelude Squads during the night were conducting raids made for the purpose of ridding the city of a percentage of the killers by deportation. At midnight 200 alien suspects were behind bars, 82 at the detective bureau and the others at outlying stations.

John Stege, chief of detectives, planned to have every prisoner questioned this morning by immigration inspectors. More than half of those in custody Stege said, admitted being without citizen's papers.

3 Caught in Chase.

A capture, which Stege pronounced important, was effected by Lieut. William Cusack and his squad when they sighted three Capone gangsters, each in his own car, driving south in Clark street in procession.

In the chase, the police car cut off and forced to the curb the second and third cars, the drivers being Israel Andelman, alias Alderman, former Detroit kidnapper, and Frank Foster, former henchman of the Moran-Aiello gang but lately allied with Capone, Stege said. Another Caponeite, Frank Diamond, outdistanced the squad car and escaped.

"These fellows were on no innocent mission," Stege declared after Andelman and Foster had announced they had quit the rackets.

"It is not unlikely that Diamond was leading them on a gunning expedition with the weapons stocked in his car, unwilling to trust them with guns because of their recent association with the enemy Moran. All three are dangerous men—known killers."

Kidnaping Plot Recalled.

Andelmen, whose most famous exploit was his hiring out as chauffeur to the Lake Forest millionaire, Charles H. Schweppe, with kidnaping designs on the Schweppe children, admitted he and Foster had recently been followers of Moran. "We quit the racket—no dough in it," he explained.

Another one seized in the general roundup was Rocco Fanelli, once a bravo in the Eller political organization and recently listed by the Chicago Crime commission as living in London. "London?" Fanelli scoffed. "I'm living at 1101 Polk street and I haven't crossed the Chicago river in three years."

Taken with Fanelli in a west side poolroom were James Belcastro, reputed bomber, and Ralph (Chink) Avino, both followers of Capone, according to Stege. None of them was armed, leaving Stege with no alternative except to book them for disorderly conduct and turn them out under small bond. This was to be done this morning.

32 Sicilians, 3 with Guns.

In addition to capturing Foster and Andelman, Lieut. Cusack's squad arrested 32 Sicilians, three of whom were taken with guns at Milton avenue and Oak street, the spot where "Moonshine Sam" Monistero, was killed and two companions wounded on Sunday morning.

One of the three with guns, Vincent Accardo, 45 years old, 816 Milton avenue admitted he had lived 17 years in this country without taking citizen's papers. The others, Paul Magliore, 45, and Philip Angaline, 38, are also aliens, Stege said. He hoped the immigration inspectors would discover means of deporting them.

Accardo and Magliore told Stege they had recently arrived here from New York in search of work. Stege scoffed, averring it was more likely they had been imported for a shooting job, possibly by the Aiello faction.

Suspect Plotter Was Slain.

Further investigation of the Fox Lake hotel machine gun affray Sunday morning in which Michael Quirk, Sam Pellar and Joseph Bertsche were slain, and George Druggan and Mrs. Vivian McGinnis wounded, gave rise to suspicion that one of the party was a victim of his own perfidy.

Stege reckoned it possible that Quirk, Pellar or, perhaps Druggan, had arranged the rendezvous to put the others "on the spot," and was HIGH TIDE OF SIN IN CHICAGO FOUND AT 4 AND 10 P. M.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon and at 10 o'clock at night the high tides of commercial vice are reached in Chicago, the directors of the Committee of Fifteen were informed yesterday in a report by Charles E. Miner, general director.

"From noon to 2:30 o'clock there is very little vice found, but at 3 o'clock 6 per cent of all new investigations result in securing evidence," says the report. "This runs up to 8 per cent by 4 o'clock and drops again to 3 by 5:30 o'clock," states the report, which is a summary of the investigations of the committee during the first three months of 1930.

"At 7:30 o'clock the proportion of evidence to investigations is 5 per cent which climbs steadily until at 10 o'clock it reaches 8 per cent," concluded the report.

Zeppelin Off for Spain and Home Again

BULLETIN.

New York, June 3.—(AP)—The Graf Zeppelin, on her flight to Spain, passed Nantucket lightship, about 215 miles from New York, at 1:10 a. m. (Chicago daylight saving time) today, said a radio message from the ship picked up by the Radio Marine corporation.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lakehurst, N. J., June 2.—[Special.]—The Graf Zeppelin slid away into the darkness at 10:11 tonight with twenty-two passengers and a cargo of freight and mail, bound for Friedrichshafen and home.

The great German air liner rose slowly, her nose pointed toward a crescent moon, and it was two full minutes before she had climbed high enough to turn on her engines. The Graf swung around the hangar and headed for New York, where she flew over the city in a farewell gesture.

From New York the Graf flew up Long Island sound, in order to take advantage of favorable winds before swinging out over the Atlantic for Seville and Friedrichshafen.

Supplies Put Aboard.

Henry Kubis, chief steward, was busy until the last minute packing away 1,000 pounds of choice food. A truck arrived late in the afternoon bearing what was said to be a liquor supply for the return trip. The "refreshments" were sent from Washington under a government permit.

It was 9:43 o'clock when the German visitor began to move out of the northeast door of the Lakehurst hangar, where she had been since her arrival early Saturday from Pernambuco. Five minutes later the ship was clear of the hangar, having been towed rapidly onto the field by a converted farm tractor attached to the new portable mast.

The Graf carried 89,000 pieces of mail. Fifty thousand letters and postcards bore a New York stamp and 39,000 were picked up for European delivery when the Graf touched at Pernambuco.

Hopes for Record Trip.

"We will pick our way after we leave Long Island sound," said Dr. Hugo Eckener just before he boarded his ship. "I think we will fly close to the Azores.

"The weather conditions are favorable and we expect to fly to Seville in less than fifty hours. We will stop there two hours and land eight of our passengers. From Seville it is only about 20 hours' flying time to Friedrichshafen. We may complete the trip in less than 70 hours if the winds are favorable."

MYSTERY SHOTS START HUNT FOR NEW 'RIDE' VICTIM

North side and county highway police early this morning were seeking the body of another supposed "ride" victim following a mysterious shooting in an alley at the rear of the Belmont hotel, Sheridan road and Belmont avenue, last night. A dozen shots were fired and guests of the hotel were aroused by the fusillade.

Two witnesses heard the shots and saw the flashes of fire from the guns. A few minutes later Policeman Michael Garrity of the Sheffield avenue police saw a large automobile race through the red lights at Diversey avenue and Clark street, horn honking continuously, and turn north on Broadway. He said that at the driver's right he saw the slumped form of a man, without hat or coat.

The two witnesses to the shooting were Fred Orth, 1406 Chicago avenue, Evanston, and Walter Hayes, 3159½ Hudson avenue. The latter was on his rear porch across from the alley when he saw the pistol fire. Orth said he saw several dim figures in the alley as the shots were fired.

EDWARD HINES SERIOUSLY ILL WITH PLEURISY

Edward Hines, millionaire lumberman and philanthropist, is seriously ill of pleurisy at his home, 1456 Ridge avenue, Evanston. His illness became known yesterday when his son, Ralph, and daughter, Mrs. Howell H. Howard of Dayton, O., were called away from the wedding of Sarane Otis and Robert Burns at the Fourth Presbyterian church, to attend a consultation of physicians at the Hines residence. Mr. Hines was stricken Sunday at his home, but his condition, according to the son, is not alarming.

Bullets Fired Into Bed as She Leaves It

An assassin made an attempt early this morning on the life of Mrs. Lottie Brenner Dechow, whose recent experiences include the loss of $50,000 in gems to robbers and the discovery that her youthful husband, self-styled "Count von Buelow," was Henry Dechow, German adventurer.

The assassin, climbing to the roof of a garage abutting on the north side of Mrs. Dechow's palatial residence at 5928 Sheridan road, placed a gun against her bedroom window and fired two shots, which pierced the coverlets of her bed.

Mrs. Dechow had risen five minutes earlier to console her weeping sister, Mrs. May Gross, whose husband died on Saturday and who was buried yesterday. The two were in Mrs. Gross' room in another wing of the house when they heard the shots and the tinkle of glass.

Bullets Through Window.

Mrs. Dechow hastened back to her own room, turned on the light, and perceived the bullet holes, which had drilled the screen and window glass six inches above the sill and just below the point to which the shade reached.

She threw open the window and scanned the yard and street, but saw no one. Then she telephoned Summerdale police. Sergt. Marshall Atwell found both women hysterical.

"I've slept in that bed eighteen years," sobbed Mrs. Dechow. "Whoever fired those shots knew where the bed was placed. But I can't understand who might want to take my life."

Bed Coverlets Pierced.

Sergt. Atwell found one slug, a .38 caliber pistol bullet, embedded in the bedroom door. It had pierced the coverlets in two places. The other bullet apparently sank into the mattress.

The police said that, judging from the position of the bullet holes, Mrs. Dechow would have been wounded in the side had she been in bed. She is 55 years old and the mistress of a fortune left her by the late Ald. Nate Brenner.

Casting about for a motive to explain the shooting, the police asked Mrs. Dechow whether she had employed unusual persistence in seeking to trace the robbers who, in the guise of census enumerators, invaded her home on March 31. She said she had not.

Friendly With Husband.

The police were also interested in the state of her husband's and her own mutual feelings. She said that, although she had recently sought a warrant for his arrest on a charge of false swearing in the procurance of their marriage license, she and Dechow were now on friendly terms.

"I'm sure Henry wouldn't do it," she commented. "He's traveled in bad company and lived off my money, but he wouldn't be that vicious."

DIVES TO DEATH FROM ELEVATED STATION IN LOOP

Despondent because of illness, Max Krause, 52 years old, 1866 South Lawndale avenue, yesterday afternoon during the rush hour dove headlong from the elevated platform on the south side of Van Buren street at State. Hundreds saw the body hit the street. He was dead when bystanders reached him. In a vest pocket was found a note, reading:

"Please notify my son, Louis, at my home address, and also my son, William. Please do not try to save me."

Louis is employed by Rand, McNally & Co., publishers, and William by the Otis Elevator company.

SENATE, HOUSE VOTE BILL FOR WAR VETERANS

Spanish-American Men Given Increase.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 2.—[Special.]—Congress today enacted the Spanish war veterans bill into law over President Hoover's veto. Its provisions for liberalizing pension rules will add from $11,000,000 to $12,000,000 annually to present costs.

The senate after a debate of a little less than two hours passed the bill by a vote of 61 to 18. Later in the day the house first voted down a motion to defer action until Thursday and then without debate passed the bill by a vote of 298 to 14.

In the senate there were eight more votes in the affirmative than the necessary two-thirds, while in the house there were 90 votes to spare.

It was the first time a bill has been passed over President Hoover's veto and the action represented the most decisive rebuff encountered during his administration.

Republicans Join Democrats.

Republicans who are ordinarily classed as strong administration supporters joined with radicals and Democrats in voting to override the veto.

In the senate the 61 voting for the bill included 28 Republicans, one Farmer-Labor member and 32 Democrats. All of the 18 voting to sustain the President's veto were Republicans. In the house the 14 voting in the negative were all Republicans.

President Hoover's three chief objections to the bill as set forth in his veto message of last Wednesday drew caustic condemnation from both Republicans and Democrats in the senate debate. These three objections were, first, that the bill opens the door for claims of disability, incurred at any time in the life of the pensioner arising from venereal diseases, alcoholism, drug habits, etc.; second, that it lowers the minimum service period from 90 to 70 days for a non-service connected disability pension; and third, that there should be a requirement of "need" as well as disability as a basis for pensions.

Last Objection Under Fire.

The third of the President's objections occasioned the greatest amount of criticism.

"The President's suggestion that a veteran must prove he is a pauper in order to get a pension deserves condemnation," said Senator W. F. George [Dem., Ga.].

Senator William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho], said he could not agree with the President with respect to his second and third objections and therefore would vote to pass the bill over his veto. He said, however, that he did not wish to be considered as favoring pensions for veterans contracting venereal diseases following their period of war service.

Senators Tom Connally [Dem., Tex.] and H. F. Ashurst [Dem., Ariz.] defended the provision with respect to venereal disease as contained in the bill. Senator Connally, himself a Spanish war veteran, said that the government had sent young boys to an exotic climate in Cuba and the Philippines and that it should share responsibility for their indiscretions.

Long Neglected, He Says.

Senator Sam G. Bratton [Dem., N. M.] said that the Spanish war veterans had never been given proper consideration and described the bill as embodying "a long overdue obligation."

Senators A. H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.] and John M. Robison [Rep., Ky.] were among administration supporters who professed their loyalty to President Hoover but said they were unable to follow him in the present instance.

Senator Charles S. Deneen [Rep., Ill.] was among the administration Republicans voting to override the veto. Senator Otis F. Glenn [Rep., Ill.] was paired against the bill. Senator Arthur Robinson [Rep., Ind.] voted for the bill, while Senator James E. Watson [Rep., Ind] voted to sustain the veto. Senators James Couzens and A. H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.] both voted for the bill, as did Senators Robert M. La Follette and John J. Blaine [Rep., Wis.], and Daniel Steck [Dem., Ia.]. Senator S. W. Brookhart [Rep., Ia.] was paired in favor of the bill.

Two Back President.

The only house members from the five central states of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Iowa among the 14 Republicans voting to sustain the President were Representatives Carl R. Chindblom and Morton D. Hull, both of Chicago. Among those voting to pass the bill over the President's veto was Representative Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican senatorial nominee in Illinois.

Representative Harold Knutson [Rep., Minn.], chairman of the house pension committee, vainly sought to obtain a postponement of action in the house until Thursday. His motion to defer action was defeated, 65 to 233.

Earlier in the day Representative Knutson had conferred with President Hoover and obtained the latter's approval of a compromise bill which would have been offered if congress had sustained the veto. Under the compromise, which would have meant an additional cost of about $8,500,000 instead of probably $11,500,000, and the first two of the President's objections would have been met. The President agreed to waive his suggestion that a pensioner should show "need."

Green Lobbies for Bill.

Gov. Fred W. Green of Michigan, who is head of the Spanish War Veterans' association, actively lobbied for passage of the bill over the President's veto. Gov. Green was on the floor of the senate when the vote was taken, as was former Senator Rice W. Means of Colorado, a former president of the veterans' association.

COURT BATTLE OPENS TO SEND JOHNNY TO PARIS

Johnny Pershing Stanton, 10 years old, who stepped off a liner last May just before it sailed for France with his mother and stepfather because he prefers to be an American boy, was again the center of a court fight yesterday. Attorneys George Turnbull and John F. O'Connell, representing Johnny's mother, Mrs. Henriette Stanton Berry, filed a petition before Circuit Judge Lynch asking that his foster parents Jacob Larson and Mrs. Elizabeth O'Boyle, be held in contempt of court for their failure to send Johnny to Paris to join his mother.

Joseph Stanton, who was divorced by Mrs. Berry two years ago, joined her as a complainant. Judge Lynch held that since Mrs. Berry had won custody of Johnny in the divorce action, Stanton could not join her in the effort to take him from the Fox Lake home where he has lived for eight years. The judge instructed the attorneys to amend the petition.

Sues Cemetery for $100,000 for Loss of Wife's Ashes

Arie Mendelson, merchant of Omaha, Neb., yesterday filed a $100,000 damage suit in the Superior court against Oakwoods cemetery. The bill, drawn by Attorney Samuel D. Rothman, charges that the cemetery officials caused him to lose the ashes of his wife, Mrs. Johanna Morris Mendelson, 40 years old. The bill states that the husband entrusted the ashes to the cemetery for storage. A year later he was told that the urn had been turned over to his wife's brother.

Under sanction of the war department, the major is authorized to make one such appointment annually. Cadet James, who lives at 4811 Kimbark avenue, led his class in military studies.

Vandals' Damage to School Is Estimated at $15,000

Damage to the Kershaw pre-vocational branch of the Tilden High school, wrecked and fired by vandals on Saturday night, was estimated yesterday as being between $10,000 and $15,000 by board of education inspectors. Most of the damage was to furniture and windows. Desks were broken, dishes shattered, and ink scattered.

Kills Safe Blower Seeking Loot in Joliet Oil Station

Fred Oldani, proprietor of a filling station at Joliet, awakened yesterday by a safe robber who was attempting to break into a safe in the filling station adjoining Oldani's home, shot and killed him with a shotgun. His accomplice, John Honn, 24 years old, who fled when Oldani opened fire, was captured by a deputy sheriff and identified the slain man as Benjamin Fowler, 25 years old.

BRITAIN TO SEND ARMY AGAINST REBELS IN INDIA

Ready to End Revolt by Military Force.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 2.—"The first task of the British government in India is to restore order, and until that is done there will be no discussion with Mahatma Gandhi or any one else about an eventual settlement. With that in mind as the first essential, you can then recall Great Britain's promise of an eventual dominion status for India. That still stands, and will stand, no matter what happens."

This uncompromising declaration to THE TRIBUNE correspondent today by a representative of the India office sums up in the fewest possible words the present situation between Great Britain and India. It is learned that the Indian officials feel that they have temporized too long with Gandhi and have allowed the civil disobedience campaign to get out of hand. That mistake, they say, must be retrieved before any constructive political work can be done, and until it is retrieved no move will be made toward political discussions.

Salt Campaign Over.

The salt campaign is now over owing to the approach of the monsoon season, when no salt is made. While the British cannot say it has been a failure altogether, they will not admit the full success of it from Gandhi's viewpoint. The disturbances resulting from Gandhi's policy, whether he wishes it or not, have been confined to the large industrial centers and have not affected the cultivators and villagers at all.

The British are looking forward with more anxiety to the new "revolt" campaign for withholding taxes and rents. This appeals directly to the peasants, the great bulk of the Indian population, and if successful may spell serious trouble. It is pointed out that so far as land is concerned India is a socialist country. The great majority of the land belongs to the state and is rented to cultivators, either direct or through landlords. Rent and taxes are collected in one sum and the peasant does not distinguish between them. If Gandhi can convince the tenant he has a chance of getting his land free the situation may become dangerous, but so far there is no such evidence.

British See Mistake.

The next few weeks, therefore, will be anxious ones. The British, however, feel that they are now fully organized to deal with any disorder. The initial mistake of relying on the police alone will not be repeated, it is stated. There is an average of one policeman to 7,000 people in India, compared to one to 200 in London, and, in their effort to avoid undue violence, the government did not even allow the police to shoot.

As a result they are worn out, but perfectly loyal. The full military force will be used in the future to suppress any disorder, and the force, India officials say, is large enough for the job, in spite of the fact that Indian propagandists in Great Britain are trying to stir up a communist disturbance by reports of the shipment of extra troops. The military force now available in India includes 55,000 British and 120,000 native troops, with the latter considered absolutely dependable.

When order has been restored then will come constructive work. First is the report of the Simon commission, which is coming out in two volumes, one on June 10 and the second June 24. After three months for digestion, a round table conference will be called to meet here Oct. 10, to discuss the future government of India.

No one in this country envisages the grant of immediate dominion status to India. A full dominion status is far in the future, it is realized, and there must be a long period of preparation during which the Indians will be trained in administration, as one function after another is handed over. Two generations have been mentioned as the possible period for the attainment of full dominion status.

FIGHT AGAINST FRENCH RULE SPREADS AS MOB RIOTS IN COCHIN-CHINA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 3 [Tuesday].—Smoldering revolt against the French rule in Indo-China is spreading to Cochin-China. According to the Daily Matin, a mob of 700 marched on Vinh-Long, 80 miles from Saigon, yesterday, carrying placards and waving red flags. The gendarmerie rescued 15 militiamen who met the paraders in a pitched battle. One hundred and twenty rioters were arrested.

The government has taken measures to reinforce the militia, which numbers 15,000 men. A battalion of the Foreign Legion is being rushed from Morocco to Indo-China.

BRITISH TROOPS OPEN WAR ON 'RED SHIRTS' OF INDIA

Establish Martial Law in Peshawar District.

BOMBAY, June 2.—(AP)—In the Peshawar district, beset by a threefold threat of civil resistance, wild tribesmen, and communism, Britain today made the outstanding move in the strategy that is advancing her arms across the map of India.

British troops, without warning to the communities, marched into two villages of the northwest frontier, gateway to the Punjab, Charsadda and Prang. It was "Tommy Atkins'" turn to try his hand at stamping out the Reds, who for weeks have kept that district in a turmoil and aided the attacks of the other two disturbing elements.

Establish Martial Law.

They arrested eight leaders of the agitation and established martial law throughout the areas. Peshawar City itself today was quiet, as was most of the rest of India, as natives observed Mahatma Gandhi's usual "day of silence" on Monday.

Salt raiding came to a virtual end with yesterday's mass attack upon the Wadala depots, in which police and military charged 15,000 volunteers and 150 or more persons were injured. There were no reports of the use of firearms.

Today, the coming of the rainy season, ended salt raids. The raiding was succeeded by a far more serious menace—tax resistance. To meet its eventualities, the governor put forth a new regulation providing grave penalties not only for refusal to pay taxes, but for inciting to tax disobedience.

Natives Flee Tax Agents.

Government agents began at once to attempt tax collecting but in most cases found the natives had departed from their lands. The situation was viewed with great anxiety.

The government today was forced to the realization that the Gandhi civil disobedience movement had reached vast proportions, even in the increased number of wearers of the Gandhi hats. In cities a goodly majority of the populace wear the hats and take part in demonstrations. The increasing boycott on British goods similarly is accepted as a sign of growing solidarity among Gandhi's supporters.

A public meeting was held during the day to celebrate Sunday's "victory" in the Wadala salt raids. Speakers appealed to volunteers to enlist in defiance of the viceroy's new ordinances against picketing, boycotting and nonpayment of taxes.

Viceroy Clamps on Lid.

An extraordinary gazette issued today in Simla said the viceroy's new ordinances regarding prevention of intimidation and unlawful instigation to nonpayment of taxes had been applied to Bengal, Bihar, Orissa, Assam, and the northwest frontier province. The ordinance regarding unlawful instigation was applied to the Punjab.

A bomb exploded today in Ferozepur road, Lahore, but did no damage. An immediate search of the neighborhood revealed other live bombs and explosive material.

Moslems Loot and Burn.

LONDON, June 2.—(AP)—A dispatch from Dacca tonight said the Rhoitpur bazaar, a few miles from Dacca, had been attacked by Moslems, who had seized property valued at $216,000. One hundred Hindu houses were looted. The post and telegraph office at Tanguil was burned.

Barbara L. Hatch Granted Divorce at Reno Hearing

Charging incompatibility, Mrs. Barbara L. Hatch yesterday at Reno, Nev., obtained a divorce from Azel F. Hatch of Chicago, said to be head of a tooth brush company. He could not be reached. They were married at Northampton, Mass., in August of 1917, and have two children. A property settlement was made out of court.

GET PAMPINELLO DEATH CASE JURY IN RECORD TIME

A jury pledged to inflict the death penalty was selected in record time yesterday in Judge John P. McGoorty's Criminal court to try James Pampinello, Deneen political worker in the 42d ward, who is charged with the murder of William H. Slaughter, colored minister and a Thompson political worker. The jury was selected in one day.

Slaughter was shot to death on registration day, March 11. The case has been marked with charges of politics since its inception.

Killed by Train; Disrupts Des Plaines Safety Drive

A campaign of accident prevention inaugurated fifty days ago in Des Plaines by Police Chief Chris Wegner was marred for the first time yesterday when J. H. Kraft, 70 year old salesman of 301 Meacham avenue, Park Ridge, stepped in front of a Chicago and North Western train at Seeger's crossing, and was killed.

JOHNSON WANTS EVERY FACT ON NAVAL TREATY

Demands Documents to Help Senate.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 2.—[Special.]—Charges that the administration has withheld from the senate important official papers bearing on the naval treaty negotiations between Great Britain and America were made by Senator Hiram Johnson [Rep., Cal.] in an executive session of the foreign relations committee today.

The committee was considering the correspondence between London and Washington which had been transmitted by Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson under the seal of secrecy in response to a committee request made at the instance of Senator Johnson, who is leading the fight against ratification of the naval limitation treaty.

The California senator told the committee that he had gone over the cablegrams exchanged between the state department and Charles G. Dawes, American ambassador to Great Britain, and the other documents submitted by Stimson and had found the record of the negotiations far from complete. He demanded that the committee insist upon the production of all the information bearing upon the negotiations.

Must Ask for Them.

Senator William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho], chairman of the committee, stated that if Senator Johnson would indicate more precisely the omissions he would ask the secretary of state to transmit the additional documents. It was agreed that Senator Johnson would furnish the chairman with a list of the papers desired. At the suggestion of Senator George H. Moses [Rep., N. H.], the committee also decided to request the submission of the record of the negotiations pertaining to the Geneva conference of 1927 which failed because President Coolidge refused to make the concessions which the Hoover administration made to the British at the London conference.

Objects to Hoover Course.

Senator Johnson also objected to the seal of secrecy under which the administration had submitted such information as it chose to give the committee.

"The American people are entitled to all the information, not merely such portions as the negotiators of the treaty deem it profitable to their cause to make public," said Johnson.

The cablegrams from Ambassador Dawes transmitted to the state department the British proposals and carried replies by Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald to counter proposals from Washington. They disclose that at no time were the British willing to concede the United States more than the eighteen 8 inch gun cruisers the American delegation finally accepted in London. The cable correspondence shows that President Hoover held out at first for twenty-three 8 inch gun cruisers to Britain's fifteen, but finally came down to twenty-one, which was the number he was insisting upon, so far as the record discloses, up to the time the American delegation sailed for London.

No Light on Recessions

Upon the reasons for the recession of the delegation to the eighteen to which the British had sought all along to restrict America, the documentary record throws no light.

Senator Johnson is insisting that the administration disclose its reasons for acquiescing in the British demand that cruisers be divided into two subcategories consisting of 8 inch and 6 inch gunships. It was by virtue of this concession made by the Hoover administration early in the negotiations that the British were able to maneuver the American delegation into acceptance of a restriction to eighteen big cruisers, Johnson contends. With that division made, Johnson points out, America could not have more than eighteen 8 inch gunships without Japan being allowed more big cruisers than Australia and New Zealand would agree to.

Speed Work on Cruisers.

It was learned today that the navy department has completed the new designs for the construction of the first ten 8 inch gun 10,000 ton cruisers permitted the United States by the London naval treaty. According to Secretary of the Navy Charles Francis Adams the keels of the three treaty cruisers, on which work was suspended last fall pending the outcome of the arms conference by order of President Hoover, will be laid in September.

ELEVEN HURT AS BUS HITS AUTO ON WAUKEGAN ROAD

Violet Swanson, 8 years old, 5432 Berenice avenue, suffered a fractured thigh bone last evening when an automobile driven by her father, Joseph Swanson, collided with a Metropolitan motor coach at Waukegan and Half Day roads in Lake county. Swanson and another daughter, Gloria, 14 years old, escaped with slight injuries, as did eight members of a Mexican family in the bus.

Two deaths in Cook county raised the 1930 motor toll to 367. The victims:

Walter Sobrowski, 4 years old, 3155 South Lawndale avenue. Fatally hurt when struck by an automobile while crossing the street near his home. Robert Shurly, 4406 South Spaulding avenue, the driver, was held.

Patrick J. Hart, 57 years old, 7529 Kingston avenue. Died in the Evangelical Deaconess hospital of injuries received Sunday when hit by an auto in front of 1221 Sedgwick street.

Victor Homer, 1619 South 49th court, Cicero, was charged with reckless driving in Benton Harbor, Mich., following a crash near Bridgman in which Mrs. David Saunders, 6616 Maryland avenue, was seriously injured.

YOUTH SHOT AS HE ATTEMPTS TO FLEE POLICEMAN

Henry Deihl, 22 years old, suspected of being an automobile thief, was shot and probably fatally wounded last night by Policeman Walter Witholm of the Town Hall station while struggling to escape from the patrolman. A companion of Deihl escaped. The shooting took place in front of 4145 Kenmore avenue.

"EYES RIGHT"

The annual inspection of the R. O. T. C. units of Chicago High schools was completed yesterday when the cadets of the Crane Technical High school passed in review before Col. A. V. P. Anderson, commander of the R. O. T. C. in the 6th corps area. Maj. F. L. Beals, in charge of military training in Chicago schools, aided in the inspection which was held in Altgeld park, Harrison street and Talman avenue. A report on the units will be sent to the war department by Col. Anderson. Honor schools will be announced within two weeks.

JUNE WEATHER IS IDEAL, BUT CUPID IS SLOW

Chicago enjoyed its second day of "knee deep in June" weather yesterday, the mercury climbing to 87 degrees, which was 24 above normal.

The most important development occurred at the little wicket in the county building presided over by Sidney Summerfield. He and his assistants were kept busy issuing marriage licenses, the total number at closing time being 238.

Miss Sarah Rabinowitz, 22 years old, 923 North Harding avenue, was the first June bride at the wicket, she and Sol Eisenstein, 23, of the same address, heading the line when Chief Clerk Summerfield arrived to open the office.

The total of licenses was the same as that for the same day last year, but May of 1930 shows a drop as compared with May of 1929, there being only 3,570 issued last month to 3,900 in the same month last year, a decrease of 330.

"Continued warm," is the forecast for today, with not so much sunshine.

SHE LEARNED TO DRINK AS DRY SPY, GIRL SAYS

Omaha, Neb., June 2.—(AP)—Brought into police court today on a charge of drunkenness, one of two Indian girls told Judge Holmes that she had first tasted liquor after she had been hired by federal officers to act as an undercover agent on her reservation.

The squaws were Betty McCauley, 20, and Bessie Others, 22.

"It is an outrageous, dastardly system which debauches these girls and makes stool pigeons and drunkards of them in the name of law enforcement," Judge Holmes declared from the bench.

Miss McCauley told Judge Holmes that she had never tasted liquor before being hired to obtain evidence of bootlegging among the Omaha Indians.

She said she received two dollars for every attempted "buy" and five dollars for every purchase of liquor.

MEXICANS KILL YANKEE FOREMAN AT SILVER MINE

Bisbee, Ariz., June 2.—(AP)—Twenty alleged Mexican outlaws attacked the Silver Plume mine, 25 miles south of Cananea, Sonora, today and killed the camp policeman and Charles Koehler, an American mill man. One of the raiders was killed, presumably by Koehler, who had run from his house after engaging the attackers.

The band appeared first at the home of the camp policeman whose name was not learned. After killing him the raiders took his ammunition.

E. Howells, superintendent of the mine, said he believed the attackers were disgruntled workers dicharged when the Manzanel mine closed some weeks ago. Koehler had been foreman there. After killing Koehler the raiders burned his home. His body was found about 50 yards from the ruins.

CITY AND COUNTY FINANCES OFFER GLOOMY PICTURE

Cutler Deals Blow to Bond Plans.

Revelations concerning the financial status of the city, county, and school board yesterday depressed officials.

The county finance committee was asked for another $100,000 for the reassessment. The commissioners protested bitterly, but promised the appropriation.

A warning was issued by Silas H. Strawn, chairman of the citizens' committee on financial relief, that 1929 taxes must be collected on scheduled time or the various municipalities will be in more trouble next spring than they have ever been.

Cutler Awaits Court Ruling.

Henry E. Cutler of the law firm of Chapman & Cutler, which was called in to pass on the bonds based upon the working cash fund contemplated in the Strawn bills, stated that no bonds will be approved until after an Illinois Supreme court decision. Such a decision could not be rendered before December.

If forced to wait for such a court decision, the school board will be broke by Oct. 1, H. H. Brackett, chief auditor of the board of education, said.

The city and county will be in practically the same fix, officials said.

The Strawn committee has already paid out nearly $50,000,000 of the $74,000,000 rescue pool, it was revealed.

Sees No Hope Ahead.

"All in all, it looks as if we're in as bad shape as we ever were and destined to get deeper in the mud," said one official.

When the $100,000 additional appropriation for the assessor's office was asked of the county finance committee, Mr. Strawn appeared to urge passage of the appropriation.

"Two things must be done above all else," he said. "The 1929 assessment work must be done in proper time and the taxpayers complaining about their bills must be attended to and placated. If there is any delay in collecting 1929 taxes as per the scheduled time of Feb. 1, 1931, the aim of the pending bills at Springfield will be nullified."

Jacobs Sees Money Wasted.

The commissioners complained that when they appropriated an extra $100,000 for the assessors two weeks ago, Harry S. Cutmore, director of appraisals, had told them it would be the last extra appropriation that would be requested this year.

"The pay roll situation in the assessors' offices is rotten to the core," said J. L. Jacobs, county economy engineer. "It makes me sick to walk through the vault floor and see 15 and 20 men lying around."

Because of Mr. Strawn's insistence, however, the commissioners indicated they would pass the appropriation at the next board meeting.

Then came the announcement from Attorney Cutler, which was deemed the most crushing blow of the day.

"We cannot approve the bonds provided for in the Strawn bills until after a court ruling,'" he said. "The banks would not buy the bonds, otherwise. The working cash fund is a new method of financing and will be a practice that actually places the governments in the banking business. The courts heretofore have always held that the governments could not levy for more than the current needs of the year. This will be a departure."

POSSE FIGHTS POSSE WHILE BANDITS FLEE

1,000 Michigan Men Make Mistake.

BULLETIN.

Bellaire, Mich., June 2.—(AP)—The Mancelona bank robbers' automobile was found late today abandoned on a lonely road near a swamp six and a half miles north of Mancelona. A posse surrounded the swamp, which is heavily wooded. Airplanes were circling overhead in an effort to locate the bandits.

Bellaire, Mich., June 2.—[Special.]—A posse of about 1,000 men which besieged a farmhouse northeast of here for two hours today, believing that five bandits who had robbed a bank at Mancelona, were inside, discovered that the house contained only three possemen who feared to show themselves, believing they would be shot.

While the posse was guarding the house Dr. John Gerbers, Bellaire physician, lay wounded in the farm yard, his friends fearing to rescue him.

At 9:30 a. m. the bandits, one of them a Negro, robbed the Antrim State Savings bank in Macelona of approximately $3,000 and sped out of town in an automobile.

Henry Sullivan, dry goods store proprietor, seized a rifle from his store across from the bank, leaped on the running board of an automobile driven by Dr. F. G. Risenburg of Alba, and asked the doctor to pursue the bandits. Five miles from town the bandits halted at a curve in the road and fired a sawed off shotgun at Sullivan, who was wounded in the face and shoulder. He fell from the automobile. Then the bandits continued their flight.

Doctor Barricades Road.

The bandit alarm was flashed throughout the county and Dr. Gerbers and his son, Fred, armed themselves and placed their automobile across the road in front of the farm home of Henry Lindmer, one and one-half miles northeast of here. They saw a car, occupied by members of the posse, coming at high speed. The posse mistook Dr. Gerbers and his son for members of the bandit gang and the doctor and his son mistook the possemen for the bandits. Shots were exchanged and Dr. Gerbers was wounded in the shoulder.

He fell in the farm yard. His son ran to the house and lay on the floor with the farmer and farm hand.

A crowd of about 1,000 men, many of them armed with rifles, soon gathered. A state police plane was sent from Lansing, armed with six machine guns and tear gas bombs.

Two Hours' of Siege.

For two hours the posse feared to approach Dr. Gerbers and the men in the house feared to show themselves, realizing they had been mistaken for bandits.

Finally former Sheriff William Kittle crawled within 200 yards of the farmhouse and recognized Lindmer, who was peering out of a window.

Discharged Housekeeper Wins $2,500 in Love Suit

A Circuit court jury in Rockford yesterday awarded $2,500 to Miss Beda Louise Peterson, former Chicagoan, in her $25,000 breach of promise suit against Charles Hendrickson, an employé of a Rockford furniture factory. Miss Peterson said she became Hendrickson's housekeeper in 1925 with the understanding that he would marry her and averred that in 1927 he put her out of his house. Another suit, in which she sought $10,000 for alleged overdue wages, was dismissed.

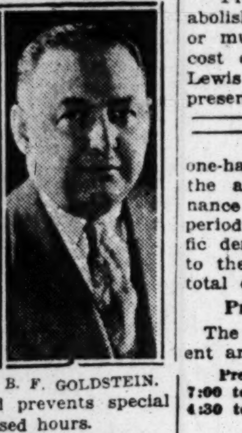
PLAN REDUCING BRIDGE OPENINGS APPROVED BY U. S.

Longer Closed Hours and Changes Win O. K.

Word was received from Washington last night that Secretary of War Hurley has approved a proposed ordinance which would greatly reduce the open bridge nuisance on the Chicago river. Attorney Benjamin F. Goldstein, special counsel to the aldermanic bridge committee, announced the approval of the ordinance which will lengthen the hours when traffic can have uninterrupted egress to the loop spans and prevents special openings during closed hours.



B. F. GOLDSTEIN.

As approved by Secretary Hurley, the proposal represents the joint conclusions of a group of river shippers and traffic and civic organizations long interested in a reduction of the evil.

Will Go to Council.

Working with Mr. Goldstein, Ald. William A. Rowan [10th] laid the proposed changes before Maj. H. J. Wild, resident government engineer, in an effort to correct the situation here and avoid the necessity of an aldermanic junket to Washington, as was originally planned. Within the next few days, Ald. Rowan will present the approved proposal to the council bridge subcommittee and through it to the council, where it is not expected to meet with resistance.

When passed by the council, the ordinance can be put into immediate effect, having already secured the stamp of Washington approval.

The loop bridges are now closed to navigation four and one-half hours daily, excepting Sunday, and two and one-half in the morning and two in the afternoon. The proposed ordinance will synchronize the morning period to better correspond with traffic demands and add thirty minutes to the afternoon period, raising the total closed hours to five.

Present and Proposed Rules.

The following table shows the present and the proposed closed periods:

Present hours	Approved hours
7:00 to 9:30 A. M.	7:30 to 10:00 A. M.
4:30 to 6:30 P. M.	4:00 to 6:30 P. M.
SATURDAY.
7:00 to 9:30 A. M.	7:30 to 10:00 A. M.
4:30 to 6:30 P. M.	12:30 to 2:00 P. M.
	5:00 to 6:00 P. M.

Another concession granted the vehicular and pedestrian traffic by Secretary Hurley will do away with all bridge openings during closed periods, save for fire boats. In 1929, Harbormaster Charles J. Agnew's reports showed that the bridges had been opened for tugs 276 times during the periods when they should have remained closed. This was possible because high waters invaded the river and reduced the clearance beneath the bridges to less than sixteen feet, the height required by the bridge ordinance.

Always 16 Foot Clearance.

Since the clearance was reduced, the tug companies took advantage of the nigh water and called for open spans whenever they chose. The clearance is now measured from the water surface, but Secretary Hurley gave his approval to a change which would fix the measuring point at city datum, a theoretical point beneath the surface of the water. Thus, there will always be sixteen theoretical feet of clearance and tugs must wait for open periods before demanding openings if the water is high.

The Saturday noon closed period was formulated after numerous protests had been made from those who cross the various bridges into the north and west sides at the beginning of the weekly half holiday. Since most of the traffic is out of the loop by 5 p. m., the succeeding hour is thought to be sufficient to take care of the remainder.

Hospitals Must Cut Cost to Patients, Lewis Warns

James Hamilton Lewis, addressing a group of graduate nurses last night at the Shoreland hotel, startled his audience by an outspoken criticism of present hospital methods.

Lewis, the Democratic candidate for the senate, predicted that unless hospital costs are soon sharply reduced public opinion will compel the state or municipal governments to take over hospital properties and operate them as public agencies, as in the case of police and fire departments. The entire staff of the Jackson Park hospital, from which the nurses graduated, heard the address.

"Private hospitals will either be abolished or taken over by the state or municipal government unless the cost of hospitalization is cut," Mr. Lewis declared. "Criticism of the present high charges to patients has been made by no less an authority than Dr. M. L. Harris, president of the American Medical association.

"It is unthinkable that a system of hospital management which consumes the possessions of the moderately well to do and denies all treatment to the poor shall be permitted to persist in such practices.

"Hospitals should have but one purpose—the preservation of the lives and health of all citizens, rich or poor. If a citizen is to be driven bankrupt to get hospital service, then eventually he will demand that the government intervene.

"Then we shall see hospitals operated through taxation funds, just as asylums and poor farms are operated. Nurses will be civil servants, just as policemen, firemen, and public health officers."

Aurora Business District Is Imperiled by Fire

KOPELMAN TELLS VIVID STORY AT KIDNAPING TRIAL

Names of Gangsters Are Mentioned.

Theodore Kopelman, insurance broker, told a jury in Judge Harry B. Miller's Criminal court yesterday a vivid story of his alleged kidnaping for ransom on last Feb. 28. He spent nearly three hours detailing how he had been abducted at St. James place while in his automobile on the way to work, how he was held captive in a summer resort cottage at Camp Lake, Wis., and finally was released after 60 hours of fear and mental torture on the payment of $4,000 in ransom money by his sister and a lawyer friend.

For one hour before court adjourned Defense Attorney George Guenther cross-examined Kopelman and during that brief period the names of Nickey Arnstein, New York gambler and former husband of Fanny Brice, the actress; Pete Gusenberg, gangster killed in the St. Valentine's day massacre in 1929, and the names of other gangsters were mentioned.

See Hint of Defense.

"Now isn't it a fact that you framed up this kidnaping yourself in order to shake down your sister, Gertrude, and to get even with your former wife?" was the last question of the day by Attorney Guenther.

"O, no sir," replied the witness, who by this time was resting his head in his hand with his arm braced on the arm of the chair.

Throughout the cross-examination the defense attorney asked questions which indicated that Mrs. Myrtle C. Thoren, divorced wife of Kopelman and who has been indicted for conspiracy in connection with the kidnaping, but not now on trial, will be the main witness for the defense.

Tells of Capture.

Kopelman told of leaving his apartment at 548 Surf street about 10 o'clock on the morning of Feb. 28. He stopped to leave a lady friend off in front of a St. James place apartment building, he said, and within a few minutes was held up by Seymour Pellar, one of the three defendants on trial. Pellar, he said, forced him to drive to the country, where Sam Gold and Norman Resnick, the other two defendants, joined the party.

The name of Peter Gusenberg and Dr. Reinhold Schwimmer, victims of the St. Valentine's day massacre, were brought in when Kopelman was asked if he was acquainted with them. He said his former wife introduced them. Kopelman said he knew Arnstein and that the latter had read to Kopelman the story he [Arnstein] had written about his life.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Chin Ming, receiving stolen property, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in Pontiac reformatory by Judge D. J. Normoyle.

Josephine Warren, Lillian Douglas, Vivian Martin, and Harry Gregory, larceny, sentenced to 1 year each in the county jail; James Grandey, Nicholas Matthews, Walter Proctor, Taze Rivers, and James Doss, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life each in the penitentiary by Judge Walter P. Steffen.

78,325 RECORDED IN 12TH WARD; IS GAIN OF 24,327

The Twelfth ward has gained approximately 24,327 in population during the last ten years, according to figures released yesterday by Census Supervisor David A. McGilvray. The present population of the ward is 78,325, as compared with an estimated population of 54,001 given in the 1921 survey of ward populations.

Considerable growth in the number of residences was noted in this ward, which is bounded roughly by 51st street, Western avenue, the Illinois and Michigan canal and Laramie avenue.

Chicago's population for the 42 wards so far reported by the census supervisors is 2,787,917. The tabulation of the eight remaining wards is expected to be completed by June 10, according to Joseph E. Vesely, chairman of the census advisory committee and director of business research for the Chicago Association of Commerce.

state's 2,433 gave Dickinson 112,007 votes. His supporters saw in the figures a vote of confidence in the pending Hawley tariff bill, which Dickinson has favored.

Figures for Every County.

Gov. John Hammill, who opposed the tariff measure throughout the campaign, polled 61,798 votes. Frank J. Lund and W. O. Payne received 21,568 and 6,868 votes respectively.

The figures were from every county and represented the majority of the urban vote as well as a goodly number of rural precincts.

Turner's vote for governor in 1,158 precincts was 114,472. Ed Smith, secretary of state, had 57,373 and Otto Lange polled 11,870. Turner, however, had garnered 62.3 per cent of the total, nearly twice the number necessary to nominate.

Present members of congress from the three districts in which other candidates sought to displace them as the Republican nominees for reëlection to the present seats took a lead in early returns.

Congressman W. F. Kopp of Mount Pleasant had polled 2,131 votes to 429 for Louis J. Kehoe, attorney of Wellman, when 20 of the 148 precincts in the First district had been reported.

T. J. B. Robinson of Hampton was credited with 6,025 votes in 87 precincts out of the 228 in the Third district as compared with 3,736 for William Galloway of Waterloo, who sought to unseat him.

Gilbert N. Haugen, co-author with Senator McNary of Oregon of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, was having a close contest with C. A. Benson of Elkader, a state senator, when 51 of the 280 precincts in the Fourth district had been completed. Haugen had polled 3,480 to 3,234 for Benson.

In the Tenth district, where three candidates sought the Republican nomination for the seat now occupied by L. J. Dickinson of Algona, Fred O. Gilchrist of Laurens had a lead over Frederic Larrabee of Fort Dodge and S. G. Goldthwaite, publisher of the Boone News-Republican.

The vote was: Gilchrist, 9,645; Larrabee, 7,708; Goldthwaite, 6,147, when 162 of the 318 precincts had been reported.

BILL APPROVED FOR TWO NEW U. S. JUDGES IN CHICAGO DISTRICT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 2.—[Special.]—The senate judiciary committee today recommended for passage a bill by Senator Charles S. Deneen [Rep., Ill.] providing for two additional judges in the federal court of the northern Illinois district located at Chicago.

Approval of the bill followed presentation to the committee of a letter from United States Attorney George E. Q. Johnson of Chicago stating that more judges are necessary in order to catch up with overcrowded calendars.

Congestion on the criminal calendar is due largely to liquor cases, according to a report submitted by Mr. Johnson.

Although bills for additional judges in a score of other districts, to relieve the widespread congestion caused by prohibition, have been passed or recommended by committees, approval of the Deneen bill marked the first progress made at this session on a measure to aid the northern Illinois district.

$366,144 SPENT ON DAVIS TICKET IN PENNSYLVANIA

'Little of It for Me,' Says Senate Candidate.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 2.—[Special.]—Expenditures aggregating $366,144 in behalf of the ticket headed by Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, Republican senatorial candidate, and Francis S. Brown, Republican candidate for governor, in the recent Pennsylvania primary, were reported to the senate's election expenditures investigating committee today.

In comparison, Senator J. R. Grundy [Rep., Pa.], who lost to Davis, has reported expenditures of approximately $338,000, while $200,000 was spent for a wet ticket headed by Prof. Frances H. Bohlen.

"It is really more than I thought had been expended, but you will find little of it was spent for me," declared Secretary Davis, who, called to the stand by Senator G. P. Nye [Rep., N. D.], chairman of the committee, contended that, inasmuch as candidates for seven offices were listed on the Brown-Davis ticket, it was unfair to credit all or even a major share of the expenditures to his candidacy.

Samuel Vauclain, head of the Baldwin Locomotive works, and treasurer of the Brown-Davis ticket, testified that his organization spent $129,693, and from other witnesses the committee learned that the Vare organization supporting the ticket spent $60,000 in Philadelphia, $88,460 in Pittsburgh, while a total of $77,450 was spent by the sixteen county organizations whose completed reports are available. Secretary Davis' personal expenditures of $10,541, already reported, brought the total to $366,144.

The testimony revealed Walter A. Bonitz, Pittsburgh firebrick manufacturer, as the principal financial "angel" of the Davis-Brown forces, credited with contributions totaling $96,750. Secretary Davis explained that Bonitz was "a personal friend," who volunteered to help on the campaign expenses.

WETS AND DRYS CLASH ON SURVEY OF CAMPUS RUM

W. C. T. U. Gives Reports of College Heads.

The National Women's Christian Temperance union yesterday made public the results of a questionnaire sent to 257 college and university presidents throughout the country to ascertain conditions among undergraduates under prohibition. These results, the organization reported, indicate that student sentiment against intoxicants is growing.

The report was attacked by E. Thiele, state director of the Illinois Association Opposed to Prohibition, who declared that the W. C. T. U. had applied to the wrong source for information regarding drinking among students.

Wrong Source, Claim.

"College presidents," he said, "must protect the names of their institutions. It is folly to try to get a true picture from them. The various student polls show plainly that many university heads are not familiar with conditions in their own bailiwicks."

"Widespread wet propaganda that the college is unsafe" inspired the W. C. T. U. to seek the opinion of the college heads, the report stated. The report showed the following score:

Less drinking than before prohibition, 146; no drinking among students, 44; drinking now and always—unknown or almost unknown among students, 47; about the same amount of drinking now as before the eighteenth amendment, 8; conditions are bad, 7; conditions are worse, 3.

Improvement Is Reported.

The educators' views showed a "smart, forward-looking, thinking generation, clear eyed, healthy and doing more in athletics and study partly on account of less alcohol," the W. C. T. U. stated.

"The student bodies where drinking is prevalent," the organization found, "represent sons of that small but vocal class who are defying the prohibition laws, making liquor a fetish in a dry era, putting appetite and 'personal liberty' above common welfare and working to defeat the President's law enforcement program and to repeal the eighteenth amendment."

LOBBY COMMITTEE TO HEAR CANNON TODAY; WILL LACK QUORUM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 2.—[Special.] — Bishop James Cannon Jr., Methodist Church, South, dry and anti-Smith leader, may have only the most perfunctory, if any, investigation of his political and financial activities by the senate lobby committee tomorrow.

Following the bishop's public challenge last night of the committee's right to question him on either his expenditures in the 1928 campaign or his dealings with a New York bucket shop, it was disclosed today that a quorum of the committee would not be present tomorrow. In the absence of a quorum the bishop cannot be compelled to answer any questions he wishes to ignore.

Bishop Cannon's contention that the jurisdiction of the lobby committee is limited to "expenditures and activities which have to do with the influencing of legislation or executive action" was generally interpreted today as an intimation that he would decline to answer questions concerning his disposition of $65,300 contributed to the anti-Smith campaign in southern states by E. C. Jameson, New York insurance man, or reveal the extent of his stock market speculations.

JURYLESS RUM TRIAL CALLED DESTRUCTIVE

Denounced in Report to House.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 2.—[Special.]—Five members of the house judiciary committee today filed with the house a minority report assailing the Wickersham commission juryless trial bill as "slipshod, ill-advised, impractical and destructive of every fundamental precedent and custom in our federal practice."

The strength of the committee minority and the strong language of its report heralded a showdown wet and dry fight when the house takes up the juryless trial bill and two companion measures tomorrow.

"It is sought to make the commissioner a trial judge and yet he is no judge," the report declared. "It seeks to relieve federal judges from the trial of petty offenses, but the judge nevertheless is required to determine the guilt or innocence of the defendant. The bill is highly technical, yet it is drafted in the nomenclature of a crossword puzzle.

"Rubber Stamp Justice."

"The judge must necessarily read every word of testimony, scrutinizing the record and closely examine every ruling of the commissioner. If he fails to do so it will simply result in rubber stamp justice. If he does so, it becomes a trial by correspondence. Either system is not only unconstitutional but manifestly unfair to both the defendant and the government."

The minority report was signed by Representatives F. H. La Guardia [Rep., N. Y.], Emanuel Celler [Dem., N. Y.], C G. Bachmann [Rep., W. Va.], F. H. Dominick [Dem., S. C.], and H. S. G. Tucker [Dem., Va.]. A majority report, filed at the same time, merely explained the bill, without commenting upon its contents.

May Delay Dry Shakeup.

The shakeup of dry personnel expected when the prohibition bureau is transferred to the department of justice on July 1, may not take place for six months or a year, it was disclosed today. It was learned that depart of justice officials are considering taking over at least ten of the twenty-seven present dry administrators and retaining them until the attorney general has had an opportunity to size up the task of drying up the nation.

Department of justice officials said today eventually several of the administrative posts probably will be filled by lawyers. Officials declined to discuss whether E. C. Yellowley, prohibition administrator at Chicago, will be retained under the new reorganization but there were indications he may be supplanted by a lawyer within the new year. Mr. Yellowley will be offered a place in the alcohol department if he loses out in the dry shakeup.

'SPEEDY JUSTICE' FAILS IN CASE OF CITY EMBEZZLER

Wins Probation 5 Years After Peculations.

Two clippings from THE TRIBUNE's files, when placed alongside one appearing this morning, compose a story of "speedy" justice in Chicago.

The first clipping, dated July 18, 1925, reads: "Daniel J. Lynch, acting principal clerk in the office of City Controller Martin J. O'Brien, was arrested yesterday charged with the embezzlement of $23,836 of public funds."

Then He Is Convicted.

The second clipping, dated Nov. 24, 1928, reads:

"Daniel J. Lynch was convicted on a charge of embezzling $22,656 from the city by a jury yesterday in the courtroom of Chief Justice Sullivan.

"Although indicted soon after the discovery, the case has dragged through the courts for three years."

Following this conviction there was an appeal for a new trial. Nothing apparently happened until yesterday.

This morning a third clipping will be placed in the files—this one telling the final chapter in the prosecution of an official who stole public money.

The Final Chapter.

As it ran in THE TRIBUNE's first edition it reads [the amount of the thefts is now stated at $20,900]:

"The tragedy that has followed Daniel Lynch, former clerk in the city controller's office, since he embezzled $20,900 in city funds five years ago, won probation for him yesterday when he entered a plea of guilty to the charge before Judge Martin Isaacs in the Criminal court. Lynch juggled the books of the city and over a period of time took small amounts until they reached the total of $20,900, at which time he was discovered.

"'Your honor, this man has suffered since his fall from grace,' said Attorney John Cashen in asking for mercy. 'A son, who up to that time was a sober, industrious youth, took to drink and is now in prison for murder. He shot and killed a man in a drunken brawl. This man's daughter was killed in an automobile accident and his wife has since died. I think he has been punished enough.'

"The judge agreed that Lynch had suffered enough misfortune in the last five years and agreed to put the defendant on probation for one year."

BRITISH HOUSE DEFEATS PLAN TO PROBE NAVY PACT

MacDonald Is Victor by 81 Votes.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 2.—Conservative opposition failed tonight in its attempt to force the government to appoint a select committee to examine and report upon the proposals of the London naval treaty. Stanley Baldwin's motion was defeated in the house of commons by a vote of 282 to 201—a government majority of 81. The Liberals supported the government.

Mr. Baldwin, in his attack, stressed the "strangeness" of the drop from Great Britain's demand for 70 cruisers to the 50 she accepted, and what he referred to as the "meaninglessness" of a standard in parity with America in relation to Great Britain's requirements in Europe.

"With America in the league of nations we and they could make war impossible," he said. "I hope some day they may come in, but there is no sign of it in the immediate future. That opens up possibilities of grave difficulties in the future with the breaking of blockades."

Refers to U. S. Probe.

One argument which Mr. Baldwin used in urging the appointment of an investigating committee was that the American senate, which, he said, had no real interest in sea power, had closely examined the whole treaty question, and that Great Britain, to whom the treaty meant almost everything, ought to have an equally careful examination.

Prime Minister MacDonald twitted Mr. Baldwin, declaring that the reason for his motion was that his hand had been forced by a small group not in favor of any treaty.

To the criticism of the Conservative leader that parity with America meant nothing in relation to European problems, the prime minister answered that America's building influenced that of Europe. Therefore, he said, it was also important to Great Britain.

Churchill Assails Pact.

Winston Churchill, former chancellor of the exchequer, attacked the treaty as "a fraudulent contribution to disarmament, the cause of international discord, and a danger to Great Britain in war."

Amid cheers from the opposition he declared: "It is a treaty of inferiority, not of parity. If war between the United States and ourselves is unthinkable—and that is our heartfelt wish—the true conclusion is to ignore the United States and reserve the full freedom to settle our own problems in our own way. That is a safe conclusion."

SUBSCRIBE $6,750 TOWARD COST OF YACHT DOCK

Meeting last night on Commander Eugene McDonald's yacht, the Mizpah, members of the North Harbor association subscribed $6,750 toward a fund of $15,000 necessary for the construction of a proposed public yacht dock in the lake opposite the Lake Shore Athletic club. The plan is to close two gaps in the present harbor wall.

Health Commissioner Kegel, who attended the meeting, announced that he would approve the plan, providing no bathing was permitted near the dock. He indicated that city approval could be obtained also. Commander McDonald said that application to the Lincoln park board for permission to build the improvement would be made at once.

The attitude of the U. S. engineer in Chicago to the plan has been found favorable.

WIDOW RELATES LOSS OF $28,000 ON "FIG LAND"

Accuses Worthington When He Is Arraigned.

Mrs. Mary J. Thomas, 64 years old, a widow, yesterday told of the loss of her entire fortune of $28,000. She is now working as a duster in a loop store for $12 a week.

Clyde Worthington, fig land promoter, was arraigned before Judge John Sbarbaro on a charge of defrauding the widow. She said she had turned over to Worthington $12,500 in bonds, the deed to her $12,500 house at 5957 North Hermitage avenue, a $2,047 check from an insurance endowment policy, and $849 in cash in hopes of receiving 16 per cent return on her investment.

Woman Gets Separate Hearing.

Worthington is charged with the embezzlement of more than $70,000 from several women, many of them widows. He was represented yesterday by Attorney William MacKinley. Mrs. E. H. Freiburger, Highland Park, Worthington's alleged accomplice, who is also charged with operating a confidence game, will be given a separate hearing.

"Worthington told me I was signing the bills for the taxes for my house," Mrs. Thomas testified. "Afterward I found out I had signed away my home. I was going to sell it to him anyway, but I never knew just what I was doing."

Mrs. Thomas said all of Worthington's clients had been called to his office on Oct. 3, 1928, and showed on a blackboard a map of his lands in Michigan, Florida and Wisconsin. She said he had told them he owed $60,000 but would get all their money back."

Prosecutor Produces Notes.

Attorney Rocco de Stafano, special state prosecutor for the trial, produced two promissory notes which Mrs. Thomas said she had received and accepted for judgment notes on contract papers to Waukegan real estate that Worthington had given her when he took her home. She was represented by Attorney Sol R. Friedman. Judge Sharbaro continued the hearing until today.

SLAIN WHILE OPENING SAFE.

Joliet, Ill., June 2.—(AP)—Benjamin Fowler, 28, was killed early today when he was surprised in the act of opening a safe in an oil station belonging to Fred Oldani.

Motorist Finds His Auto Dangling Over Chgo. River

When Johnson C. Arthur, 5444 South Sawyer avenue, came last evening to get his sedan which he had parked on the lower level of Wacker drive near the Dearborn street bridge earlier in the day he found half of the automobile hanging over the Chicago river. Another motorist, attempting to squeeze his car into a small parking space, had pushed Arthur's automobile over the edge of the dock. Policeman Thomas Norton chained the car to a concrete pillar to keep it from sliding into the river.

M. GEORGES GAY

Head of the famous Academie Scientifique de Beauté of Paris tells why he advocates twice-a-day use of Palmolive Soap

"These vegetable oils in Palmolive Soap act beneficially on the underlying texture of the skin. They keep the surface colour clear and free from irritation, and they leave the texture of the skin smooth and fresh."

Gay

A glimpse of the typically French interior of Monsieur Gay's salon in Paris. This shows the corner of one of the waiting rooms.

"YOU cannot build a beautiful complexion on the foundation of a pore-clogged skin," says Monsieur Georges Gay, of Paris. "That is a simple truth which so many women forget. When the skin loses its natural freshness and vitality, they fly to the use of cosmetics. The result is then disastrous. 'Cleanse the pores first,' I tell my clients.

"Palmolive is the only soap according with my methods, and I always recommend it for home use. It gives a very fine, silky lather which gets right down into every tiny pore and sweeps away the accumulation of dust and rouge and powder which chokes the skin. Further, the pure vegetable oils of which Palmolive is made help in the process of rejuvenation which is the aim of my treatment. The massage with Palmolive twice a day has become a regular part of my course."

Head of the Academie Scientifique

Monsieur Gay is, as you probably know, directing head of the Academie Scientifique de Beauté in Paris.

He numbers among his graduates such distinguished experts as Madame Elin Dahlstrand of Stockholm, and she, too, advises Palmolive Soap, together with the many cosmetic products of the Academie.

Olive and palm oils in soap, as Georges Gay explains, cleanse the skin of dangerous impurities without irritation, without causing coarse pores or other unattractive blemishes. They have been used since the time of Cleopatra. In Palmolive they are so blended that no artificial coloring is needed. This soap is pure. It requires no heavy perfumes to mask undesirable fat odors. It is ideal for bath as well as face. And it costs no more than ordinary soaps, you know.

Consult your own expert

Your own expert, whom you consult regularly, undoubtedly agrees with Monsieur Gay. A total of 19,813 beauty experts advise Palmolive. Theirs is the only authoritative advice. Be guided by their choice. Use Palmolive, the world's favorite beauty soap, in this 2-minute treatment.

Massage a lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water into the pores with both hands. Rinse with warm water, then with cold. That's all. Yet millions of women find it the easiest and best way of keeping skin lovely.

Never has there been such a widespread professional endorsement of any product. Palmolive is recommended by 19,813 of the world's leading beauty experts

Retail Price 10c

The smooth emollient qualities of a soap containing olive oil cannot be equaled by any other modern facial cleanser. That is why this soap is recommended for daily care of the skin.

PRESBYTERIANS REFUSE TO ALTER MARRIAGE RULE

Retain Old Interdict on Catholics.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cincinnati, O., June 2.—[Special.]—The Presbyterian church will continue to frown on marriages of Presbyterians and Roman Catholics. After heated debate this afternoon in the general assembly of the Presbyterian church, a three to one vote quashed the attempt of the commission on marriage, divorce, and remarriage to remove from the confession of faith the statement placing Catholics in the category of infidels and idolators.

The commission's report stated that a portion of chapter 24, section three, of the confession of faith is "not consonant with the temper of our day" and should be stricken out. The words referred to are:

"And, therefore, such as profess the true reformed religion should not marry with infidels, papists, and other idolators; neither such as are more godly be unequally yoked by marrying with such as are notoriously wicked in their life or maintain damnable heresies."

Suggested a Substitute.

In place of this paragraph, the commission urged that the language of the Presbyterian directory of worship be followed. This omits the reference to papists and affirms that "it is lawful for all sorts of people to marry who are able, with judgment, to give their consent; yet it is the duty of Christians to marry only in the Lord."

The debated section was the seventh of the commission's ten specific recommendations which closed the reading of its report by the Rev. Frank Marshall Davis, Erie, Pa.

A motion to adopt all but the seventh recommendation was made by the Rev. George B. Bell, Philadelphia. Dr. Howard Agnew Johnson, Milwaukee, defended the seventh recommendation. He asserted that the temper of the present day does not call for the harsh language of the reformation period.

A resolution condemning the refusal of citizenship to aliens who decline to pledge in advance that they will bear arms in event of war was passed by the assembly and forwarded to President Hoover.

The assembly sidestepped reference to motion pictures and cigaret advertising. The synod of the west sent in an overture asking the assembly to declare itself against the "widespread and unscientific cigaret advertisements," while the presbytery of Pittsburgh requested the assembly "to study movie advertising and suggest a method of correcting movie abuse." Moderator Hugh T. Kerr ruled that these matters belonged in committees.

Expansion of the church program of temperance education and promotion of a revival of public interest in the same subject through the school and other agencies was recommended to the assembly by the committee on Christian education.

The committee further recommended that "additional emphasis" be given the program of law enforcement.

Urge Stricter Sabbath.

The committee urged that "the proper observance of the Sabbath" be stressed, "directing attention to the issues which are confronting our communities, especially the commercialization of the day by amusement and sporting corporations and similar profit-making agencies."

There was considerable discussion by the commissioners over the question of whether or not the church's prohibition against narcotics included tobacco. Finally, a motion was adopted applying a similar recommendation to tobacco.

Dr. Hugh T. Kerr, moderator, stated that when the church spoke in terms of "temperance" it included "all such things."

The assembly voted to add the following to the resolution on Christian education:

"That we further pledge our support to President Hoover on his stand in relationship to the London naval treaty and urge the senate to accept the same."

WOMAN DYING AFTER AIR FERRY STRIKES TUG IN FRISCO BAY

Oakland, Cal., June 2.—(AP)—A San Francisco air ferry carrying six passengers and two pilots struck the pilot house of a tugboat in the Oakland estuary today, swerved from its course to the top of a sand laden barge, and nose dived into the water, probably fatally injuring Mrs. J. E. Hawley of San Francisco. The others suffered minor lacerations, bruises, or shock. All were quickly rescued. The other passengers were Miss Isabel Stewart, 28, Chicago; Mrs. Samuel E. Stewart, Honolulu, sister-in-law of Miss Stewart; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Unks of San Leandro, and Mrs. J. Kugler of San Francisco, sister of Mrs. Hawley.

PLEADS FOR DRY LAW

Des Moines, Ia., June 2.—(AP)—Reaffirming faith in prohibition and deploring "private publicity enterprises in the form of straw ballots," a report of a committee on reform headed by F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, today was before the United Presbyterian church assembly.

The report warned against the "insidious campaign of wet propaganda deliberately designed to discourage respect for prohibition and encourage the use of intoxicating liquor."

Belief that the use of cigarets by children and youth decreases the desire or care for spiritual thought and lessens the ability to become real Christians is expressed. A union of interested forces and coöperation with the Anti-Cigaret alliance is urged.

Baptists Vote Dry Law Support.

Cleveland, O., June 2.—(AP)—The national convention of the Northern Baptist church went on record tonight as recommending federal control of the moving picture industry and advocating an unwavering defense of the prohibition laws. Resolutions on these subjects were approved today as the convention neared its final session.

A committee report on relations with the federal council of Churches in Christ also was adopted. The committee had considered whether the sponsoring of a radio preacher by the council is a proper function.

CITY OWNERSHIP ADVOCATES OPEN FIRE ON CAR BILL

Ald. McDonough Replies on Behalf of Franchise.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The public ownership advocates, under the title of "the citizens' committee against the traction ordinance," in which Carl D. Thompson is a leader; David Rosenheim, chairman, and Mrs. Charles K. Mohler, secretary, issued a leaflet yesterday calling the ordinance "the worst ever."

"It was drawn," reads the circular, "by the attorneys for the car companies, indorsed by a so-called 'citizens' committee' that is not a citizens' committee at all, but is made up of the friends of the traction and loop interests, in some cases actual officers of the street car companies."

McDonough's Answer.

Ald. Joseph B. McDonough was reluctant to comment upon the charges. "What's the use of replying to such statements?" he said. "Every one who knows the citizens' committee knows that not one member is an official of the street car companies. Any one who is informed on the transit ordinance knows that Walter L. Fisher had more to say in the drafting of the ordinance than any one else. There are many things in the ordinance against which the transit lawyers vigorously protested."

In charging that "the ordinance gives the car companies about everything they could ask," the Thompson pamphlet adds:

"Moreover the grant covers not only Chicago but the entire suburban district for 40 miles in every direction."

"What's the good of talking about such a statement?" demanded McDonough. "Every one knows that the city of Chicago cannot grant a franchise to operate anything outside of the city limits. The grant covers only Chicago. The company has the corporate right to operate outside of Chicago if it can get the permission of the suburbs, not otherwise, but the law prohibits extension beyond 30 miles—not 40 miles."

Attack on Valuation.

Regarding the initial capitalization of $260,000,000, the Thompson pamphlet says: "That is at least $50,000,000 more than the properties are worth."

"The state commerce commission has officially said they are worth more than $260,000,000," said McDonough. "Engineers and experts employed by the city have officially said they are worth more."

"The passage of this ordinance will leave the city without any real voice in the control or management of the properties," reads another charge. To this Ald. McDonough replied:

"The control will be in a local commission appointed by the mayor and approved by the city council. That is local control. It is the first home rule we have had since 1913."

Another charge is that "the extensions are not adequately guaranteed."

"We have the most effective guarantee that could be devised in six months of effort by the best talent available to the city," said McDonough. "It is more effective than is contained in the franchise of any large transit company that I have read."

The McDonough council committee held a meeting yesterday in an effort to complete the organization of car franchise advocates. An appeal for funds for the referendum was sent out yesterday. Harold E. Foreman chairman of the finance committee, said in a letter:

"If this ordinance is accepted, the car company will spend $65,000,000 within three years, and $200,000,000 in ten years, and the city will spend approximately $100,000,000 in subway construction. Employment will be provided and Chicago will have the best system of transportation in America."

RICE KRISPIES

"Forget the Hair and Treat the Scalp."

The above was the heading for an article written by one of the most famous beauty authorities; no truer statement ever appeared in print, and it substantiates all we have claimed in our advertising. We have always stated—"Cleanse the scalp of dandruff so the pores can breathe, then the hair will take care of itself." Dandruff is the killer of hair beauty, get rid of it. Here's a simple, sure, safe way—get a little liquid Calonite from your druggist, use it like you would a shampoo, notice just after one application how clean your scalp is. Try this every day for a few days, then once a week will keep your scalp free and clean and your hair will take care of itself.

Druggan, who now lies near death at the University hospital, was host at the hotel party which the machine gun spray broke up, according to Stege's information. Others around the table or upstairs were Eugene (Red) McLaughlin, quick trigger gunman and brother of Robert McLaughlin, president of the Checker Cab company; Robert (Frisco Dutch) Schmidt, California killer; Frank Quirk, brother of the slain Michael, and "Lefty" Shottinger, Druggan's chauffeur.

Warrant for Druggan.

Col. A. V. Smith, state's attorney of Lake county, procured a warrant yesterday for Druggan's arrest, to assure opportunity for questioning him concerning the shooting in the event he recovers. It is Prosecutor Smith's theory that the machine gun attack was inspired by Druggan's policy of underselling his competitors in the lucrative Lake county beer traffic.

Stege was inclined to "let Smith worry about the Fox Lake affair," concentrating his own department's efforts on preventing an eruption of Sicilian guerrilla warfare which he believed is traceable to nationwide troubles within the Unione Siciliana.

In addition to the eight Sicilian shootings here in the last three days there have been several in Detroit and in Boston.

Sam Hunt, a Capone gangster seized last week while toting a shotgun in a golf bag, failed to appear for arraignment on a charge of carrying concealed weapons yesterday before Judge Sbarbaro. The court ordered his bonds forfeited.

Another of Capone's men, "Machine Gun Jack" McGurn, appeared before Judge E. I. Frankhauser to answer an old gun toting charge. He won another continuance to June 10 but, as he left the courtroom, was seized by Stege's men. Prompt procurance of a writ of habeas corpus regained him his liberty at 3 p. m.

5 SLAIN IN DETROIT

Detroit, Mich., June 2.—(AP)—Police throughout the Detroit area stood ready tonight to cope with a renewal of the gangster warfare which broke out Saturday and resulted in the slaying of five over the week-end.

Two suburban policemen and three other men whose names appear on police crime records have been slain. The police said there is a connecting thread between all five killings.

The latest slaying was that of Morris Forsmith, 22, whose body was found at the Nine Mile road and Sunset boulevard at daybreak today, shortly after shots had aroused persons in the neighborhood. The killers escaped in an automobile. Police saw in the slaying of Forsmith a reprisal of the slaying Saturday of Gaspere Scibilia and Samuel Parinou in the rear room of a fish market at 2739 Vernor Highway East.

The automobile in which the slayers escaped Saturday is believed to be the one from which three men shot and killed Patrolmen Ehrhardt Meyer, 27, and Claude Lanstra, 24, in Grosse Pointe park early Sunday. The policemen were shot down when they tried to question occupants of the car about a traffic accident which had occurred shortly before.

The automobile which figured in the shooting, its body pierced by bullets fired by the two policemen, was found in the rear of the home of Sam De Mercurio, who with his son, Frank, and Frank Salimoni is held for investigation.

EDITORS DENIED VENUE CHANGE IN CONTEMPT CASE

Referred by Judge to Supreme Court.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 2.—(AP)—The publisher and two editors of the Los Angeles Record, an afternoon newspaper, appeared in Superior court today in answer to contempt charges and filed an affidavit of prejudice against Superior Judge Frank C. Collier.

Judge Collier refused to accept the affidavit and informed the defense attorneys they could seek a writ of prohibition from the California Supreme court if they desired. The case was continued until next Monday to give the newspapermen this opportunity.

H. B. R. Briggs, the publisher, and Gilbert Brown, editor, and Rodney Brink, managing editor, were cited for published criticism of the county grand jury and District Attorney Buron Fitts during the recent Julian Petroleum corporation fraud investigation.

William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, was in court as head of the defense counsel. He did rot participate actively in the proceeding, leaving his associate, William Neblett, to handle the legal skirmishes.

In an answer filed to the contempt charges this afternoon counsel for the newspaper admitted publication of the alleged contemptuous editorials and cartoons. The answer denied, however, certain of the thirteen counts of alleged contempt through asserted attempts to obstruct justice.

The defendants denied that at the time the articles were published the grand jury was investigating the Julian corporation or any of its affairs, except the so-called investigation of certain alleged "usurious transactions."

They declared also that the district attorney "failed and still continues to fail, to take any proper action" in respect to charges against Jacob Berman, former Julian official, and, had failed to take any action at all "until such time as the statute of limitation had barred" it.

Found Dead in Auto; Was Missing Since May 25

Alva Lynch, 45 years old, 2701 Mildred avenue, proprietor of a delicatessen store, was found dead in his parked automobile just around the corner from his home yesterday. Police believe he has been dead since the night of May 25, when he failed to return home. There were no marks of violence, and Capt. Thomas Duffy of the Sheffield avenue police believes death was caused by carbon monoxide gas or heart failure.

NO, no, officer, don't pinch Mr. Smith. A bandit? Of course not. He's just a kind husband, tiptoeing out for a big Pixley & Ehlers breakfast while the little woman sleeps. It's not just a matter of family affection; it's a matter of time saving and economy. Mr. John Budget Smith knows his wife can't possibly manage a Pixley-style breakfast for a mere 20 cents—3 crisp strips of Mickelberry bacon, a big country egg, fresh and sizzling, and 3 slices of buttered, golden-brown toast.

P. S.—For a nickel, a real, honest-to-goodness cup of golden, creamy coffee.

DEFENDANTS IN GARY POLL FRAUD GET LEGAL AID

Indianapolis, Ind., June 2.—[Special.]—Milton Marquardt, Charles Parker and Charles L. Parker Sr. of Gary conferred today with James M. Ogden, Indiana attorney general, concerning the alleged importation and voting of women from Illinois in the county preliminaries of Gary May 6.

Marquardt and the younger Parker, who were arrested by Gary police on election day and who forfeited their bonds in a Gary City court on May 13, came to the attorney general voluntarily to tell him their story of the alleged fradulent voting.

Mr. Ogden said he would send George Huffsmith, deptuy attorney general, back to Lake county with Marquardt and Parker in order to see that they obtained legal rights in court proceedings now under way.

Parker and Marquardt both made available to the attorney general elaborate statements of their alleged knowledge of the voting of floaters, asserting it was conducted by the same persons and in the same manner as in the general election of 1928, which was investigated by federal authorities without any outstanding results.

A CHARMING
FRENCH BEDROOM GROUP

GRACEFUL simplicity, and a certain subtlety of design which creates an air of tasteful luxury, have made French Provincial furniture very much the mode for the modern bedroom.

This charming Danersk group is a delightful adaptation for American homes. The decorations in soft pastel shades are taken from old French designs, with rinceaux in self tones of the wood, and here and there a touch of black and gold, or coral and antique blue.

Visit our showrooms — artistically arranged to display this lovely group, with many other interesting pieces and related groups for every room in the home, and most reasonably priced.

Danersk furniture is built by hand by our colony of Scotch and English craftsmen in our own New England shops.

Danersk bedroom groups are from $390 to $2100 The painted Provincial is a very remarkable value in hand-made furniture at $938. It includes 8 pieces: twin beds (or full size), bureau, night-table, poudreuse, bench, chair and mirror.

SPREADING FIRES IN INDIA.

Charles Dailey of THE TRIBUNE foreign news service reports from Bombay after a tour of the interior provinces that India is being integrated and united behind Gandhi's demands. Caste and religion, the two disintegrating factors, are being forgotten in the struggle for liberty, for at least such freedom as the dominion status offers in the British commonwealth of nations.

Dominion status gets a new definition from time to time from one of the constituents of the commonwealth. South Africa says it contains the right of withdrawal at discretion. Canada says its status is that of a nation. These are loose bonds. If they make an empire, it's a shadowy one and the components have privileges no longer retained even in theory by the units in the American Union.

It is understood that Gandhi would advise India to take dominion status as a solution for British India. The princes will not have it for the native states. Democracy is not on their program. Caste is aristocratic government. It and religious intolerance are obstacles which either break revolutions or are broken by them. Intolerance broke the Cromwellian democracy. The French and Russian revolutions broke caste and religion. The doctrine of the superior man was asserted after the American revolution, but it fell with the Federalists, who subscribed to it and tried to make it work.

None of the great revolutions has had the obstacles in such huge form and with such antiquity as they are presented in India, but Mr. Dailey finds that they are yielding to the urge for national independence. The Moslems are making common cause with the Hindus and the higher castes can reconcile themselves to a nationalist purpose shared with the socially degraded peoples and communities. If so, the internal checks which have aided British rule and in a large measure have justified it will disappear. Abstractly, the moral sense of the world is less satisfied with these alien overlordships than ever before. It is harder to sustain their virtues. The greatest justification of the British in India, humanely considered, was the assumption that the natives in their relations with each other denied the rights of the average man and would not tolerate a social order of justice and equity. The Hindu revolutionists must realize that in their approach to world opinion they must show a house in better order.

A modern military nation has more power than ever before to use in suppressing a rebellion in a dependency. It has so much in the modern agencies of destruction that it hardly dares to use them against people who cannot fight back with them. That is its power and its handicap. The subjected people also have a weapon which, if not new, is more powerful than ever and they can use it—the boycott. British industry is vulnerable in this respect.

India may win this fight. It is not the sepoy rebellion.

MORE WANTED BUT NOT NEEDED.

A determined effort is to be made at the next Wisconsin legislative session to increase the gasoline tax from 2 cents to 4 cents a gallon. It is natural that the effort should be made. There has been no serious complaint about the present tax, and politicians are quick to take advantage of every source of revenue which can be tapped without protest from their constituents.

The gasoline tax in Wisconsin has met with general approval because the cost of collection is borne by the oil companies, payments are in very small installments, and those who use gasoline for motor fuel seem willing to pay a considerable portion of the cost of good automobile roads. Last year more than $7,000,000 was collected in Wisconsin in gasoline taxes, in addition to license fees and personal property taxes on cars.

An increase to 4 cents would mean that Wisconsin is assessing its motorists more per gallon than are its neighbors. Iowa, Illinois, Michigan, and Minnesota all have a 3 cent tax. A tax of 4 cents would be a real burden which is not justified by present needs. A sales tax of from 20 to 25 per cent is no trifle. It is applied to gasoline by those states whose citizens own few automobiles, but who seek a revenue from through tourists. Thus, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida impose a 6 cent tax, and strangers pay most of it. Wisconsin is a state of automobile owners, and its tourists are not millionaire sportsmen passing through in a cloud of dust. It desires to encourage visitors from outside.

If the gasoline tax is to be increased at all, 3 cents should be the limit, and before such a step is taken there should be a definite decision as to who will spend the added revenue, and how. Many cities maintain they are not getting their share. Milwaukee county alone pays nearly a fifth of the present collections, but nowhere near that proportion is returned to it. Milwaukee's streets are worn out by autos as much as are rural highways. The state highway department suggests that an increase in gasoline tax, with funds placed under the jurisdiction of that department, might provide for snow removal from main arteries of travel, with a consequent increase of travel to offset a possible decrease in gasoline consumption due to the added tax. The least populous counties at present receive the greatest benefit in comparison with the sums paid by their citizens. They favor more taxes because some one else pays the bill. They are willing to penalize the tourists and city residents.

There is no popular demand for an increase in the gasoline tax; the suggestion for it comes primarily from construction companies and public officials interested in the disposal of the funds. Some few motorists would be for an increase of 1 cent if the revenues were to be expended solely by the state for the purpose of completing through highways or widening existing arterials in congested sections in and near Milwaukee. But to double an already heavy tax just for the purpose of seeing how much money can be raised is not wise. The gas tax is one which invites misuse in every state.

BOBBY JONES, CHAMPIONSHIPS UNLIMITED.

Bobby Jones won the British amateur golf championship Saturday, thus putting in his sack the only thing he lacked as the complete champion of everything in the game. THE TRIBUNE correspondents who saw the winner afterwards at St. Andrews said that he confessed to being "very, very tired," and looked it with his eyes an inch deep in his face. The Scots, it was said, have come to regard him with a sort of awe, a wholly generous admiration of a player who always has enough golf for the situation which requires it.

Jones wanted this amateur championship more than anything else, an ambition which is a commentary on the game itself. He had won the British open championship among his other prizes. In almost every other sport the gap between professionals and amateurs is made by nature and is only described by rule which keeps the two classes from competition. Sometimes, as in tennis, the rule tries to state a condition which does not exist. Tilden is a professional in everything but rating.

The pro football players are amateurs grown a little older and playing for the box office receipts. Whoever is heavyweight champion, the only certainty being that it isn't yet Primo Carnera or still Jack Dempsey, would have about as much use for the amateur championship as he would have for the first dahlia prize in the Lake county flower show, probably much less. Often the strong love flowers. An amateur first baseman would have about as much value to Mr. Wrigley as an amateur Hamlet would have to George Cohan or the Marx Brothers, less than that to the latter. They might use him.

Golf is truly a Scotch game. That explains many of its inexplicabilities, but not why a Georgian is the wonder child at it. A Scotch explanation of American successes is in the lower right hand corner of this page, in a cartoon reproduced from the Glasgow Evening News. [Assuming that the arrangements for its getting there carry through.] The American's jaw looks like a battleship, but if it were some one would be sitting on it. The idea isn't so true of golf as of other sports. Mr. Jones must organize himself, but the distaste for losing is a characteristic not without its value.

The British may say that they do not care who wins the games or even the wars so long as they win the conferences. There was another Jones had the winning idea, John Paul Jones, off Flamborough Head. He, if the Scotch insist, was a Scotchman in the American service with a French ship, a riffraff crew, and American riflemen. He was too poor a loser to be one. It is good to have a lot of them.

FOX HUNTING IN COURT.

Chicago's Judge Kavanagh has been telling a parliamentary committee in London not to abolish capital punishment. The judge qualified as an expert in the subject as a result of wide travel and reading. Residence in Chicago itself does not qualify. We have plenty of murders but inadequate data on the preventive value of executions.

England has virtually abolished capital punishment by enforcing it, the judge said; and America has virtually abolished it by not enforcing it. Readers of the recently published life of Sir Edward Marshall-Hall will understand. The British idea is that if there has been a murder, somebody must hang for it. The consequence is that ladies and gentlemen flee from the scene of a murder almost as fast as the murderer himself. Even the coroner is careful to prepare an alibi before approaching the spot marked with a cross.

Juries in the United States think that the brothers Grimm were recording sober truth. A reasonable doubt can therefore be raised without great difficulty. Our lawyers for the defense are much more concerned with stage-managing the mother's tears and the girl friend's stockings than with explaining the fact that the defendant had a smoking revolver in his hands when the police came upon the scene.

English criminal justice resembles fox hunting. The object is to kill a fox and it doesn't make much difference which one. American lawyers reading about Sir Edward discover that he lost cases which never would have been given to the jury in this country. In this country, a cross-eyed man who carries a pocketknife can venture within half a mile of his home without danger of being charged with murder. He may be invited to see the goldfish, but he will not be hanged.

Editorial of the Day

REAPPORTION ILLINOIS.

[Rockford (Ill.) Register-Gazette.]

When the fifty-seventh general assembly of Illinois meets in regular session next January one of the first subjects to which it should give serious consideration is that of senatorial reapportionment of the state. There is no good reason why the work of redistricting should be further delayed. As a matter of fact, if the provisions of the constitution had been obeyed the reapportionment would have been made years ago. Senators and representatives were unable to agree, however, as to how the state should be carved up, with the result that there is not the just representation there should be today. That has, in part, been the cause of the friction which has been worked up, or attempted to be worked up, between Cook county and the downstate. This should not be, for Illinois is one great commonwealth and what hurts Chicago hurts the downstate and what helps the country counties is also helpful to Chicago. It will be no easy task to create a new legislative district map which will prove satisfactory to all concerned, but it should and must be done at the coming long winter session.

GLOVES AND PROTECTION.

MEN wear tall hats and carry canes as a method of announcing to the world that they do not dig ditches or do any other kind of manual labor. This is rather generally accepted as the reason why men inconvenience themselves with these impediments. Because gloves came to be associated in the public mind with plug hats and canes they share some of the prejudice and have had some difficulty in coming into their own.

The workingman needs gloves, either to protect himself or for the better doing of his job. The teamster knows this. He says gloves give him a better grip on the reins. Perhaps wearing gloves has saved many a teamster from eczema due to horse dandruff. The chauffeur knows that he can drive better with them. Perhaps wearing them saves chauffeurs and aviators from some skin troubles caused by greases, fumes, and solvents.

Brick handlers wear them to save their hands from trauma. Many workingmen wear them, and many more should do so. Grocers have grocer's itch and sugar itch. Bakers have baker's itch. Both should wear gloves whenever and wherever they can. Photographers have eczema due to chemicals. Housewives have skin troubles of the hands, some of which they could avoid by wearing appropriate gloves. Laundresses are quite subject to soap and water eczema. Farmers suffer from weather skin, sometimes called sailor skin, and out of this some skin cancers develop. Machinists get skin troubles caused by grease and cutting oils. Printers suffer from skin troubles due to inks. The surgeon once paid tribute to bichloride and formalin dermatitis, but he freed himself when he commenced wearing gloves in order to make operations safer.

The hands are credited with spreading influenza and carrying contagion generally. Physicians overcome this personally by wearing gloves. Others should follow their example. Hands polluted with lead are responsible for much of the lead poisoning. This is true of several other trade poisonings.

EGGS, FOOD FOR CHILDREN.

Mrs. C. L. L. writes: Will you settle a controversy in regard to children's food?

1. Are hard boiled eggs and hot chocolate bad for children?
2. Has a hot, home cooked cereal more value than the kind already cooked when bought?
3. Is calf liver [and kidneys, also] of more value than that of beef, or are they merely more palatable?

REPLY.

1. There is no better food than eggs for a rapidly growing child. However, eggs do not agree with all children. Hard boiling is a good way to cook an egg. Hot chocolate is not quite as wholesome as hot milk. If it is given to children it is better to use as little of the chocolate and as much of the sugar and milk as the children will agree to.
2. They are about on a par.
3. They are more valuable if there is anemia. If there is no anemia they are about on a par with lean meat. In certain conditions, for example, they rank below lean meat.

GO LIGHT ON STARCHES.

H. H. D. writes:

1. From observation of a person in my own household, I am inclined to credit starch indigestion with being at least a contributing cause of his low blood pressure. Is there a diet which will raise the blood pressure?
2. What foods produce starch indigestion?
3. Constipation seems to accompany this condition. Can you advise foods that might help to correct it?

REPLY.

1. So it is claimed.
2. Starchy and sweet foods, such as bread, crackers, pastries, cereals, potatoes, beans, corn, sugars, and desserts.
3. Go light on starches and sugars. Live principally on meats, eggs, watery vegetables, and fruits.

IT IS LOCAL IRRITATION.

B. T. A. writes: I am a man 23 years old. In warm weather I perspire freely. The perspiration causes an irritation in my armpits which causes a great deal of discomfort amounting to actual pain. This condition comes every summer. I do not understand why this should be. Is it a question of diet, or local irritation?

REPLY.

Local irritation.

IMPROVEMENT PROMISED.

Chicago, May 31.—[Friend of the People.]—Cannot something be done to rectify the unbearable condition existing in the rear of vacant lot in the 7700 block of South Paulina street? Every one uses the lot for a dumping ground for ashes, cans, bed springs and whatnot. The rear of the lot is piled about six feet high with this débris. About a year ago a "No Dumping" sign was erected and the lot cleaned up, but the sign has subsequently been torn down. Would appreciate your efforts toward having this condition ended. F. J. C.

Report is made that conditions complained of have been remedied and notices served on householders in the vicinity to stop further dumping. A "No Dumping" sign will be placed here within a short time.

Whaddayacall Saturation?

Just before we started in from the country last Sunday we had read a little item about automobiles in the United States having reached the saturation point. When we got to the first bottle neck and stalled around an hour before we got through we decided that was a very mild statement. After that the cars were so thick and fast and furious we decided we must be the only human being in all these United States who didn't own a motor car. And then we got an idea that the car right behind us was trying to crawl over the back of our car and nestle down beside us. And after that the cars began to jump into our auto and sit in our lap. Then the thing got worse and worse. Automobiles were climbing all over us and down the back of our collar. We had to brush 'em away and scoop 'em out of our pockets and sling 'em back in the road. And when we got home and thought we were safe, we found two autos in our shoe. Saturated! We'll say!

THE EXPECTANT FATHER.

Of all the sad sights in this old world of sin,
And all the sad plights its creatures get in,
There's nothing so wretched and woeful to me
As the case of a father about to be.

Life holds for Eve's children no other suspense
So anxious, so wistful, so sweet, so intense,
With mingling emotions of gladness and fright,
Of terror and wonder, of dread and delight.

He registers pride, and he registers shame,
Assumes all the honor, admits all the blame,
Feels useless, important, exultant, distressed,
Is hot and is cold, is puffed up and depressed.

Down the hospital aisles he is destined to stray,
Abashed and elated, in every one's way,
As Adam paraded the avenues, dim,
Of Paradise, jostled by white seraphim.

The nurses ignore him, the internes deride,
The orderlies ask him to please step aside.
Nobody pities him, none understands,
All have more important affairs on their hands.

Till, at last, in the offing he hears a loud squall,
And the calm-visaged doctor appears in the hall
And quietly speaks: "Well, old man, it's a boy,"
Then all his emotions explode into joy.

The Mother (God bless her) has tenderest care;
The Baby, the rascal, has oodles to spare
Of attention; but, somehow, no one seems to bother
About the precarious condition of Father.

EOLUS.

FRANCE is suffering from an overproduction of wine, and Premier Tardieu is to make an appeal to the loyal and patriotic French to drink plenty of wine and make it snappy. If M. Tardieu intends also to appeal to American tourists he is just wasting his time.

A DISPATCH FROM PARIS tells of a banquet at the Zoo at which the guests dined royally and well from stewed grasshoppers. The farm relief board may be expected to tell the poverty stricken farmers of the midwest that they should immediately start grasshopper ranches and raise bigger and better grasshoppers for the French market.

Injuns and Hijackers.

And we used to think we had got all through the massacre period in our history when the hardy pioneer ran the hind legs off the Indians and chased 'em into the mountains, but now the civil war, caused by the rich booty to be obtained under the 18th amendment, has started another epoch of massacres. Only the Indians had more sense of humor; they used to make their victims run the gantlet and then toast 'em over a slow fire. The gun boys just turn loose with machine guns and then disappear. These stirring times are just as bloody as the old pioneer days, but say what you will, the Indians were the best showmen and got more zip and color into their stuff.

THE NEW GOVERNMENT MINT out in China has a machine so delicately organized that it will weigh the writing on a postal card. That machine has nothing on us; we are so delicately organized that we know without looking when a postal card says, "Having a swell time, wish you were here."

CONDITIONAL.

And what would Heaven matter
If you would not be there,
Waiting to receive me
When I climb the gilded stair?

If things you loved are sinful,
A gypsy's gay red mouth,
A bangle and a love-song,
And a brown path heading south,

Then take this for remembrance . . .
That though my alms suffice,
And spring is long in Heaven,
I, too, missed Paradise.

THREE HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND four hundred and fifty dollars have now been chalked up as having been spent for the Davis-Brown campaign in Pennsylvania. And all we used to demand of our statesmen was that they be born in a log cabin. Dear, dear, how times do change!

HENRY FORD SAYS he's against the new tariff bill. Oh, Henry, don't do that! We've been firmly convinced for months 'n' months that the tariff bill was all wrong, that it would wreck the country and send us all to the poorhouse. But, Henry, if you're agin it, then it must be all right. Oh, Henry, fevvens sake! keep out of this or you'll get us all mixed up.

TALKING MAMA OUT OF GIVING HIM A BATH

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

JUNE 3, 1865.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—By order of Gen. Logan all unemployed Negroes and such as are not actually needed with the army are to be turned over to Gen. D. H. Rucker, chief of the quartermaster's department at Washington.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—William H. Herndon, a distinguished lawyer of this city and a partner of Mr. Lincoln from 1844 until the President's death, the partnership never having been dissolved, is preparing a write a life of Abraham Lincoln.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The judge advocate of the military commission trying the Lincoln conspirators announced that the government has considered its testimony in chief in the trial and that it is not probable there will be any necessity for introducing rebuttal testimony. The defense may occupy two or three days more in presenting its evidence. The plea of insanity is offered in behalf of Payne. He appeared to be as much astonished and amused as any one at the idea of trying to make it appear that he is mad.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—A fleet of fifteen steamers from Parkersburg, Va., loaded with Gen. Sheridan's cavalry, arrived here. The troops are in charge of Gen. Stagg and are destined for service on the plains.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

JUNE 3, 1900.

WAWONA, Cal.—"The Black Kid," single handed, armed with a magazine rifle, held up and robbed at one time two wagons and three of the stages of the Yosemite Stage and Turnpike company, carrying 27 men and five women, then, without firing a shot, stood off a squad of United States regular calvary and escaped into the woods. After lining up the passengers he compelled one dignified gentleman to pass the hat along the line to gather up the loot.

MANILA.—The last two weeks have seen a general spread of rebel activity throughout Luzon and even into the other islands, which has been sharply offset by immediate retaliation. The rebels have attacked by day and by night several of the 267 towns garrisoned by United States troops. More than 300 Filipinos were killed by troops of Gen. Young's command in north Ilocos province during three days' hard fighting last week, over 100 were killed in Camerinos province and at least 50 died in their recent attack on Cagayan de Misamis in northern Mindanao.

NEW YORK.—Gov. Roosevelt has been asked to oust Mayor Van Wyck of New York City. Affidavits of the mayor's ownership of ice trust stock and a summary of developments in the ice trust investigation were presented to the governor.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

JUNE 3, 1920.

CHICAGO.—Two resounding blows at fraud and corruption were struck yesterday as preliminaries to the Republican national convention. One came from Gov. Frank O. Lowden, candidate for the presidency. He issued a statement spurning support of any delegates whose election was tainted in any way. He dealt specifically with the cases of Nat Goldstein and Robert E. Moore, delegates to the convention from Missouri. They had testified in Washington that they placed in their own bank accounts $2,500 each, given them to organize their districts for Lowden. The governor declared that both these men, by their testimony, had shown themselves to be unfit to sit in the convention. The money was furnished to them by Louis L. Emmerson, Gov. Lowden's manager, last January. The other blow was dealt by the national committee, which threw out both the contesting and contested delegates from the Fifth Missouri district on the ground that testimony had shown that the election of these delegates was "disgraceful and tainted with fraud."

CHICAGO.—Dr. David Kinley was unanimously elected president of the University of Illinois at a meeting of the board of trustees in the Blackstone hotel. He has been acting president for nearly a year during the illness of Dr. Edmund James.

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

FOR THE TRACTION ORDINANCE.

Chicago, May 31.—After a very early period of balmy socialism and since then a lot of thought about social, economic, industrial and political matters, I have come to the conclusion, which is obvious to most of us, that private enterprise is somehow or other more efficiently and honestly conducted than municipally operated affairs. That is why I shall vote for the traction ordinance, the only part of which I do not like is the fact that the city is to build the subway.

Yes, I should vote for it even if the city received not a penny of the car company's earnings. Its enemies state that it is an indeterminate franchise. I hope that this is true because if so, the street car companies, whose interests I believe to be identical with those of the people, will cease to be a political football, which has been the case as long as I can remember.

It will also do away forever with the possibility of city ownership, which would subject the transportation companies, all of its employés and the street car riders themselves to the dictates and grafting obscenities of demagogic politicians, and the substitution of the spoils system for the merit system.

Yes, I am for the franchise because, as I have before intimated, I believe that the heads of corporations like the electric light company and telephone company render more honest service and more efficient service than men like those recently indicted in connection with the sanitary district scandals.

TWO POOR LITTLE BABES.

Chicago, May 29.—I wonder if any of THE TRIBUNE readers can furnish me the complete words and music to a song which I know only as "Two Poor Little Babes Were Lost in the Woods." This melody was sung to me many years ago and, as it recalls pleasant memories of my childhood, I would greatly appreciate any assistance in obtaining it. E. K. M.

IT WOULD STILL BE THERE.

Chicago, May 30.—With all due respects to Stanley H. Kunz in his statement in THE CHICAGO SUNDAY TRIBUNE as to closing the river bridges, I wish to say that we old timers feel that much of our old Chicago would be lost if the bridges were closed, since the old stream has been identified with Chicago since its early settlement.

OLD TIMER.

THE MURDER RATES.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 20.—Your ad in today's Public Ledger interested me by reason of the fact that you mention the number of murders committed in fourteen well known cities and then go on to say that in ratio to their population cities like Memphis, Birmingham, Atlanta, Jacksonville, etc., had a much higher ratio than Chicago, New York, etc.

Your ad unquestionably is of the type that will attract attention, but I am wondering if, from people who think, it will get you any business, as in your selection of cities eight of the thirteen outside of Chicago are in the south, where there is a heavy percentage of Negro population, and are relatively smaller in population than the metropolitan cities, and I notice that you very carefully omit cities more comparable to that of your own in size, etc., such as Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg, Baltimore, Washington, Los Angeles, San Francisco, St. Louis, etc., and therefore, with such a misleading advertisement, I would question very much the advisability of putting any advertising in your paper in view of your handpicked comparison. C. M. YOUNG.

THE ARTILLERY RANGE.

Sparta, Wis., May 21.—The citizens of Sparta, Wis. owe one of your editorial writers a considerable debt of gratitude for the editorial headed "Mobilize West Point" in your issue of Monday, May 19.

This new use for the fifteen thousand acres of Camp McCoy's hills comes at a timely moment. Training of the National Guard field artillery regiments for Illinois and Iowa has been diverted from Camp McCoy for the summer of 1930 to Camp Grant and Camp Dodge. The state of Minnesota is spending a fabulous amount at Little Falls for a new National Guard concentration camp and in a year or so Minnesota's two regiments of field artillery will no longer have field practice during their two weeks' encampment. The South Dakota regiment of field artillery was ordered to Camp McCoy for the season of 1928, but the authorities in the adjutant general's office at Pierre with the might of the South Dakota representation in congress defied the powers interested and that regiment has never trained outside of the state of South Dakota.

ALLEN J WALSH.

THE GETTYSBURG ADDRESS.

Chicago, May 30.—Listening over the radio today, to the program at Gettysburg, I noticed that the speaker who read Lincoln's famous address said, "testing whether that nation, or any other nation so conceived and so dedicated." I think the insertion of "other" is a mistake. Am I right or wrong? It is not taught that way in our city school. TEACHER.

ENGINEERING FEATS.

Chicago, May 26.—J. E. Bennett inquires for any great engineering feat of Herbert Hoover. I can name two: The first was dodging the Democratic nomination that went to James Cox and the second was landing the Republican nomination of 1928.

Another would be shutting off the blurbs of his press agents from now on.

F. L. SCHREDER.

TENNIS COURT VANDALS.

Chicago, May 28.—After the rain yesterday some girls were so dumb as to go galloping around the tennis courts at 9th street in Grant park, leaving their hoof prints with every step. The ball wouldn't bounce properly, they spoiled their racquets, ruined the courts, and earned my earnest disgust. I can imagine boys doing that, but gave the girls credit for more sense. A GIRL.

CARLOS AND HENRIETTA.

Chicago, May 29.—Would you be so kind as to state just what transpired between Carlos and Henrietta that causes him to have such a great influence over her? This seems to be a mystery to many people, and would appreciate it if you would clear it up.

EXECUTE SLAYER BY LETHAL GAS AT CARSON CITY

Death Comes Apparently Without Pain.

Carson City, Nev., June 2.—(AP)—E. H. (Bob) White, convicted of the murder of Louis Lavell, a fellow gambler at Elko, Nev., in 1928, was executed today in the lethal gas chamber at the Nevada state prison. The chamber was an airtight room nine feet long, eight feet wide, and seven feet high. It was made of stone.

Death came quickly and apparently without pain, although the 200 pound, stockily built man of 40 strained on the straps that bound his hands and legs to the straight backed chair after he had taken two deep breaths of hydrocyanic acid gas.

It was 9½ minutes from the time ten one ounce "eggs" of cyanide of potassium were dropped into a jar containing a quart of sulphuric acid and a gallon of water until White's heart stopped beating, according to Dr. E. E. Hamer, state health officer, who kept a specially built stethoscope on the condemned man throughout the proceedings and recorded the actions of the heart.

Two Women Among Spectators.

Fifty-three spectators, including two women, peered through the windows of the execution chamber.

As he entered the stone chamber, accompanied by Warden Matt Penrose, White smiled at the crowd at the two windows. He aided the guards in adjusting the straps and gave each guard a hearty handshake.

Warden Penrose was the last to leave the cell. He glanced at the jar and then turned to White.

"Good-by, Bob," said the warden, and White, with a broad smile, answered, "Good-by, Matt."

Victim Watches Generator.

As the warden closed the heavy insulated door to the cell, White looked up again at the crowd. He was looking directly at the generator when the string holding the cyanide container was cut on the other side of the wall and the ten pellets dropped into the acid.

As the first cloud of gas arose, White with his head held high, took a deep breath. This was followed by a shorter breath. Then his eyes closed, his head fell back, the muscles of his arms and legs moved and a convulsive movement shook his body. This movement ended after three more breaths and his head dropped forward.

"Most Humane Method."

Warden Penrose declared Nevada's method of inflicting capital punishment "is by far the simplest and most humane method yet devised.

"The prisoner is subject to no torture or violent action of any kind," he said. "Death by gas is quick, sure, and painless."

The expense attached to the execution of White amounted to 90 cents, representing the purchase price of all the materials used.

Florence Murphy Oberta Aids Sister's Court Plea

Mrs. Florence Murphy Oberta, twice widowed by gang bullets, yesterday helped her sister, Mrs. Annie L. Baulsir, win $12 a week temporary alimony in her separate maintenance action against Percy A. Baulsir, a brakeman. The hearing was before Superior Judge Sabath. Several weeks ago the widow of "Big Tim" Murphy and "Dingbat" Oberta and her sister led a raid on Baulsir's apartment.

GEM THEFT SUSPECT IS IDENTIFIED AS WHOLESALE DEALER

New York, June 2.—[Special.]—The "Jack Rosen" arrested with three other men and a woman in the raid on a room at the Hotel Commodore last Monday, in which the police seized $300,000 worth of allegedly stolen jewelry, is really Alexander Friedman, wholesale jeweler of 535 5th avenue, Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney announced today.

Friedman already is under indictment in connection with the theft of $200,000 worth of securities from the offices of Arthur E. Frank & Co. on lower Broadway, last August.

Today the grand jury began hearing evidence against Rosen, or Friedman, and the others captured, who have been held on short affidavits charging them with receiving stolen goods.

Meanwhile, the original owners continued to identify and claim the jewelry on display at police headquarters.

Among the witnesses today before the grand jury was Mrs. Louis W. Herman of this city, who has identified eleven pieces of the jewelry recovered at the Commodore as hers. She was robbed early this year in a Miami, Fla., hotel.

FRENCH DEPUTIES MEET TODAY; OUT TO 'GET' TARDIEU

Premier Faces Attacks on 60 Subjects.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 2.—When the chamber of deputies reconvenes tomorrow, the government will find waiting no less than 60 demands for interpellation, and it is generally felt that the Tardieu government's chances for surviving the summer are slim. Some of the interpellations are serious, such as those concerning the naval treaty, the Indo-China troubles, the oil scandal, and national security.

Others are not only frivolous, but are grotesque. For instance, the deputies and ministers will have to determine whether rugby is a brutal game, and if so what should be done about it. This question comes from a deputy who is reported to have a relative who got a black eye in the recent French-Welsh match.

Other interpellations demand an explanation of the circumstances under which government employés holding equal rank with the dog catcher and postman are fired.

The communists want to know what the government means by sending a representative to the memorial services for Italian anti-Fascists who were shot down as Reds in a street brawl a few years ago.

Practically all events of the last few months, including the row over the American customs informers, will be covered in the interpellations. The Melun bull fight is expected to be brought up shortly.

CAMERON FORBES IS SLATED TO BE ENVOY TO JAPAN

Washington, D. C., June 2.—[Special.]—W. Cameron Forbes, Boston banker and former governor general of the Philippines, has been tentatively selected as the new ambassador to Japan, according to information learned in administration circles today. Mr. Forbes, a close friend of President Hoover, served as chairman of the special commission which recently completed a survey and report on the American administration of affairs in Haiti.

It is understood that President Hoover has sounded out Mr. Forbes on his willingness to take the Tokio post, but has not formally sent his name to Japan for approval.

He will succeed William R. Castle, who resigned as assistant secretary of state to serve as ambassador to Japan during the arms conference.

KIDNAPED MAN TELLS JURY OF HIS EXPERIENCE

Passaic, N. J., June 2.—[Special.]—Willard H. Elliott, former vice president of the Hobart Trust company of Passaic, now defunct, took the stand today in the trial of four men charged with having kidnaped and held him prisoner for a week last summer and told a graphic story of his ordeal.

He identified Joseph Bongiorno, alias "Kid" Steech, one of the four as the driver of the car in which he was spirited away and told of looking up from the floor of the machine and seeing, as it turned a corner, a café which he knew to be owned by Agenalo Lapaduro, another of the defendants. Elliott said that he was confined for a time in a paper bindery near this café. Most of the time however was spent in a lonely shack in the mountains.

Elliott told the police after his release that his captors had represented themselves to be "Chicago gunmen." It developed during his brief recital, cut short by adjournment of court, today that he had brought about the arrest of Bongiorno by pointing him out in a crowd of people at a Garfield, N. J., prize fight.

Why You Should Never Cut a Corn

If you are troubled with corns or callouses, do not run the risk of blood poison by paring them. Statistics show that many deaths have occurred from this seemingly innocent practice of paring corns.

Simply go to your druggist and get a few cents worth of Ice-Mint, rub a little on any painful corn or callous. Immediately the pain will disappear and in a short time the corn or callous will loosen and lift off easily with the fingers—root and all—leaving the surrounding skin in a healthy normal condition.

This, together with the fact that Ice-Mint overcomes such affections as sore, tired, aching, puffed or burning feet and makes them cool, easy and comfortable, is probably responsible for the hearty endorsement given it by druggists.

To rid one's feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes or painful callouses in such a pleasant and safe way, makes it seem the height of folly for anyone to pare a corn and people are warned to stop it.

Jim Smith Eats a Lettuce Salad and "Goes Social"

The event which this page records occurred only a comparatively few years ago. Apparently without warning upon a certain normal week-day evening three things suddenly happened in the life of this man of such epoch-making import as to change the activities of an entire nation.

All three things were climactic in character. The last was a lettuce salad.

First, when Jim Smith came home as usual from his job in the factory his wife met him at the door and said, "The Wallaces are here." (The Wallaces being the next door neighbors.)

Jim said, "What's the matter?" And his wife frowned.

When Jim came into the living room, Wallace was wearing a necktie and a sheepish look, and Mrs. Wallace was actually dressed up.

Jim went batty trying to think it out. When a neighbor was in trouble, he came to your house or you went to his. But he didn't dress up for the occasion. Then Mrs. Smith said, "Put your coat on," and Jim's mind walked out on him, cold.

The next event occurred at the table. The table itself looked so different that Jim started to sit down and stood up again. When he did sit down and reach for his food he didn't get it. Mrs. Smith had deftly taken the platter out from under his hand and was passing it first to Mrs. Wallace, next to Mr. Wallace, and finally to him.

Then something suddenly happened to Jim Smith, something about as beautiful as ever comes into the life of a man. Instead of diving down to get at his food, he looked up and began talking to his neighbor. Timidly at first, as a young girl at her first love affair. But any recording angel would have been proud to have written down those first stumbling sentences. For, while the words were inarticulate, the spirit of Jim Smith was brimming over.

He was a host, and this was his neighbor, and they were eating together, not from any biological necessity, and above all, thank God, not because Wallace was out of a job, nor even because there was a funeral. But right in the middle of the week and for no reason at all, he and Wallace were just sitting down to eat together, and Mrs. Wallace was smiling at him across the table.

The third event, which created an epoch for a nation, really came as an anti-climax for Jim Smith. Mrs. Smith went out and came back with four more plates, each containing—a lettuce salad. That wasn't food at all. Lettuce was usually designated as grass, but by this time he would have eaten his own front lawn if it had been served to him.

For Jim Smith had "gone social" at last.

We have a bully time here at True Story Magazine. We get the first faint whisperings of these social changes. Then we see them rise like a tide and sweep over the land. Then we turn to the great commercial structure and see the significance.

Most of us never stop to realize that there is as much difference between biological and social food as there is between biological and social living.

With biological hunger we don't pass, we grab. With socialized hunger we don't grab, we pass. Biological food is meat and bread and potatoes. Socialized food includes lettuce and celery and asparagus and fruits and desserts. Biological soup, which is not a bad phrase, is meat and bones and vegetables boiled in water. Socialized soup is a mixture of flavors and savors put up in a can.

When we saw this social change in food itself rising, as we have said, like a tide throughout our wage-earning masses, we said to ourselves, it is not possible for this to be reflected in the written records of a people without showing up in the commercial records of a nation. So we turned first to the department of Agriculture. And there it all was, as plain as the nose on your face.

Asparagus: in two states alone, California and New Jersey, sixty thousand acres have been added for the raising of asparagus.

Lettuce: the consumption has increased two hundred and fifty per cent since 1920. In the big urban centers where lettuce can be had the year round the consumption has increased two thousand five hundred per cent.

And then comes Sugar with all that that means. But sugar—surely that is not a social food? No, sugar in the raw is biological. But sugar in candy and ice cream and canned fruits and cakes and desserts is certainly social. America is practically consuming its own weight in sugar every year. 116 pounds for every man, woman, and child. And you can bet your last nickel that the greater part of it comes in social forms.

The government record of increases in your social foods is endless. Almost as endless as the record of all the other social changes that had to follow. For you cannot socialize your food without socializing all the other factors that surround it.

Biologically you can eat out of a bowl or without a bowl, on a bare table or without a table, in a bare room or even without a room. But socially it cannot be done. And when Jim Smith put on his coat and became a host instead of a feeder, when wage-earning America sat down at a dinner table and "went social" the very character of a nation's food was changed as well as the character of the entire setting that went with it.

Why True Story Magazine should be the only publication interested in these tremendous economic and social changes of our wage-earning masses is quite beyond understanding.

Considerably over half of commercial America is now absolutely dependent for its volume of production upon these very changes, and yet we still seem to be the only keeper of these human documents and recorder of the events which they portray.

325 MEN FIGHT WISCONSIN FIRE IN FOREST AREA

Paper Company's Tract Is Threatened.

Butternut, Wis., June 2.—[Special.] —Three hundred and twenty-five men are battling a huge forest fire near here under the direction of Harry Baker, district forest ranger of Park Falls. The fire has burned over more than 15,000 acres of cut over lands since Sunday, and is threatening the reforestation tract of the Nekoosa Edwards Paper company.

Farm Homes Burned.

Duluth, Minn., June 2.—(AP)—The first serious forest fires in northern Minnesota this spring today destroyed three farm homes, threatened scores of others and burned over a territory of several thousand acres. Three of the five major fires reported in the northern part of the state were near Duluth, a fourth is burning near Cramer on the north shore of Lake Superior, while one large fire was reported in the Superior national forest.

Tonight, with the winds diminished, the fires were reported as under control, with large crews of men guarding against spreading of the flames and fresh outbreaks. The fires were said to be the most serious in the Duluth district since 1926.

Fire Hazard Increases.

With high fire hazard forecast by the government weather bureau, state and federal forestry rangers are fearful of fresh fires tomorrow. The fires today followed the warmest weather of the year. The humidity today was reported as exceedingly low.

The fires burning in the Rice lake and Twig townships, both near Duluth, were fanned by a high southwest wind and the flames spread rapidly. Three farm homes in the Rice lake district were destroyed.

At Cramer, 80 miles north of Duluth, on Lake Superior, the flames spread over a territory nearly two miles long and half a mile wide. The state forestry department today ordered 100 men from Duluth to the scene.

The only serious fire in the Superior National forest was at Cascade river, 16 miles northwest of Grand Marais.

Five Die in Ontario.

TORONTO, Ont., June 2.—[Special.] —Fire sweeping through the timberlands of northwestern Ontario tonight had taken a toll of five lives, forced inhabitants to abandon half a dozen villages, and had destroyed millions of dollars' worth of pulp wood and other timber. Two settlers' families were wiped out near the village of Hurkett.

WASHINGTON NOTES

Washington, D. C., June 2.—(AP)—The senate passed and sent to the White House the house bill for settlement of German indebtedness to the United States on account of the American army of occupation and awards of the mixed claims commission.

A proposal to amend the constitution to authorize wartime conscription of private porperty will be studied by a joint committee of congress and the cabinet.

The McNary bill authorizing expenditure of $4,500,000 for each of the next two fiscal years, $4,200,000 for the year 1933 and $4,000,000 annually thereafter for improvement to protect national forests from fire was passed by the senate and sent to the house.

SWEDISH CABINET FALLS ON FARM RELIEF MEASURE

STOCKHOLM, June 2.—(AP)—For the first time since Oct. 1, 1928, Sweden tonight was without a ministry. The Conservative Lindman government resigned today following the defeat in both chambers of the riksdag of its demand for an increase in the tariff on wheat imports as a farm relief measure.

After summoning the presidents of both chambers and leaders of the opposition party, King Gustav asked the Conservative ministry to retain control of affairs during the formation of a new ministry.

The government was headed by Rear Admiral Arvid Lindman, who once before had been premier.

DR. L. C. FRENCH WINS DIVORCE; LONG FIGHT ENDS

Decree Granted Without Contest.

Ten years of legal warfare ended yesterday when Dr. Louis Clark French, prominent north side physician with offices at 4753 Broadway, won a divorce from Mrs. Jane Waters French before Superior Judge Williams. Dr. French charged desertion. Mrs. French did not contest the action.

The doctor and Mrs. French were married Jan. 10, 1908. They have one son, John Waters French, now grown. On May 15, 1917, they agreed to separate. Mrs. French, who was active in women's clubs, refused to comment on the separation.

Seeks Separate Maintenance.

Three years later she sued for separate maintenance, naming Mrs. Alice Lily Burns as co-respondent. Six months earlier Mrs. French engaged in a fistic encounter with Mrs. Burns at Broadway and Wilson avenue. The altercation began when Mrs. French accused the other woman of being a love pirate and struck her. Mrs. Burns warded off further blows by opening an umbrella and fleeing.

Dr. French replied with a cross bill for divorce, charging cruelty. The trial lasted one week. Dr. French declared that his attentions to Mrs. Burns were purely professional, while his wife maintained that his cross bill was brought merely to offset her charge.

On June 25, 1920, Mrs. French was granted a decree of separate maintenance. She was awarded custody of the son and $200 a month alimony. Dr. French appealed the decision to the Appellate court. The Appellate court ruled against him.

Will Continue Payments.

The doctor carried the case to the Supreme court. He insisted that his wife was not entitled to separate maintenance because she had left him voluntarily. The physician won in the Supreme court. Dr. French continued to pay the alimony.

Two weeks ago he filed a bill for divorce on charges of desertion through the law firm of Socrates & Davis. Mrs. French entered an appearance, but offered no contest. The doctor told the judge that he will continue to make the monthly payments.

You Can Save 20%
on Your Automobile Insurance

Automobile insurance is one of the benefits available to members of the Chicago Motor Club. Every year this department returns a cash saving to subscribers.

Last year this return amounted to $711,332.11. Many members save enough to pay their annual tire bills. The Inter-Insurance Exchange always has returned 20% of the amount paid the "exchange" for insurance coverage.

In addition to the cash saving to subscribers, other features will appeal to you. For example, most insurance policies exclude coverage on tires and accessories; yet it is far more likely that a thief will steal your spare tire than that your car will be stolen. The "exchange" does cover accessories and at no additional cost.

The "valued form" policy is still another feature that accounts for the growth of the "exchange." In the event of total loss, you are paid the face value of your policy, the amount upon which you have paid insurance.

The "exchange" settles claims quickly and satisfactorily. Claims are not referred to a distant "higher up." Home office service, and other features explain why insurance sales in 1929 amounted to approximately four million dollars.

Civic work, such as good roads work, road widening, fighting speed traps, and working for sane laws and ordinances, are among the other general services.

A few of the services available to members are:

Free mechanical first aid and towing service at any hour of the day or night.

Travel service, which provides you with maps, logs and the most complete and up to the minute advice on road conditions.

Bail bond service, which guarantees your appearance in traffic violation cases, where a bond not in excess of $100 is demanded.

Accident prevention work, which seeks to cut accidents, especially among school children, by means of safety posters and by fostering school boy patrols.

Home district service, which attends to special conditions around your home, such as seeing to it that refuse is promptly removed.

These are a few of the many money-saving services. Write or call for further information. There is a branch in your neighborhood.

ELECTROLUX works without noise
because it has no "works"

If you could get an alarm clock that ran without ticking, or a vacuum cleaner that worked without whirring, you'd think it was quite wonderful.

Well, Electrolux is just as unusual as that. It makes ice cubes automatically, makes steady endless cold—but doesn't make a sound. It can't make a sound, because there's nothing to make sound—not a particle of machinery, not a single moving part, to this marvelous refrigerator.

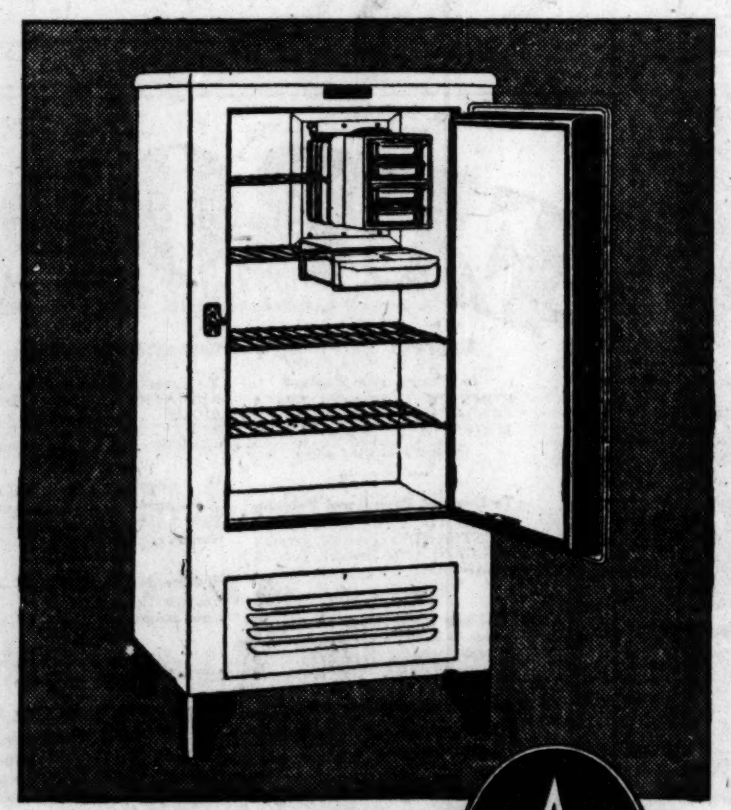
A tiny gas flame and a tiny flow of water do all the work. They circulate the cold-producing liquid refrigerant that freezes your ice cubes and keeps your food safe.

The cold is constant, too. The temperature hardly varies at all from the ideal point. That's because Electrolux works silently all the time, instead of stopping and starting every now and then.

The silence alone is enough to make you want Electrolux. But that isn't all. This refrigerator costs less to use than any other—less, even, than ice. Only a few pennies a day covers the average operating cost of all models from the moderately sized to the very largest. If perfect automatic refrigeration has seemed like something you'd like to have, but that costs too much, you needn't do without it another day. Electrolux can save you enough on ice bills to pay for itself within a very few years.

QUICK FACTS!

1. Permanently noiseless.
2. Absolutely safe.
3. Only a few cents a day to operate.
4. Lasts indefinitely.
5. No mechanism to wear, to vibrate, to need oil.
6. Free from trouble.
7. Perpetual, steady cold.
8. Plenty of pure ice cubes.
9. Tested and endorsed by national authorities.



The Kitchenette Model Electrolux 5.45 sq. feet of shelf space; makes 36 large ice cubes.

A tiny gas flame takes the place of all moving parts.

This refrigerator is absolutely safe. The refrigerant is welded for life inside a seamless one-piece steel unit. Even the tiny gas flame is guarded by an automatic shut-off. No gas can flow unless the flame is lighted.

With all its advantages, Electrolux costs no more to buy than other automatic refrigerators, size for size. Prices are $195 to $430 F. O. B. Evansville. Liberal purchase terms. Many models to choose from. Mail coupon for complete information.

KING REWARDS QUAKER CITY GIRL FOR INDIA SERVICE

British Aviatrix Named in Birthday Honors.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 2.—The honors list issued tonight in celebration of King George's sixty-fifth birthday tomorrow includes three baronies, two of which will go to swell the slender ranks of Labor peers in the house of lords. The two Labor men singled out for this distinction are Noel Buxton, minister of agriculture, whose elevation will cause another by-election, and Henry Sanderson Furniss, former principal of Ruskin college, Oxford. The third barony goes to Sir Esme Howard, career diplomat, widely known in the United States as British ambassador at Washington, a post he held for six years.

Many women are included in the honors list, but the nomination most likely to arouse interest in England will be the award of Commander of the British Empire to Miss Amy Johnson, the 22 year old aviatrix who recently made a solo flight from London to Australia. A similar distinction was conferred upon Mrs. Burnett Smith, who is known as a novelist under the name of Annie S. Swan.

Honors American Woman.

Standing out among the political decorations is the award of Knight Grand Cross of the Star of India to Sir John Simon, chairman of the commission on India which bears his name. A similar distinction is given Field Marshal Sir Claude Jacob, former commander-in-chief in India. An American woman is also among those honored for meritorious work in India. Miss Alice Lucretia Ernst, doctor of medicine, of Philadelphia, is awarded the Kaisar-i-Hind medal of the first class. She was head of the Ackerman Hoyt hospital at Jhansi, in the united provinces.

The Kaisar-i-Hind medal is an oval shaped gold badge with the royal cipher on one side and on the reverse the words "Kaisar-i-Hind—for Public Service in India." It is worn on the left breast hung by a dark blue ribbon.

Mines Minister Resigns.

Many prominent Laborites are included in the honors list. Ben Turner, minister of mines, whose resignation is announced tonight; Harry Snell, Labor member of parliament, and William Straker, general secretary of the Northumberland miners, were all made commanders of the British Empire.

Stanley Eddington, professor of astronomy at Cambridge university, was given a knighthood, and Frederick Henry Royce, automobile manufacturer, is one of the three new baronets.

Owing to the king's recent attack of rheumatism, which prevents his sitting on horseback for many hours, he will not be present at the "trooping of the color," the military ceremony always held on his birthday. His place will be taken by his uncle, the 80 year old duke of Connaught.

KILLED BY SWITCH ENGINE.

Struck by a switch engine on the tracks of the Indiana Harbor Belt Line railroad yesterday at 57th and Knox avenue, Antonio Resendez, 52, a Mexican laborer of 5222 South Millard avenue, was instantly killed.

According to reports today from Hankow, the Kwangsites and Ironsides are now attacking Changsha, the capital of Hunan, which is being defended by loyal Nanking troops under Gen. Ho Chen.

TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENTS

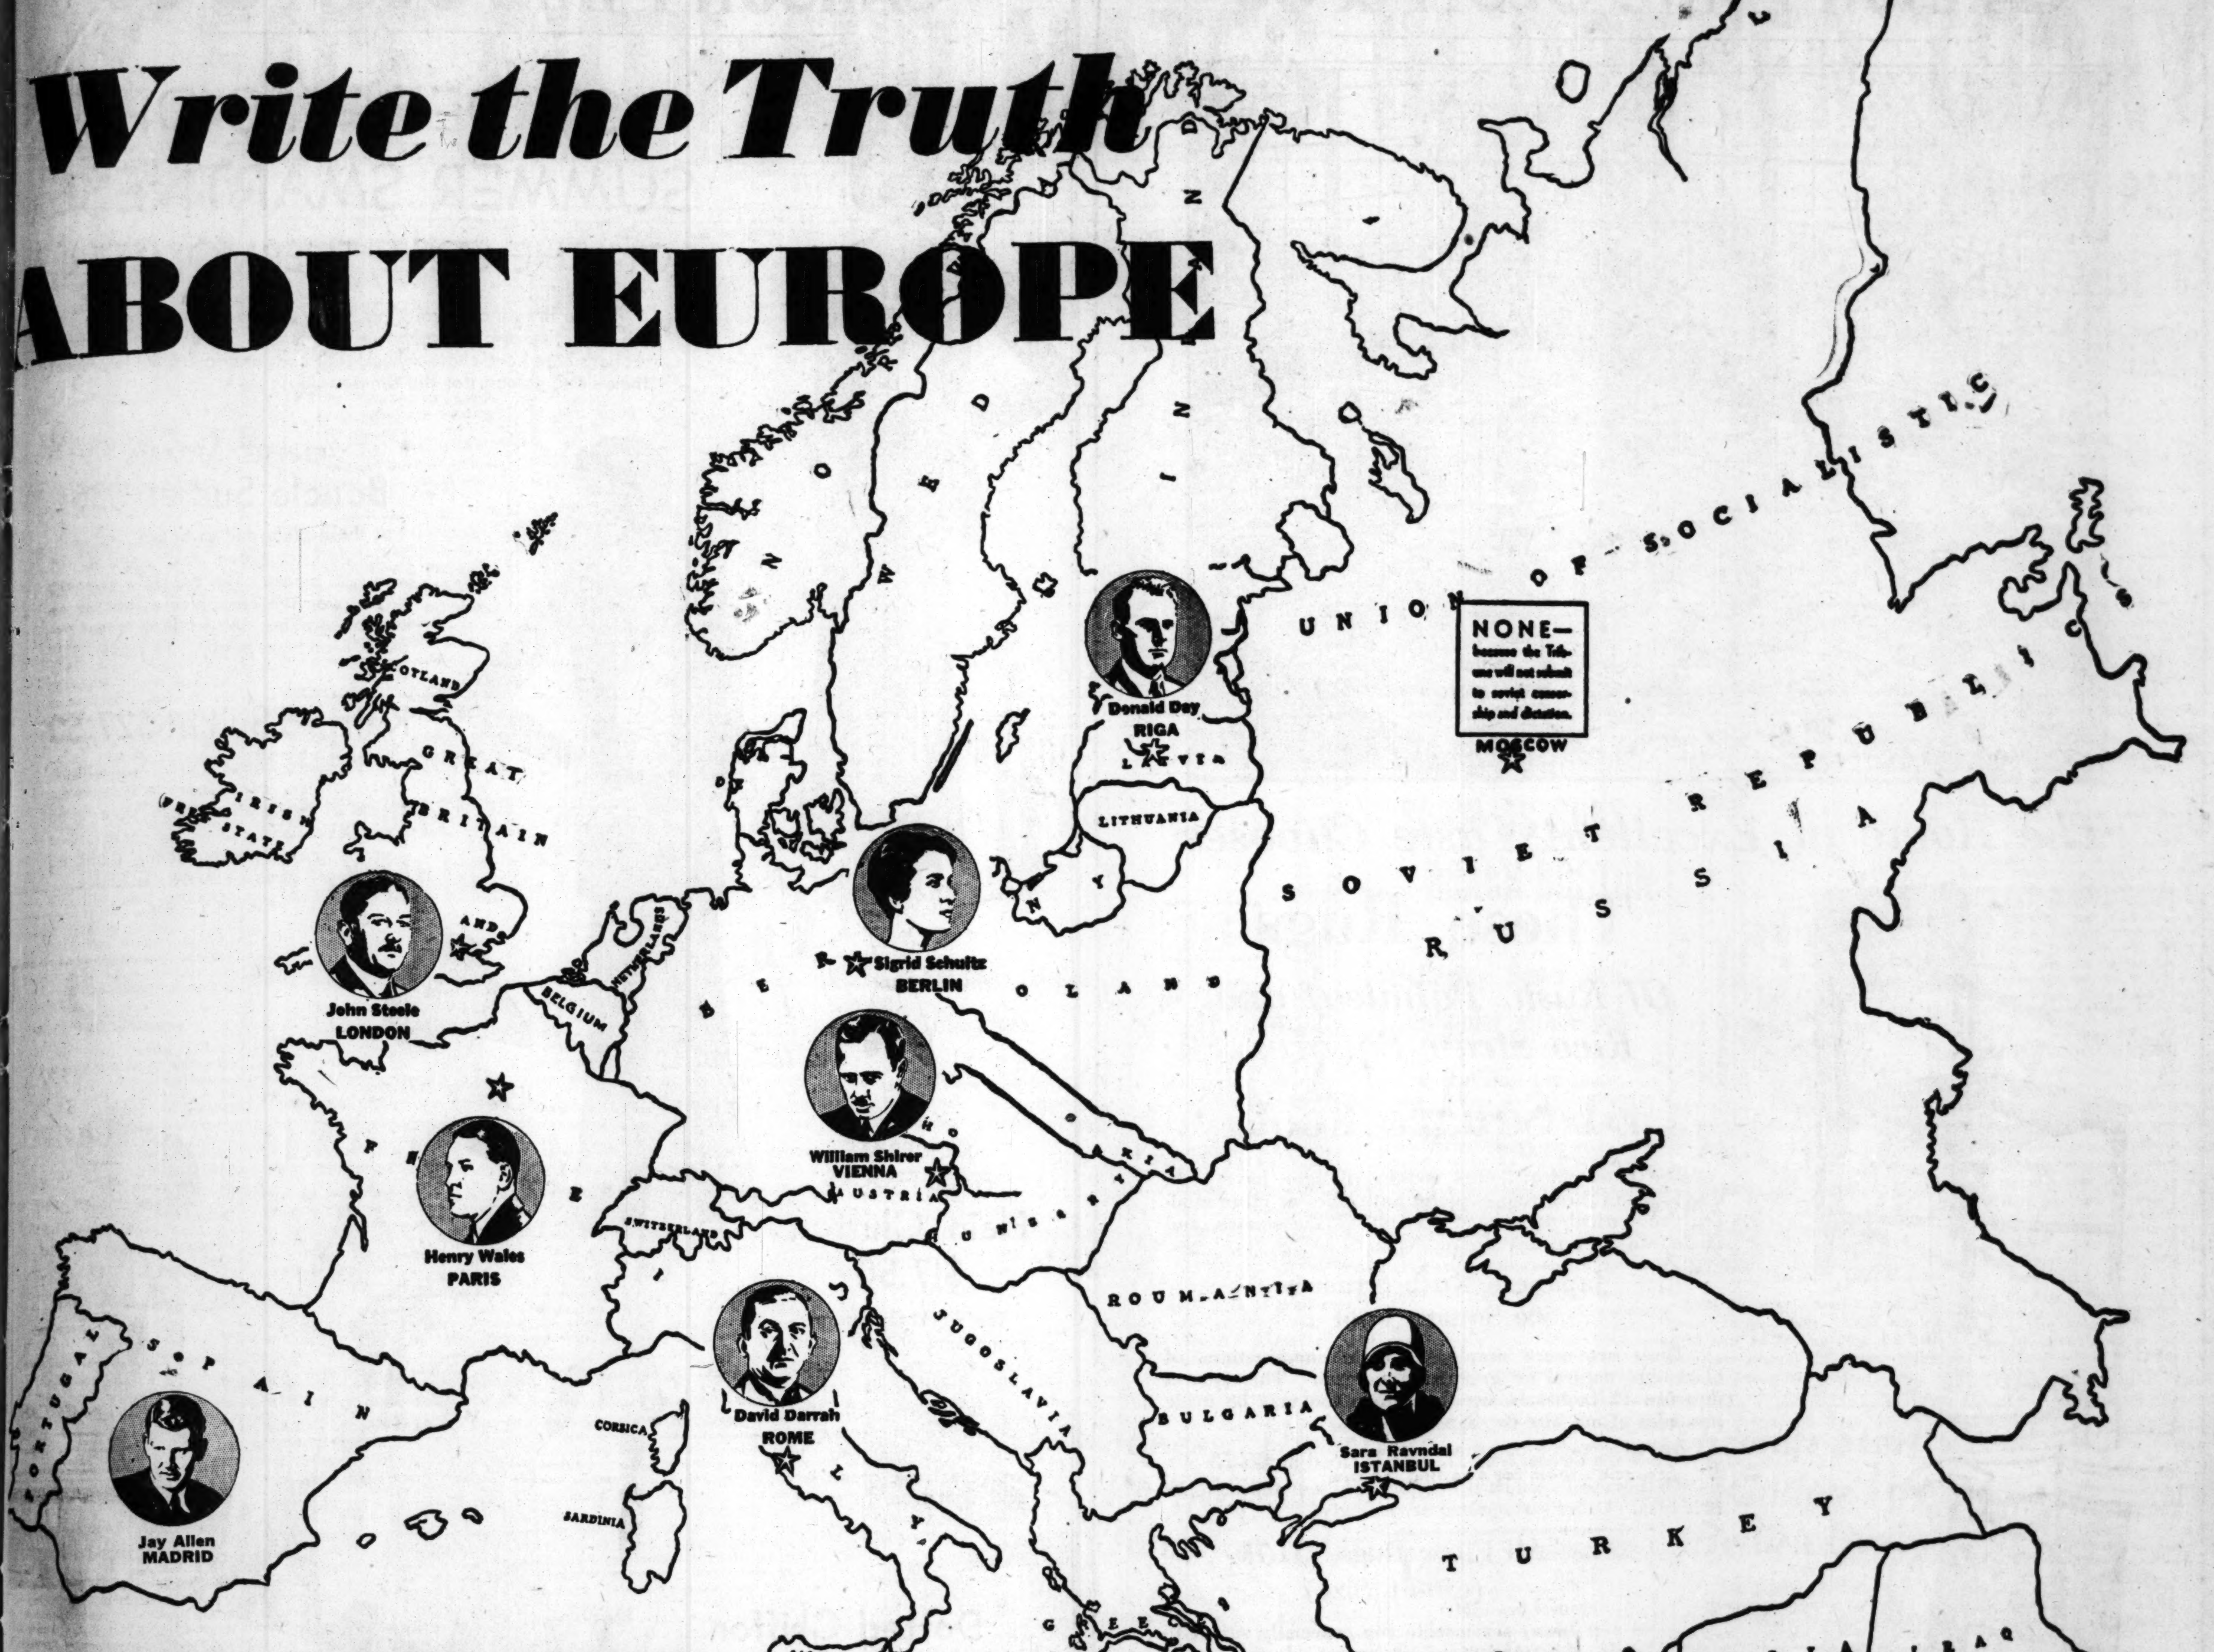
ABOUT EUROPE



Europe today is vitally concerned over American opinion. Pacts, reparations, loans, settlements—a host of weighty matters hinge upon favorable public sentiment in the United States. A continuous stream of propaganda and agents pours into America intent on securing, by any means, popular good will. Foreign powers maintain news bureaus, coerce and intimidate reporters and publications, color and suppress news—all to further aims inimical to American independence.

Now that Europe is using every influence to bend America to her will, Chicago Tribune correspondents are ceaselessly vigilant in their search for facts. Resisting all pressure, rejecting spurious reports, they patrol the centers of news. They get the truth, and report it from the American, not the foreign, viewpoint.

No other newspaper in the world so faithfully serves the interests of its readers. Defying the pressure brought by foreign governments penetrating the miasma of deception and suppression, Tribune correspondents provide for Tribune readers the most accurate, truthful news service in the world. To get the truth about Europe and the sinister, subversive forces at work in America, read the Tribune daily.

SOX FACE RUTH AND MATES IN OPENER TODAY

SHARKEY TRAINS WHERE RIP VAN WINKLE SLEPT

But Drives to N. Y. for Amusement.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Orangeburg, N. Y., June 2.—This is the place where Jack Sharkey, the leering Lithuanian, is performing his part in the ballyhoo for his prize fight with Max Schmeling, to be held in the Yankee stadium, New York, on the night of June 12. The New York boxing commission has decided that this prize fight will decide the heavyweight championship of the world and that the name of the winner will be written upon the so-called Tunney-Muldoon trophy, a sculptural white elephant, which stands in odd corners of the lobby of the new Garden, down in New York.

The so-called Tunney-Muldoon trophy is a bronze figure of a prize fighter leading with his chin. Tunney donated the price of the monument partly to humor an old man, William Muldoon, who liked him very much and who flattered him because he did not smoke cigarettes or frequent low joints at night. Mr. Muldoon is quite old and of the venerable sort and Mr. Tunney wished to make him feel that he had been a significant figure in a great happening.

Mr. Sharkey Is Restless.

Mr. Sharkey, the leering Lithuanian, is not here present at this writing. He is restless, like his predecessor, Jack Dempsey, and, having no recourse to books or the comforts of contemplation or study, has gone to New York to see a show. Now, when Tunney was heavyweight champion and people and the routine of training for the ballyhoo bored him, he would open a book and douse himself with refreshing ideas or expressions. But Dempsey and Sharkey, both, are of the kind who must play rummy or pinochle or play mushball or twist their sparring partners' wrists or scatter sneezing-powders or attend lively goings-on for relief from the tedium of training.

Jack Will Work Today.

So Sharkey has gone to New York today, breaking training for 24 hours, and will not resume work until tomorrow. He went away in a new 16 cylinder automobile, with his trainers, Al Lacey and Tony Polozzola, and his manager, Johnny Buckley. He took the wheel himself to feel the sensation of speed and control on the quick run to Hudson Ferry, about ten minutes down the road.

In his training quarters, he is a peculiar bully. He likes to assert his command by cuffing Polozzola and Buckley with his big, raw hands, and roaring at them in a half-serious, half-indulgent way. They kow-tow to him and humor him because their living depends on his favor. They may feel in their hearts that he is a four-flusher, but men always have laughed at their bosses' pleasantries. It seems little enough to do for the amount of money that Sharkey's yes-men, especially Buckley, will get out of him if he should happen to win the so-called heavyweight championship of the world and merit the inscription of his adopted name upon the shaft of the so-called Tunney-Muldoon monument.

"Just a big kid, always playing tricks," Mr. Buckley says, gentling his sore ribs where Sharkey, with a cold glare in his gray-blue eyes, has fetched him a condescending smash with his right. "Full of life and spirits. A born fighter."

Mr. Lacey Is Reserved.

Mr. Lacey, who trained two American Olympic teams, including the team of 1924, the greatest of all American Olympic teams, from which Fidel La Barba and Jackie Fields were presently graduated to professional world championships, is a little more reserved and respected. He seems not to impose and is not imposed upon.

This camp is a familiar combination of the old fashioned rural roadhouse and the prizefighter's training resort. Gus Wilson runs the place. He is an Alsatian Frenchman who showed up in these parts in 1920 at Georges Carpentier's place at Manhasset, L. I., and did an admirable job of keeping his mouth shut when Francois Descamps, Tex Rickard and Georges himself were doing what they could to create an illusion of mystery and sinister power for a heavy middleweight who was matched to fight the greatest heavyweight prizefighter of modern times and perhaps of all time.

In those days, Gus would lean on the upper strand of the wire fence at Carpentier's place at Manhasset during Georges' off hours, wag his head slowly, smile a smile that was intended to be inscrutable and puzzling and say: "Nobody can come in now; Georges is having secret practice with his new mystery punch."

Gus Well Regarded Now.

In the end it developed that Georges did not know any punches beyond the orthodox routine. The only punch he landed on Dempsey was a straight right hand, a sucker punch, delivered without even a preparatory left jab. But Gus had only done as he had been told to do, and nobody had been deceived, so nobody was annoyed, and nowadays he is well regarded in the prize fight business.

His place is a large white clapboard house of the familiar New England type, set in a green valley about a mile west of the Hudson river and in

SENTMAN HOPES FOR 'DOUBLE' AT NATIONAL MEET

Illinois Hurdler Faces a Fast Field.

Trojans Arrive Today

MONTREAL, June 2.—[Special.]—University of Southern California track team, intercollegiate champion, left Montreal this afternoon for Chicago. The squad is in charge of Coach Dean Cromwell and will arrive at Dearborn street station, 8:15 o'clock standard time tomorrow morning.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Lee Sentman of Illinois hopes to win both hurdle races Saturday in the ninth annual national collegiate track and field meet at Stagg field. If he does, his 20 points will make the Illini a contender for the championship. Illinois finished third last year.

However, Sentman faces a field of hurdlers whose skill and speed will provide two of the most interesting events in the 15 that will be contested in the two day competition. Defeating this field will require perfectly run races.

Dick Rockaway of Ohio State, defending champion in the high hurdles, will race again Saturday. Last year Rockaway covered the 120 yards in 14.7 seconds with Sentman a close second. But Rockaway couldn't take both races and he finished second in the 220 yard low hurdles to Stephen Anderson of Washington. Since Anderson's winning time was 23.5 seconds, compared with Rockaway's world mark of 22.8 seconds, it's apparent the double burden was too much for the Ohio State star.

Hager Is Threat.

Rockaway's national collegiate record in the low hurdles was not recognized by the international federation because he used starting blocks. Charley Brookins, former Iowa hurdler, holds the accepted world mark of 23 seconds.

Sentman won both hurdle events in the Big Ten meet at Northwestern. His time for the lows were 23.3 seconds, which apparently is fast enough to win the national collegiate title. However, in the high hurdles, his specialty, he was timed in 14.9 seconds. This isn't his best this season, for he won at the Kansas relays in 14.6 seconds, just one fifth of a second slower than the world record held by Thompson of Dartmouth.

Robert Hager of Iowa State has done even better in the high hurdles this year. He won the Big Six meet in 14.5 seconds. Edward Welsh of the University of Southern California has been timed in 14.9 seconds. He ran second to Eugene Record of Harvard, the intercollegiate winner. Record's time was 14.8.

Illini Look to Rodgers.

Of course James Hatfield of Indiana and Rockaway, who finished second and third in the conference meet, are respected opponents for Sentman. George Saling of Iowa, fourth in the Big Ten meet, has a mark of 14.7 seconds. He ran second to Sentman in the Kansas relays in April before a leg infection forced him from competition at Drake. With two additional weeks of preparation since the Big Ten meet, Saling may surprise Sentman and Hager. Edward Gordon, Iowa's Negro broad jumper, also is a hurdler of ability.

Hatfield is equally as good. He was timed at 15.1 seconds when he won in the Indiana state meet. John O'Brien of Notre Dame also has run the 120 yard hurdles in 15.1 in a dual meet with Michigan State college.

Bob Rodgers of Illinois finished fourth last year in the Stagg meet. Illinois expects him to help Sentman pile up the points for a national title Saturday.

Gorman Floors Packo Nine Times to Earn Decision

Newark, N. J., June 2.—(AP)—Bud Gorman of Summit, N. J., won the decision over Joe Packo of Toledo, O., in a ten round bout tonight. Packo was knocked down nine times. Gorman weighed 196 pounds, Packo 184.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

TRACK AND FIELD TITLE.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA displaced Stanford, previous winner for three successive years, in the eastern collegiate track and field games Saturday. Pacific coast teams, facing the handicap of the long overland trip, have won this event so regularly for the last decade that it is necessary to concede their supremacy. Let us cast about then for a reason or reasons.

Southern California and California have larger student bodies available for athletics than Harvard, Yale, Cornell, and Columbia which furnished the most formidable eastern opposition. The great middlewest state universities did not enter full teams. This numerical superiority, however, does not apply to Stanford with a restricted student body. So we must dismiss that reason, in part at least.

It once was popular to say the coast teams won in the field events because of greater opportunities for outdoor work on account of their climate. "They grow 'em big" out there. That was true of Stanford, which gained 25¼ of its 36¼ points in the field. It was not true of Southern California, which counted 24 points in track events and 20¼ points in field events. So that argument goes into the discard.

That leaves us up to distribution of athletic material. Stanford, Southern California and California are the "Big Three" of the coast. There really is a "Big Four" which includes Washington when it comes to football and boating. These institutions, between which there is keen rivalry and active recruiting, therefore draw the pick of the Pacific coast prep prospects.

In the east and middlewest there are many more colleges hoping for desirable prep athletes. So these athletes are more widely distributed. That probably is nearest to a real reason for continued Pacific coast victories in the eastern intercolegiates. If it is not the reason, it will do as well as any other.

Backgammon.

Backgammon, modernized from that we played as children on diagrams on the reverse side of our checker boards, is raging at the Racquet club, C. A. A. and other local social clubs. This modern game, we are told, bears about the same resemblance to the old game that contract does to duplicate whist.

Rather reluctantly, for we are a bit slow above the shoulders on new games, we were induced to try out our new board of elaborate equipment Sunday evening. Having a bunch of Wake mail to answer we stipulated only two games. Three hours later the little Wake opposing us was sleepy and ready to go to bed, while our letters were still unanswered.

Experts have promised to give us instruction in the fine points in the near future. Our "follow through" at present seems too tense. This game looks simple, but there is opportunity for skill in maneuvering by study of mathematical chances on different throws of the dice. There's a lure, too, even without this expert knowledge.

This Wake Is Conducted by

Tilden and Davis Cup.

Since Tilden defeated Borotra, the French tennis public is asking the presence of Big Bill on the American Davis cup team. This was forecast in The Wake several days ago in discussion of Yankee chances if Tilden played. Instead of being a setup for France, the Davis cup matches this summer now look like a real contest. Of course, we admit Le Coste's absence from the French defending squad causes this change in prospects.

CHICAGO PRO GOLF TEAM DEFEATS DETROIT, 9½-8½

Meehan Squares Match on 18th Hole.

Detroit, Mich., June 2.—[Special.]—Chicago pro golfers won the first of a series of Professional Golfers' association team matches today from Detroit, 9½ to 8½. Jimmy Beaupre of Plum Hill had an opportunity to tie the score for Detroit in the last match of the day, but halved it with Jimmy Meehan of Chicago. Beaupre trapped his second shot on the 18th and took a five to hole out. Meehan was down in par 4 to square the match.

Split Foursome Matches.

Each team won three matches in the morning foursomes, but Chicago took six and tied one while Beaupre's halved match with Meehan forced Detroit to accept 5 victories and a tie.

Al Espinosa, runnerup to Bobby Jones in last year's national open meet, defeated Tommy Armour, western open champion, 2 up, while Frank Walsh gave Chicago another point by defeating Clarence Gamber, 3 and 2.

Harry Cooper of Chicago was turned back by Al Watrous of Oakland Hills, while Arthur Ham defeated Frank Johnson, 5 and 3. The other Detroit victory was scored by Benny Pautke over F. Bernardi, 3 and 2.

In the foursomes Capt. Carberry and Frank Johnson of Chicago gained an even break by winning from Guest and Devaney, 2 and 1. Frank Walsh and Sammy Bernard showed the best performance of the day in their defeat of Koscis and Watrous, 4 and 3. They played fifteen holes in 2 under par.

Gayer and Paulson Win.

Four hard hitters came together in the match between Gayer and Paulson of Chicago and Gamber and Beaupre of Detroit, the visitors winning, 2 and 1. Trovinger and Ham, Detroit, scored a 1 up victory over Weber and Meehan, while Hilgendorf and Pautke of Detroit had the largest margin of the morning in defeating Harry Hampton and Jim Wilson, 5 and 4.

DEBUT OF ROYAL, ANCIENT

BY HOWARD BARRY.

On the title page of a little book issued by the U. S. G. A. there appears the inscription, "Rules of the Game of Golf, as Approved by the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews and as Amended by the United States Golf Association." Those adjectives, "royal and ancient," catch the eye.

The game of golf was ancient before it was royal, and the story of its beginning is found in legends rather than in newspaper articles. The medieval Dutchmen played it and painted it, but they did not write about it. In the early fifteenth century a resident of Bruges made a sketch of three men upon the putting green, making the same attempt that 100,000 Chicagoans made last Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

Not Royal in 1491.

It is not known definitely when the Scotch took up the game, but it is certain that in 1491 it had not yet become royal, for in that year King James V. issued an edict that "in na place of the realme there be usit fute ball, golfe, or uther sic unprofitabill sportis."

Then something happened which may never be known to historians, but which some golfers may be able to understand. After this sweeping condemnation of the game we find entries in the records of the lord high treasurer of Scotland which show that the king himself succumbed to the spell and indulged in the "unprofitbill sport." The treasurer does not make clear just how unprofitbill he found it.

Adjective Supplied in 1834.

But from that day the game which already was ancient carried the second adjective royal. So when in 1834 King William IV. became patron of the club, which was the most famous seat of the game, he conferred on it the title, "The Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews."

WHO WILL—

Babe Ruth, with 16 home runs, is keeping pace with his 1927 stride when he knocked 60 for a major league record. Will this year be a bell ringer?

Jones, 3 Under Par, Wins with Johnston, 1 Up

ST. GERMAIN, France, June 2.—(AP)—Golf courses in the United States, Great Britain, and France all look alike to Bobby Jones. In his first appearance in France today the open champion of the United States and amateur champion of Great Britain cut three strokes from par and was on the winning side in a best ball match.

With Harrison R. Johnston, amateur champion of the United States, as his partner, Jones defeated Andre Vagliano, amateur champion of France, and Marcel Dellemagne, winner last week of the French professional championship, 1 up, in an 18 hole match.

Both Jones and Dellemagne, playing on his own course, bettered par, the professional returning a score of 72. Par for the course is 73.

Hits Stride on Last Nine.

Bobby did not win a hole on the first nine and the Americans were down at the turn. Johnston had won the second hole and Dellemagne took the sixth and ninth, with the others halved.

Starting home, Jones went to work, winning the 11th with an eagle two, the 14th with par four, and the 17th with par three. Meanwhile Dellemagne had won the 15th, with the others halved.

The Americans came to the home hole 1 up and a half at the last decided the match. They played in a light rain during the first nine holes and a down pour in the second half.

Attracts Large Crowd.

Jones' driving was not affected by the rain, but it seemed to bother him on the greens. Although he failed to break the course record, the Atlanta lawyer, on his single appearance in France, shattered at least one record for the size of a gallery. He attracted more than 1,000 spectators in spite of the miserable weather conditions.

Johnston equaled par with 73, while Vagliano had a card of 75. Jones' card:

SIMMONS, DYKES ON SICK LIST AS A'S GO ON TOUR

Philadelphia, Pa., June 2.—(AP)—Al Simmons, leading hitter of the world's champion Athletics, who was left at home when the A's started on their western trip, is in the Graduate hospital of the University of Pennsylvania "resting up," he says.

Simmons ruptured a blood vessel near the right knee cap in sliding into third base on Memorial day.

Jimmy Dykes, Athletics' third baseman, also was left at home with injuries.

TRADE WINDS BLOW AS CUBS REACH BOSTON

McCarthy Stays Behind to Confer with Veeck.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Boston, Mass., June 2.—Trade winds were blowing when the Cubs stepped on eastern soil this evening for the first time in the 1930 campaign. Nothing is known officially and it is possible that, officially, nothing has been done, but the trade winds are blowing just the same. Rumor is enough to start them and it was rumor that caused considerable speculation among the boys during their 25 hour ride.

The athletes now wearing Chicago uniforms feel pretty certain that the club is not going to sit back and suffer for the lack of another seasoned pitcher and an infielder who might be of assistance until such time as Hornsby returns. The men have no objections to receiving help, but the rub comes in the fact that if help arrives, it will mean somebody will have to go to a team with less chance than the Cubs of being in the series money.

Manager McCarthy, not being with the team on its ride east, couldn't be questioned. When the squad left Chicago last night he was still closeted with President William Veeck.

Throngs Start to Gather for British Derby

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 2.—Great Britain's Derby, now known in the United States as "darby" through the pronunciation by Lord Derby himself, will be run at Epsom Downs Wednesday with a field of 19 starters.

Adding interest to the great futurity are the various sweepstakes in which the holders of the lucky numbers will receive large sums of money. Because of the government's attempts to curtail this form of betting, the amounts pooled even in the most famous sweepstakes are decreasing.

Calcutta Sweep Decreases.

The Calcutta Club sweep, in which there was more than $5,000,000 last year, has fallen $500,000 short of that figure. Holders of the three tickets on the winning horse stand to win $400,000 for a chance costing approximately four dollars. There are many prizes of lesser amounts.

Two American owned horses are among the survivors of more than 300 nominations which were made when the colts were foaled three years ago. The Scout II., a brother of Gallant Fox, winner of the Kentucky Derby, is the better of the two American nominations, but he is an outsider. Owners of the Scout II. are Marshall Field, William Woodward, Arthur Hancock, and Robert Fairburn, who paid $12,000 for him.

Parthenon Other U. S. Horse.

Parthenon, the other American horse, was entered by A. K. Macomber, whose stable is in France.

Diolite, owned by Sir Hugo Hirst, is the heaviest favorite in years. Lord Derby's only entry, Caerleon, was scratched this morning.

Steve Donoghue, winner of six Derbies, will ride Sea Rover.

The race will open the Epsom Downs meeting and King George will attend. Hundreds of thousands will jam the countryside. Caravans of gypsies have taken up stations on the course and pitched their fortune telling tents. The vicinity is overrun with tipsters ready for business.

The event is a great holiday and roads and trains will be blocked for hours before and after the race.

A'S ARE VICTORS OVER PIRATES IN EXHIBITION TILT

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 2.—(AP)—The world champion Philadelphia Athletics hit Percy Jones hard in an exhibition game with the Pirates today and the A's won, 8 to 2. Both teams used several rookies. Max Carey, former Pirate player and now a coach, played center field, his old position. About 3,000 saw the contest. Score:

Philadelphia	500	002	010—8	14	0

Batteries—Shores and Perkins; Jones and Bool.

COMISKEY PARK CHALLENGE TO YANK SLUGGERS

Lyons Seeks 9th Win of Season.

Scoring Record

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 2.—(AP)—What is believed to be a record for high scoring in modern league baseball was established here today when Springfield, O., defeated Fort Wayne in a Central league game, 38 to 18.

The total of 38 runs excels by 10 the previous record of 28 for one team, made by St. Louis Nationals against Philadelphia last year, and the two team total of 56 compares with 49 rung up in 1922 when the Chicago Nationals defeated Philadelphia, 26 to 23.

Springfield batters made 11 of the 14 home runs scored in the game. Their 33 hits also included five doubles. Outfielder Reider finished pitching for Fort Wayne after three regular hurlers had been batted from the hill. Score:

Springfield	903	568	20[10]—38	33	7

Batteries—Wright, Minogue and Trout; Marleau, Sellinger, Dachman, Reider and Kies.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The Big Bambino and a supporting cast which includes many new faces are in town this morning to entertain at Comiskey park with four games of baseball, the first of which will be presented this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

It is the first 1930 western appearance of the New York Yankees in the championship season. The troupe has been attracting even bigger crowds in the east than it did when it was looked upon as a perpetual pennant winner.

Babe Packs 'Em In.

Ruth, the boys in the counting room keep gurgling, is a bigger attraction than ever. His rampage of ten days ago, when he broke many of his home run records, has established the fact that the big boy is still the greatest attraction in baseball. They loudly cheer as they listen to the music of the turnstiles.

Much as the Sox management would like to swell the gate with thousands of Ruth fans, they are not in a position to guarantee that the Babe will go on another hitting rampage while in our beautiful city, at least not this afternoon.

Ted Lyons will go after his ninth victory in the opener and he long has been known as a tamer of Mr. Ruth, even in the years when Ted wasn't pitching with such spectacular skill as he's been showing this season. Ted has faced the Yankees once this year and beat them, 10 to 1.

Tied with Hack.

This morning Ruth is in a tie with our own Hack Wilson for the home run leadership of the major leagues, with a total of 16. Lou Gehrig, the other New York home run fellow, has eleven. Most of these have been made over the funny little right field walls in New York and Philadelphia, scarcely a test of the power of two such vigorous batting gentlemen. They always look upon Comiskey park as a challenge to their real ability.

After the Yankees go away business will keep up even bigger and better, according to south side expectations, for the world champion Athletics will come to town Saturday, also for a four game series.

The last two visits the A's made to Chicago last season the Sox rose out of their low estate and knocked down the men of Mack for six out of eight games.

The teams have played but two games this year, one a victory for the A's and the other a 6 to 6 tie.

Columbia Closes Home Ball Season; Beats Penn

New York, June 2.—(AP)—Columbia today closed its home baseball season before a commencement day crowd of 2,000 with a 10 inning victory over Pennsylvania, 4 to 3, in an eastern intercollegiate league game. The defeat also put Pennsylvania out of the running for the league championship and apparently clinched the flag for Dartmouth, although Yale still has a chance to tie for top honors.

AMERICAN DAVIS CUP TEAM FAVORS DRAFTING TILDEN

Yanks Sail for Europe Tonight.

New York, June 2.—(AP)—The move to draft Big Bill Tilden for Davis cup service gained momentum today as a picked squad of America's younger players gathered here to sail tomorrow night for the International racquet wars abroad.

"I certainly hope Tilden will play," declared George Lott, the blonde young all-around athlete from Chicago who is making his third trip to Europe as a Davis cup player and ranks as the veteran of the present team.

Lott Praises Tilden.

"Bill went over to Australia and brought the cup back in 1920 and he's been in every challenge round since. He's still the No. 1 ranking player of this country and he has been playing well over there in Europe."

Highly optimistic of regaining the cup, Lott believes America's big chance lies in beating Borotra twice and repeating last year's victory in the doubles.

"Of course we have got to win the doubles," he said. "Then an even break in singles would give us the cup."

"Van Ryn and Allison I consider the best doubles team in the country and probably the best in the world. They are better than Doeg and myself, although we won the national championship last year when they were in a slump after their victories abroad.

Rates Cochet Unbeatable.

In singles Lott thinks Cochet is virtually unbeatable and should be at the peak of his game by the time the challenge round is played. He has the greatest of confidence in Tilden's ability to beat Borotra and believes he himself, if he gets the call, will have a much better chance of achieving this than last year, when he gave the Basque an even fight for two sets.

"I think we are going to win this time," he said quietly, "I just have a feeling, somehow."

It is an optimistic septet, this young squad drawn from all parts of the country—Lott from the middle west, John Doeg from the far wast, Wilmer Allison and Berkeley Bell from the southwest; John Van Ryn, Gregory Mangin, and Fitz-Eugene Dixon, the latter non-playing captain, from the east.

Having beaten Canada and Mexico without losing a single match out of ten played, the team next encounters the European zone winner. The players think it will be Australia, although Japan and England also have a good chance.

TILDEN DEFEATS LINDBLOM, 4 TO 3; CLINCHES TITLE

Tilden Tech clinched the south section title yesterday by defeating Lindblom, 4 to 3, at Normal Park. Joe Mooney, Tech pitcher, fanned thirteen Lindblom batters, three of them in the last inning. Although Contes held the winners to six hits, he granted seven walks. It was Tilden's sixth straight victory and its second over Lindblom.

Wendell Phillips closed its south section season with a 10 to 4 victory over Hyde Park at Jackson park, yesterday. King and Patterson hit homers in the fifth, the latter's coming with Hart on base. King and Mallard held the losers to six hits. Scores:

Tilden	100	021	0—4	6	3

Batteries—Mooney and Kovarik; Contes and Sohr.

SMITTY—WHAT THE WELL DRESSED TRAVELING MAN SHOULD WEAR

Sharkey Trains Where the Headless Horseman Rode

the lee of a range of Catskill foothills no more than an hour by suburban train from New York. There are various outbuildings, including a gymnasium with a ring in it and a telegraph room where the Western Union and the Postal have rigged temporary offices to take care of the file of newspaper copy.

Around and about in this region there are little taverns at wide spots and junctions along the leafy mountain roads where one may obtain the best beer available in the United States, always excepting the dry state of Florida, where there is no prohibition and the United States coast cooperates in the importation of Danish and German brews. These mountain beers are supposed to be brought in from New Jersey, which lies close by. At any rate, they are very good beers, and the population of the neighborhood, a queer combination of the sophisticated New York commuter and the land locked hillbilly, never have ceased to take their ease at their inns at night.

This is the Rip Van Winkle territory and by day or night, as the scolds off behind the folds of the green hills, one hears the growl of the bowling balls and the crash of the nine pins on the alleys as Rip did and, in the a. m. taste the very same colorado maduro taste that Rip tasted when he came to after all that time.

Headless Horseman Rode Here.

Across the river, close by is Sleepy Hollow, where the headless horseman rode his heats, although, if you ask me, I will venture the idea that the headless horseman was but the figment of an imagination overwrought by these Jersey brews.

Sharkey not being at his camp today, there seems to be nothing to report about the young man except that, in his business dress, as he was waiting for his car to be brought around, he seemed healthy and well pulled in, as these top flight heavyweights always do until they pass the age of 30. He is in training most of the time because his whole existence is a matter of bag punching, boxing, calisthenics, and roadwork, and this so-called intensive training, up here at Gus Wilson's go as you please plantation beside the road, is only a phase of the ballyhoo for a box office show. If he and Schmeling were to hop into the training ring today or fight the matter out, barehanded out in the dusty highway, the result would be just as authentic, but, of course, that is not the way such things are done.

Max Runs Out of Sparring Mates; Takes a Day Off

Endicott, N. Y., June 2.—(AP)—Max Schmeling took an enforced rest today from his training grind because of lack of available sparring partners. The German heavyweight will start boxing again tomorrow when a new set of spar mates will arrive in camp to replace those worn out by Max' punching.

Schmeling did his customary roadwork before breakfast and spent the remainder of the day on the golf links. He turned in a card of 110 for the morning 18 holes, breaking his own course record, and set out in the afternoon to do even better.

It's Hard Work Catching Trout in This Stream

BY BOB BECKER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Presque Isle River, Mich., June 2.—With the water in the stream going down, a bright summer sun overhead and the birds singing from the forest that lines this trout stream, all is well for the trout fishermen who are willing to scrap a swift, boulder river for a mess of red spotted fontinalis. After a couple of days of rain the Presque Isle rose to a discouraging height,

This morning when we stepped into a canoe to work upstream through the swift water, the river showed some signs of going back to normal.

If you like a snarling, rip-snorting piece of trout water with stretches of rapids that will sweep you forward in a canoe at a dizzy pace or tear your legs from under you when you wade, the Presque Isle above Marenisco is your meat.

This morning when Ben was digging the steel tip of a long pole into the rocks and gravel of the Presque Isle one smooth topped, moss covered boulder turned the prow of the canoe just enough to let in about five gallons of water. We were trying to walk right up a "rock stairs," down which the water tumbled at a rapid clip. A slight twist of the canoe and presto! —into the craft poured the river. Sitting in the front, we shipped much of the water into our boots before our craft was straightened out and made to go ahead, irrespective of boulders and current.

GEORGE GODFREY OR STRIBLING WILL BE OTTO'S FOE

George Godfrey or Young Stribling will be Otto Von Porat's opponent June 16 at the Chicago Stadium, officials announced yesterday. Ed Stevenson, the Norwegian's manager, agreed before the bout with Jack Gagnon, to send Von Porat against any opponent the Stadium selected.

Godfrey and Stribling have consented to meet Von Porat and the Stadium directors expect to make their choice today. Godfrey meets Primo Carnera June 23 in Philadelphia, so it may be that the promoters of the Philadelphia show will object to Godfrey fighting Von Porat one week before that date.

BUD TAYLOR AND JACKIE JOHNSON CLASH TONIGHT

Bud Taylor meets Jackie Johnson in a ten round bout tonight at the Congress outdoor arena, 2233 Milwaukee avenue. Bud accepted the bout as a conditioner for his fight this month with Earl Mastro in Detroit. Johnson has met some of the better featherweights and lightweights and may prove more of a conditioner than Bud expects.

Other bouts will be: Johnny Freeman vs. Tony Lungo, 8 rounds at 175 pounds; Joe Sharkey vs. Al Klein, 6 rounds at 1 60 pounds; Frankie Hughes vs. Jimmy Lundy, 6 rounds at 140 pounds; Jack Sharkey vs. Dick Sisk, 4 rounds at 136 pounds, and Mickey Joy vs. Jack Flynn, 4 rounds at 130 pounds.

PHILS RALLY TO HAND CARDS 7TH STRAIGHT DEFEAT

Philadelphia, Pa., June 2.—(AP)—Rallying in the closing innings the Phillies defeated the Cardinals, 9 to 6, today in the only game played in either of the major leagues.

The Cardinals were away to a four run lead in the first inning, but the Phillies kept after Hallahan, driving him from the mound in the seventh. They scored two runs in the fourth, a like number in the fifth, and three in the seventh to grab the lead. Bell pitched the eighth and was nicked for another two runs.

Collins started for the Phillies but was relieved by Elliott in the seventh. He held the Cards in check and received credit for the victory. It was the Cardinals' seventh straight defeat. Hafey drove out a home run for the Cards in the first inning, scoring three runs. Score:

ZACAWEISTA HAS LAST LAUGH ON OLD T. S. JORDAN

Beats Veteran Sprinter in Homewood Feature.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Old T. S. Jordan ran gallantly in the Stadium purse at Washington Park yesterday, but he couldn't keep his ancient legs moving swiftly enough to bring him victory.

Zacaweista, 4 year old son of High Time, humored the old fellow in the early stages, and T. S. was enjoying a lead of nearly three lengths as they rounded the lower bend. T. S. might have been laughing at the young bucks who were taking his dust, for he is nine years old and his rivals were much younger.

Zacaweista Gets Going.

But if old T. S. had his laugh on the lower bend it didn't last long. Zacaweista became weary of associating with the slow runners and sprinted to the front soon after he had straightened out for the run home. Zacaweista kept on going in a brilliant rally and won by three lengths. T. S. Jordan hung on long enough to be second and Morsun, outrun all the way, was third.

They ran the six furlongs in 1:13 2-5 and Zacaweista's price in the mutuels was $7.08. T. S. Jordan had been the topheavy favorite and was at 6 to 5 when the field of six marched to the post. Jockey Ralph Ayraud, a Memphis boy, who recently was signed by Harry F. Sinclair's Rancocas stable, was the star of the program. He booted three winners home. He was aboard Zacaweista in the feature and also guided Call Play and Yam Toy, both long shots, to victory.

E. B. McLean, the Washington publisher, uncovered a fleet running daughter of The Porter—In the Sun, in the juvenile race, which came third on the program. Sun Porter was ridden by Eddie Ambrose and her chance didn't appear any too rosy when she trailed Shasta Snow, Generola and Entice in the stretch.

Sun Porter Wins Easily.

But Sun Porter was just beginning to run at that stage and when Ambrose asked her for her best effort she ran over her field to win going away by three lengths. Generola and the Rancocas filly, Entice, fought it out to the last jump for the rest of the purse, the former getting second money. Sun Porter was one of the shortest priced favorites of the season and paid $3.26.

The rest of the card was made up of claiming races and the favorite players were pretty well whipped when Call Play at 14 to 1 won the opening number with the favorite Moscow out of the money, after which Blandris a 13 to 1 shot, won the second event. Both scored handily.

MRS. PARDUE'S 83 LEADS QUALIFIERS IN WOMEN'S GOLF

Tulsa, Okla., June 2.—(AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Klotz Pardue of Sioux City, Ia., was medalist in the qualifying round of the women's trans-Mississippi golf tournament here today, leading a field of 186 starts with a score of 83 for the 18 hole route.

Brilliant play on the first nine holes spelled the story of the Iowan's success. Her 37 on the outward jaunt, two over par, was sufficient to offset a 46 on the return trip.

Only one stroke behind Mrs. Pardue was Mrs. Hulbert Clarke of Oklahoma City, who was out in 43 and back in 41, for an 84. Another Oklahoman, Mrs. Tom Wallace of Sapulpa, state champion, and Mrs. Leon Solomon of Memphis, Tenn., had 86 to tie for third honors.

MINERAL POINT WINS.

Darlington, Wis., June 2.—[Special.]—Mineral Point carried off first honors in the southwestern Wisconsin golf tournament held today with 469. Darlington finished second with 106 and Dodgeville third with 112.

MORE READERS EVERY MONTH!

JUNE ISSUE ON SALE TODAY 25c

Every month, an average of 1,133 more readers are buying The American Golfer. Circulation figures have jumped from 23,000 to 40,000 readers in just 15 months . . . and they are still growing! Why this tremendous increase? . . . Because The American Golfer is edited by well-known golf authorities, Grantland Rice, Bobby Jones, and Glenna Collett . . . because of its latest golf news . . . because of its articles by champions and experts on how to play better golf . . . because of its "how-to" pictures which show the correct stroke from backswing to follow-through.

Take the June issue for instance:

HORTON SMITH gives GRANTLAND RICE his theories on the psychological side of golf.

GLENNA COLLETT discusses the importance of right concentration.

STEWART MAIDEN, BOBBY JONES'S first teacher, sets down the basic principles for all golf play.

TOMMY ARMOUR gives the fundamentals of iron play.

ALEX MORRISON answers questions from golfers on their troublesome shots.

CHICK EVANS describes golf twenty years hence.

BOBBY JONES gives a few "don'ts" for tournament play.

GRANTLAND RICE points out the importance of proper pivoting.

IN ADDITION, dozens of "how-to" pictures, answers to queries on rules, golf clothes and accessories for men and women.

Isn't that a birdie of an issue? Buy this June Number at your news dealer's today! Or if you want your copies delivered every month, sign and mail the coupon below . . . Now!

THIS IS A TRULY WARNER YEAR

JOINS RANKS OF BILLION DOLLAR CORPORATIONS

Elect. Bond & Share Makes Report.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The little group of billion dollar American corporations has a new member. It is the Electric Bond and Share company, which was formed last year as a consolidation of the old company of that name and the Electric Bond and Share Securities corporation.

S. Z. MITCHELL.

While the annual report, made public last night by Chairman S. Z. Mitchell and President C. E. Groesbeck, carries total assets at $1,054,964,083 on March 31, it is stated that the market value of net assets available for all stocks on that date was $1,368,847,173, which was equivalent to $91 a share on 13,753,502 common shares.

Widespread Service.

The Electric Bond and Share company prefers to be classified as a service company, rather than a holding concern. But its investments in several big public utility companies makes it one of the largest factors in the field. It controls the American and Foreign Power company, which in turn controls foreign public utilities. It also has minority interests in the American Gas and Electric, American Power and Light, National Power and Light and Electric Power and Light companies.

The Five companies are referred to as "client companies" for which Electric Bond and Share acts in a supervisory capacity. But their subsidiaries supply utility service in thirty-one states. The market value of investments in these companies by Electric Bond and Share was $1,080,-978,050 on March 31, while investments in other companies totaled $197,-666,756.

Details of the report show Electric Bond and Share holds investments in fifty-five utility, industrial, banking and insurance companies. It is stated that the client companies will spend approximately $239,000,000 on new construction this year.

Net income for the year ended Dec. 31, 1929, was $32,511,823, equivalent to $1.97 a share on the common stock. This is exclusive of stock dividends received, which, if taken at their market value when paid, would boost earnings to $4.38 a share.

Copper Dividends Reduced.

The troubles of the copper industry, which culminated in recent sharp price reductions for the red metal, were further reflected yesterday when three more companies reduced dividends. Kennecott Copper, one of the largest producers, cut its annual rate from $5 to $3 by declaring a quarterly dividend of 75 cents. Utah Copper reduced its rate from $16 to $8 with a quarterly payment of $2, and Nevada Consolidated Copper cut its rate from $3 to $1.50 with a quarterly payment of 37½ cents.

It would appear, however, that lower prices for copper have greatly stimulated buying. Foreign sales during May totaled 240,000,000 pounds, the largest monthly total in the history of the American copper industry, and domestic sales also boomed.

Shipbuilding Industry Is Picking Up; Pay Rolls Grow

BY SCRUTATOR.

Shipbuilding as a major industry in the United States is staging a comeback, which is remarkable in view of the low marine freight rates that are prevailing the world over. It is one of the few lines of activity that are showing larger orders, more employment and bigger pay rolls than a year ago.

About two years ago 85 per cent of the seaboard ways were empty and not a single vessel was being constructed in the country for the foreign trade. At present fifty-seven or more ships designed especially for such trade are definitely planned or actually building.

A few figures from the shipping board show that the government has now authorized construction loans at a low rate of interest for ninety-three million dollars. As the leading limit is three fourths of the value of the vessel, it is indicated that at least 125 million dollars worth of shipping will be started within a few months. Less than two weeks ago loans for thirty-one million dollars were announced.

Helps Upswing.

Governmental support for a merchant marine has thus had a part in the industry's upswing. The shipping board has been gradually retiring from the transport business. Where it had more than 2,600 vessels during the war, valued at three billion dollars, it now has less than 200 cargo boats in active service and less than 300 owned but laid up and inactive. Cheap money, twenty year repayment plans and mail contracts have induced private capital to come in.

More credit, perhaps, should be given the new attitude toward shipping. American ships, in the past, have cost more to build and more to operate than foreign ships. Even the latter are not exactly fattening on the traffic they have. It is freely said there are already too many ships in the world, and easy dismissal of the subject would be to add that building must wait for better times.

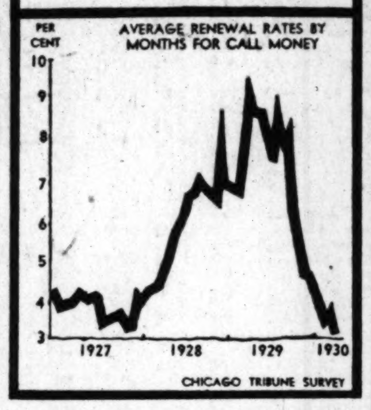
The opposite view, which is being adopted by capital, is that there are too many poor ships and not enough good ones; that we have followed the lead of European shipbuilders in technique and have failed to make possible the profitable building and operation of our own ships with high-priced American labor. Apparently it is beginning to be realized that the same genius that made the $500 automobile a fact can be applied to shipping.

Tribune's New Style Ship.

H. T. Herr, vice president of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, recently advanced the suggestion that if skilled engineering were mobilized something like mass production methods could be applied to shipbuilding.

Another possibility is the greater adaptation of individual ships to particular types of shipping. The new Thorold, belonging to THE TRIBUNE and now on the lakes, carries three times as much paper as old style ships of the same tonnage. It represents the same kind of advance in lake transport as the refrigerator car or the special automobile car meant on land; lower costs and better service.

CALL MONEY RATES IN MAY WERE LOWEST IN YEARS



START PLANS FOR NEW $50,000,000 STEEL CO. PLANT

Engineering work is already under way in connection with plans for a new plant to be built by the Midwest Steel corporation on a 1,000 acre tract on Lake Michigan east of Gary, Ind., officials of the concern said in Pittsburgh yesterday. No definite date has been set for the start of construction, but it was indicated it would not be long until ground was broken.

"The plant will include blast furnaces, complete steel plant, and finishing mill and will embody the latest developments in modern steel mill construction," according to E. T. Weir, who is chairman of Midwest as well as the National Steel corporation, of which Midwest is a subsidiary.

It will represent an investment of $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 and its products will include semi-finished steel, rails, structural shapes, plates, and sheets.

Buick, Reo, Hupp Show Auto Shipments for May

The Buick Motor company shipped 9,374 Buick and Marquette cars in May, against 9,601 in April and approximately 12,000 in May, 1929. Reo shipped 1,759 cars and trucks in May, against 2,647 in April and 4,453 in May, 1929, while the Hupp Motor Car corporation shipped 3,348 cars in May, compared with 3,249 in April and 5,329 in May, 1929.

STERLING NOW QUOTED AT LOW LEVEL FOR YEAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 2.—The continuing decline in sterling carried it to a new low for the year today. Quotations were $4.85 17-32 for checks and $4.85 23-32 for cables. This was a decline of 5-32 for a cent. The previous low was established on Feb. 18. Today's prices was the lowest since the second week in October last year.

All the Chinese exchanges fell to new lows as the decline which has been evident for some time continued. Declines ranged from ⅜ to 12 cents, with Hongkong checks at 32.94c. Peking checks were at 41.50c and Shanghai checks at 40.19c.

The declines were felt all through Europe with falling quotations in the rates on francs, lire, marks, pesetas and the Swiss and Scandinavian standards.

New low levels were also reached here and in London in silver metal. New York prices dropped from ⅞ to a level of 36⅜ cents, while London prices fell 1-16d to 17 3-16d.

NEW CO-OP PLAN FOR DAIRYMEN IS ANNOUNCED

Minneapolis, Min., June 2.—(AP)—W. F. Schilling, dairy member of the federal farm board, today announced that a new coöperative setup for dairymen of South Dakota, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, and Oklahoma would be organized as a central marketing unit.

W. F. SCHILLING. [Harris & Ewing Photo.]

Schilling said the new setup is expected to be organized this month. It will maintain sales agencies in Chicago and New York, especially for distribution of butter. One conference has already been held with dairymen of the states named and another is scheduled for this month.

The dairy representative came to the twin cities to speak before the Catholic conference on industrial problems in St. Paul. He will leave this week for Colorado and later will attend a conference in Missouri in connection with the new coöperative.

"Under the new plan," Schilling said, "the coöperatives are being set up so they will be able to accumulate reserves and eventually finance themselves." This was taken to mean eventual withdrawal of the farm board from active participation in the coöperative movement.

Can't Cut Freight Rates to Aid Farm Depression

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 2.—The United States Supreme court today, in the first test of the so-called Hoch-Smith resolution, ruled that the interstate commerce commission has erroneously construed the measure, widely heralded when passed, as a farm relief measure, to permit freight rate discriminations in favor of agricultural products.

In an opinion read by Justice Van Deventer, reversing a lower court decree, the Supreme court held that the commission's interpretation of the resolution is in direct conflict with the interstate commerce act which, it was pointed out, not only guarantees the railroads reasonable returns, but also prohibits rate discriminations in favor of any person, group, or industry.

What Resolution Provided.

Thus the court found that the provisions of the resolution instead of setting up a new basis for rate making were in reality a gesture or, according to the opinion, "more in the nature of a hopeful characterization of an object deemed desirable if, and insofar as, it may be attainable, than a rule intended to control rate making." The opinion was rendered in an appeal to the court by the Ann Arbor Railroad company from a decision upholding an order of the commission reducing the rates on California deciduous fruits consigned to points east of the Mississippi river.

Under the Hoch-Smith resolution the commission was directed not only to consider, in adjusting freight rates, the "conditions which at any time prevail in our several industries," but also "in view of the existing depression in agriculture," the commission was directed "to effect with the least practicable delay such lawful changes in the rate structure . . . as will promote the freedom of movement . . . of the products of agriculture affected by that depression . . . at the lowest possible rates compatible with the maintenance of adequate transportation service. . . ."

In ordering a reduction in the rates on the California fruits the commission construed the Hoch-Smith resolution as modifying the interstate commerce act to place farm products in a "most favored" class, notwithstanding, according to today's opinion, the fact that most of the carriers affected "'have not as yet made the fair return' for which section 15-A of the interstate commerce act makes provision as a means of securing the maintenance of an adequate transportation system."

Question of Validity.

"If they mean no more," said the court, analyzing that part of the Hoch-Smith resolution referring specifically to the rates on agricultural products, "than that the depressed condition of the industry is to be given such consideration as may be reasonable considering the nature and cost of the transportation service and the need for maintaining an adequate transportation system, they work no change in the existing law.

"But if they mean more and are intended to require that rates be reduced to some uncertain level below that standard, they give rise to a serious question respecting the constitutional validity of the paragraph of which they are a part."

COMPETITORS IN ICE TRADE HOLD PEACE MEETING

Coöperation between producers of natural ice and manufacturers of mechanical refrigerators is promised as a result of a meeting which took place at the Hotel Sherman yesterday. Officials of the National Association of Ice Industries and of the refrigerating section of the National Electric Manufacturers' association took part in the conference, which was presided over by Leslie C. Smith, secretary of the former organization.

It was agreed that each interest eliminate, so far as possible, practices and advertising objectionable to the other. Further, problems affecting the two groups are to be discussed at quarterly conferences.

There is plenty of business for both groups, Mr. Smith said, with only 47 per cent of the homes in the United States having refrigeration of any kind. Further, there are other great demands for ice besides that of the home—for transportation, major storage, etc. In discussing the natural ice industry Mr. Smith asserted that 61,542,000 tons were produced in 1929—a 5 per cent increase over 1928.

Reports May Insolvency Record Is Best of 1930

New York, June 2.—(AP)—R. G. Dun & Co. reports that the May insolvency record represents the best showing of any month this year. Failures totaled 2,179, or 21 per cent below January's high record. The figure, however, is about 15 per cent above the total for May, 1929, but the report adds that "adverse comparisons with the figures of the earlier year are to be looked for now." Insolvencies in April numbered 2,198.

BY FRED HARVEY.

(New York stock list on page 31.)

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 2.—Business languished on the New York Stock exchange today. With a three day vacation aglimmering, the thoughts of brokers and the small fry alike were still "over the hills and far away"—anywhere but on the routine of dull price movements.

The dealings fell off to 1,710,880 shares, making it about the dullest five hour trading session of the year. What business did develop was almost entirely of a professional character, with neither side inclined to get very peevish about it. Price changes were vague and for the most part unimportant.

Bulls Try Ward.

Traders on the bull side tried to do something with the merchandise stocks on the strength of the unexpectedly good Montgomery Ward sales report for May, but the effort soon petered out. The group did little more than hold its own for the rest of the day.

Likewise, the bear element renewed its attack on the farm implements, a number of railway equipment shares and two or three other stocks believed vulnerable, but didn't waste any energy in trying to extend the operation. Case Threshing Machine, however, proved itself a pliant subject and

Debentures Yielding 6.33%
—And Convertible Into Common Stock

Southern Natural Gas Corporation's recently completed main pipe lines bring natural gas from the rich fields of Louisiana to Birmingham and Atlanta. This is the first unit in a gas transportation system which has for its logical market the entire industrial Southeast.

•The system now in operation comprises nearly 900 miles of modern pipe lines. Construction now under way is expected to increase the total to 1650 miles of lines by October of this year. This network of fuel supply will cover the most important cities in Alabama, Georgia and Mississippi—a territory which is one of the most rapidly developing industrial centers in the country.

Southern Natural Gas Corporation 6% Convertible Gold Debentures

Far-seeing investors will find the conversion privilege attached to these Debentures, constituting a call on common stock, particularly attractive in view of the assured future growth of the corporation and the territory it serves. This privilege may be exercised as late as January 1, 1940. In the meantime the immediate yield on the Debentures is unusually liberal. The corporation's common stock is listed on The New York Curb Exchange.

An Important Subsidiary of Tri-Utilities Corporation

Southern Natural Gas Corporation is controlled by Tri-Utilities Corporation, one of the great public utility systems of this country. The combined assets of Tri-Utilities Corporation and its subsidiaries are approximately $300,000,000. Its other principal subsidiaries are Federal Water Service Corporation, Peoples Light and Power Corporation, American Natural Gas Corporation and Power, Gas and Water Securities Corporation.

RADIO STOCKS MOVE HIGHER IN CHICAGO TRADING

Show Opening Is Signal for Movement.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

If evidence was necessary to show that the public is not scrambling to get into the market yesterday offered some proof. The large number of orders which was expected in some quarters to accumulate over the long week-end failed to materialize and trading on the Chicago exchange continued largely of professional nature.

Opening of the radio show in Atlantic City was the signal for professionals to push up their favorite radio stocks. But even the gains in this group were modest. Grigsby-Grunow was the best performer and ran up to a new 1930 high of 27⅞ on exceptionally heavy dealings.

Zenith, Polymet, and U. S. Radio ranged higher during the day, but the end of the session found them not far from their previous close.

Price Changes Narrow.

It was a dull day for the majority of the motor and industrial shares. Price ranges in most instances were narrow and transactions light. Northwest Engineering distinguished itself with a gain of nearly 4 points on fairly active trade. Sales in the issue which has long been dozing in the inactive column amounted to about 1,500 shares.

Strength was shown by Libby McNeill. With dividend accumulations on the preferred stocks now cleared up, prospects for dividends on the common shares are brighter. Swift issues were fractionally improved. Good gains were marked up for Reliance Manufacturing and Electric Household. North American Car slipped off moderately, and Majestic sold off around 2.

In the utility group Cities Service and Middle West each lost a fraction and Missouri Kansas edged up a fraction. Reports that the first pipe contracts have been let for the Chicago-Texas natural gas line seemed to have little effect on the stocks of the firms concerned.

Lets Pipe Contracts.

The group which is headed by the Insull interests and includes Cities Service is reported to have let contracts for 1,000 miles of 24 inch pipe and 1,000 miles of 16 inch pipe. While official confirmation was lacking, it appeared that the much talked of project is getting nearer. According to the reports two parallel lines from Texas to Chicago and other near-by cities are planned and will require between 250,000 and 300,000 tons of pipe.

Commonwealth Edison company's application to issue $12,000,000 first mortgage collateral 4½ per cent bonds is regarded as the death knell of rumors of possible rights for stockholders. The announcement indicates that the company is not contemplating any stock financing at the present time. Proceeds of the bond issue will be used to reimburse the company for expenditures made heretofore.

DRY GOODS.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Cotton goods opened the week quiet, an easing of raw cotton tending to slow up bidders. Finished cottons are in moderate demand for prompt shipment. Raw silk opened the week unchanged. Silk goods are moving best in cutting channels. In the wool goods division more attention is being given to duplicates for fall. Burlaps opened unchanged, with reports that curtailment of production will begin July 1 at Calcutta.

Statistics indicate that every five years the electric power industry practically doubles in size, while telephone service expands three times as rapidly as population.

The Mid-West States Utilities Company is a strong integrated system, providing diversified service in a territory of unusual promise and economically grouped for efficient operation in five leading Mid-West states.

Container Corp. of America.

I would be glad to have your opinion as to the merits of Container Corporation A stock. This stock is not held as a speculation but as an investment. I understand that the company is in good condition financially and has good prospects of maintaining its present earnings. F. E. H.

Container Corporation of America, largest manufacturer in America of shipping containers and cartons made from a paper base, reported lower earnings in 1929 than in 1928. There was a sharp drop in earnings in the first quarter of 1929, but consistent gains were indicated in subsequent quarters.

The management stated that throughout 1929 the corporation had demonstrated its ability to keep reductions in manufacturing costs ahead of decreasing prices and that more than 75 per cent of the net profits for 1929 had been produced in the last six months of the year on a descending scale of prices.

In the first quarter of the current year net profit, after depreciation, federal taxes and other charges, was $135,387, against $35,399 in the like period of 1929.

Net profit for the year ended Dec. 31, 1929, was $774,418, after charges and loss on sale of capital assets. This was equal, after dividends on the 7 per cent preferred and class A stocks, to 52 cents per share on 588,289 no par shares of class B common. In 1928 net profit was $915,929.

The consolidated balance sheet at the close of 1929 showed current assets of $3,814,064, and current liabilities of $760,619. This left a net working capital of $3,053,445, which compares with $2,852,292 at the end of 1928. Total assets were $23,353,756.

Surplus was increased from $818,356 to $1,205,931 during 1929.

Dividends of $1.75 on the preferred and 30 cents on the class A are being paid quarterly. No dividends have been paid on the class B shares since April 1, 1929.

The preferred deserves a fairly good rating. The class A is medium grade and somewhat speculative. The class B is a speculation.

Houston Oil.

What do you think of Houston Oil Company 5½s, which were recently offered at 97? Are they a sound investment? J. G. E.

Houston Oil Company of Texas $12,000,000 secured sinking fund 5½ per cent bonds, series A, dated May 1, 1930, and due May 1, 1940, are a suitable investment for a business man's funds.

STRAUS NATIONAL BANK AND TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, Trustee

We summarize as follows from a letter from the president of the borrowing corporation:

MORTGAGED PROPERTY: This issue is secured by a direct, closed first and general fee mortgage on London Terrace which comprises the entire block bounded by West 23rd and West 24th Streets, Ninth and Tenth Avenues, New York City and twelve apartment buildings being erected thereon. The mortgage is a first lien on the westerly portion of the block covering the entire Tenth Avenue frontage and the easterly portion of the block covering the entire Ninth Avenue frontage. Each of these avenue frontages have a depth of 125 feet on West 23rd and West 24th Streets.

The mortgage is also a lien subject only to first mortgages totalling $5,500,000, on the intervening ten apartment houses fronting on West 23rd and West 24th Streets.

The entire block has been leased by London Terrace Corporation to 23-24 Corporation, which lease is subordinate to this issue. The bonds are the obligation of the 23-24 Corporation and are secured by a first and general mortgage on the lease as well as on the fee.

APPRAISAL: The block with proposed improvements, when completed, has been appraised by Kenneth Slawson Hobbs, Inc., Walter Stabler, Consultant, at $16,525,000, indicating $11,025,000 as security for this $5,500,000 issue, as follows:

Value of Ninth and Tenth Avenue frontages and two buildings when completed (Upon which parcels the mortgage securing this issue is a first lien)		$7,355,000
Value of land and 10 buildings fronting on West 23rd and West 24th Streets, when completed	$9,170,000
Amount of prior mortgages	5,500,000	3,670,000
Total security for this issue		$11,025,000

On the basis of this appraisal, this issue represents less than a 50% loan on the fair value of the property securing it. The total amount of the mortgage securing this issue and of the first mortgages on the interior units is less than 66⅔% of the appraised value of the properties.

RENTAL DEMAND: The Chelsea district is readily accessible from all parts of the city and transportation facilities are immediately available. Recently there has been a decided residential movement to this section and apartments have commanded good rentals and have been in active demand. London Terrace will be a distinctive and thoroughly modern addition to the district and two hundred leases for apartments in the ten buildings now nearing completion are evidence of the demand for the accommodations it will provide.

EARNINGS: The Borrowing Corporation estimates the net annual earnings, applicable to this issue, at $1,208,520—more than 2½ times the greatest combined annual interest and sinking fund charges.

BORROWING CORPORATION: These bonds are the direct obligation of the 23-24 Corporation, of which Mr. Henry Mandel is president and all common stock of which is owned by Henry Mandel Associates, Inc. We have had satisfactory dealings with Mr. Mandel in such operations as the Pershing Square Office Building, The Lombardy, The Tuscany (120 East 39th Street) and the One Park Avenue Building.

SINKING FUND: Through the operation of a sinking fund, $125,000 principal amount of these bonds are required to be retired each year, beginning in 1933, leaving a balance to be paid May 1, 1940 of $4,500,000.

We recommend these bonds. Call or write for CIRCULAR L-34

...dropped 14 points before the day was over. International Harvester trailed along after the group leader and wound up with a loss of nearly 2 points.

Elsewhere trading was listless and operations commonplace.

The news coming to hand during the day and over the week-end was mixed and not calculated to stir any great enthusiasm in either direction. It included, besides the Montgomery Ward earnings statement, the unexpected reduction in the price of Ford automobiles, dividend cuts in the Utah, Nevada Consolidated, and Kennecott Copper companies and the customary series of monthly bank summaries.

Money Is Firm.

Awaiting the return of holiday cash to the banks and redeposit of June dividend payments, the money market was firm. The call rate held at 3 per cent throughout and no funds were on offer at a concession outside the exchange so far as could be learned. Banks called some additional money during the day.

Reports of placing of heavy pipe orders provided support for steel shares against sporadic selling that developed in some of these shares. This morsel of news was looked upon particularly as the reason for the strength of Republic Steel, which scored an advance of nearly three points on the days' sales.

American Can, Radio, General Electric, and other recognized leaders on the market took it easy. International Combustion preferred was an extremely weak stock on revelation of a poor balance sheet position. The rails, as usual, did little. Oils also found the sledding hard and the motors following their natural bent continued to merely mark time.

In spite of the general lethargy, a scattering of issues managed to chalk up new highs for the year or longer, among them being Air Reduction and Procter and Gamble.

N. Y. CENTRAL MAY OFFER NEW STOCK FOR SALE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 2.—That the New York Central may offer new stock for sale to the shareholders, when market conditions become favorable, is considered a possibility by men acquainted with the railroad's program of improvements.

Additions and betterments this year will cost $150,000,000, according to the budget announced by P. E. Crowley, president. In 1929 the total came to $125,000,000 and in 1928 to $90,000,000. What percentages of the sum may be met through earnings will be determined by revenues in the remaining months of the year.

In furtherance of improvements on the west side of Manhattan, the company last year advanced $6,426,700 to the New York State Realty and Improvement company, a real estate subsidiary. The railroad's share of the costs of this betterment will total $120,872,000, spread over five or six years.

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

Expect Benefits.

United States Pipe and Foundry is expected to reap considerable benefit indirectly from the current ease in money rates. It is figured that the low rates will stimulate new financing by municipalities for new buildings and other public works, and that this company will secure a good share of the new business which will result.

At Peak Level.

One of the stocks which has entered new high territory for the year is Connecticut Electric Service. This corporation is controlled by United Gas Improvement. The stock has probably been reflecting the improvement in earnings since the first of the year.

Shows Greater Activity.

Now that the Chatham Phenix Allied corporation has declared an initial dividend of 50c a share payable July 1 to stockholders of record June 16, the stock has shown greater activity. Total earnings of the company from the beginning of operations on Oct. 8, 1929, to May 21, 1930, after deducting expenses and all reserves for taxes, amounted to $2,081,271. Liquidating value of the stock as of March 31, 1930, was $26.49 a share, an increase of $1.49 a share over the price received at the time of the offering.

Coupon bonds in denominations of $1,000 and $500. Registerable as to principal. Refund of certain state taxes, upon timely and proper application as provided in the mortgage.

The Pennsylvania Company for Insurances on Lives and Granting Annuities, Philadelphia, Pa., Trustee

These bonds are exchangeable for common stock of Appalachian Gas Corporation

The following information has been furnished by the Company:

Business: Southwestern Natural Gas Company, a subsidiary of Appalachian Gas Corporation, will sell natural gas under long term contracts to companies engaged in the distribution of natural gas for domestic and industrial purposes in the cities and towns of Muskogee, Sapulpa and Boynton, all located in the eastern section of Oklahoma. The annual revenue to be derived from contracts now signed, which extend beyond the maturity of these bonds and represent only part of the Company's potential market, after deducting operating expenses in connection therewith, is estimated to be more than sufficient for the maximum annual interest requirements of the Company's funded indebtedness presently to be outstanding. The Company will also furnish gas directly to certain industrial consumers at Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Gas Purchase Contract: Utilities Production Corporation (which is controlled by Utilities Power & Light Corporation and which has extensive gas rights in the Quinton, Oklahoma, area from which it makes sales primarily at wholesale), has entered into a contract extending beyond the life of these bonds for the sale to Southwestern Natural Gas Company of its entire natural gas requirements up to 40,000,000 cubic feet per day, subject to the terms of the contract. Gas reserves of the Quinton Field as of April 1st, 1930, are estimated by Ralph E. Davis, Engineer, to be in excess of 242,000,000,000 cubic feet and to constitute the largest gas reserve of any exclusive natural gas producing field in the state. Oklahoma, in turn, is the largest producer of natural gas of any state in the United States.

Earnings: Ralph E. Davis, Engineer, has estimated that the earnings of Southwestern Natural Gas Company for the first three years of full operation will be as follows:

	1st Year	2nd Year	3rd Year
Gross Revenue	$847,125	$1,061,250	$1,183,500
Operating Expenses, Maintenance and Taxes (not including Federal Income Tax)	523,024	648,758	717,675
Balance available for Interest, Depreciation, Depletion and Federal Income Tax	$324,101	$ 412,492	$ 465,825
Maximum Annual Interest Requirements of this issue	150,000

Engineers have considered a daily delivery and sale of only about 20,000,000 cubic feet in the above estimate of earnings for the first full year of operation. As the Company continues to develop its markets, earnings should be substantially increased as reflected in the above estimates.

Security: These bonds, in the opinion of counsel, will constitute a direct obligation of Southwestern Natural Gas Company and upon completion of the project will be secured by a first mortgage on its entire fixed physical properties, consisting of approximately 112 miles of main pipe line owned or controlled, and complete auxiliary equipment, subject to the usual farm mortgages. Certain minor portions of the pipe line right-of-way may be held under lease. These bonds will be further secured by a pledge with the Trustee of all gas purchase and sales contracts hereinbefore referred to. Upon completion of the project provided for by this financing, including a compressor station to be constructed by 1931, and the development of the Company's business in accordance with the estimate as shown above, the properties and business of the Company are estimated by Ralph E. Davis, Engineer, to have a value in excess of $4,000,000.

Sinking Fund: The mortgage will provide for a fixed sinking fund payable monthly to the Trustee, beginning in January, 1932, and for an additional annual sinking fund payable out of income, as provided in the mortgage, calculated to retire this entire issue prior to maturity.

Exchange Privilege: Appalachian Gas Corporation will issue 80 full paid and non-assessable shares of its common stock for each $1,000 bond of this issue which, at the option of the holder thereof, may be presented for exchange after February 1st, 1931, provided, however, that such exchange is effected prior to February 1st, 1935, or earlier redemption, and will issue 70 shares for each $1,000 bond presented for exchange thereafter and prior to maturity or earlier redemption. Each $500 bond is similarly exchangeable for a proportionate number of shares. The foregoing exchange privilege is further subject to the terms of a contract to be dated as of May 1st, 1930, between Appalachian Gas Corporation and The Pennsylvania Company for Insurances on Lives and Granting Annuities, Trustee of this issue.

Appalachian Gas Corporation: Appalachian Gas Corporation, a Delaware corporation, through subsidiary or other companies in which it owns a substantial stock interest, supplies natural gas under long term contracts to outstanding public utility and industrial companies in Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia, Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas, and through the acquisition of control of Southwestern Natural Gas Company, will furnish gas under long term contracts in the state of Oklahoma.

Management: Union Management and Engineering Corporation, which will supervise the operation of Southwestern Natural Gas Company under the direction of its Board of Directors, likewise supervises the operations of other companies in the Appalachian Gas Corporation Group, including Ohio Valley Gas Corporation, Ohio Kentucky Gas Company, Wayne United Gas Company, Ohio Southern Gas Company, Allegheny Gas Corporation, Texas Gas Utilities Company and Memphis Natural Gas Company.

Top yesterday, $13.50; average, $12.75.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 6,000 cattle, 26,000 hogs, and 9,000 sheep.

Larger receipts failed to weaken the market for cattle and hogs yesterday. Both classes met good demand at stronger prices, the general average price of hogs at $10.15 showing 5c gain. This price equals the highest average since middle of April.

Following a steady to slightly lower opening, the hog market made a strong comeback and finished 5@10c above the general selling last Thursday. Several loads reached $10.50, the day's top. Receipts posted at 66,000 included arrivals from Friday to Monday, inclusive. With small packers and shippers buying freely at the late upturn, only 5,000 were left at the close. Five western markets expect 74,000 today, against 69,900 the previous Tuesday.

Hog Futures Higher.

Trading in hog futures yesterday was on a steady to 10c higher price basis. Sales of July and September contracts were among the highest of the season. Light weights for July delivery at $10.50 equaled the highest since early in April. September mediums sold at $10.40. August light carried bids of $10.35. July heavy grades were bid $10.00.

Demand for cattle was brisk following the three day holiday period and yesterday's 20,000 met early clearance at the stronger quotations. Medium and weighty beeves continued to outsell light steers and yearlings by a big margin, but all classes shared in the activity.

Choice 1,308 lb steers topped the list at $14.00 and 1,108 lb long yearlings sold at $13.25. Some 961 lb yearlings brought $12.85. Cows and heifers sold steady. Calves were steady to 25c lower. Stockers and feeders steady.

Washington Lambs, $13.50.

The first Washington range lambs of the season came on the market yesterday and the "tops" sold at $13.50, with the feeders at $10.00, both classes being highest this season. Good grades of lambs were generally steady, while others ruled weak to 25c lower. Natives, previously classed as "springers," brought $13.50. Aged sheep were unchanged.

LOW SILVER HURTS COTTON

With silver prices the lowest on record and with a revolt in India and political complications in China and Japan, where prosperity depends largely upon the price of silver, the cotton price is more or less affected. In addition there are favorable reports on the crop in the United States and a light volume of speculative trade.

The coöperative association's operations are a supporting influence in July, while selling pressure comes from speculators who believe that conditions are unfavorable to higher prices. Liverpool cables were 8@12 points lower yesterday.

Prices declined in Chicago and closed around the inside, with losses on new crop futures 13@27 points, while July was off 3 points and 13@18 points in other markets, New York leading the break. Spots in New York broke 15 points to 16.15c; New Orleans, 10 points to 15.35c; Galveston was 15.45c, and Houston, 15.25c.

E. H. Miller, the statistician for J. E. Bennett & Co., estimates cotton condition at 68.7, compared with 69.7 last year. Arkansas, Georgia, South Carolina, and Tennessee show improvement over last year, with all other states lower. Prices follow:

The following information has been obtained from official sources:

CITY OF BRISBANE, founded in 1823, is the capital of the State of Queensland. With a population of 318,000, it is the fourth largest city and one of the leading seaports of Australia, its direct overseas trade for year ended June 30, 1929 being in excess of $123,122,000. During the last decade the city and its suburbs have grown rapidly, and the city has pursued an aggressive and constructive policy of permanent works. Proceeds of this loan, we are advised, will be used for permanent improvements, including roads, bridges, and extension of electric service.

SECURITY: These Bonds are the direct obligation of the Brisbane City Council (the municipal corporation of the City of Brisbane) and are guaranteed unconditionally, by endorsement, as to principal, interest, and sinking fund by the State of Queensland. They are authorized by resolution of the Brisbane City Council, and approved by the Governor-in-Council of the State of Queensland, in accordance with the City of Brisbane Act of 1924. This loan has been approvedby the Australian Loan Council.

FINANCES: Net funded debt of the Brisbane City Council, excluding this issue, is $84,328,031, all loans having sinking fund provisions. As an offset to this the City Council owns property and investments, including the electric supply system, tramways, and wharves valued at $74,085,469. Aggregate unimproved value of taxable property, $110,859,975. The City Council has unlimited taxing power.

QUEENSLAND, the second largest state of the Commonwealth of Australia, comprises the entire northeastern portion of the Continent. Its area of 670,500 square miles approximates that of the entire area of the United States east of the Mississippi, excluding Florida, Alabama, and Georgia. Population, practically all of Anglo-Saxon stock, is approximately 930,000, representing an increase of 70% during the last 21 years. Queensland's public and private wealth was estimated in 1921 to be in excess of $1,500,000,000. The State railways, comprising 6,447 miles, are the most extensive of any of the Australian states. Productive resources are varied, including agriculture, dairying, stock-raising, forests, mining, and manufacturing, with a total estimated production, year ended June 30, 1928, of over $311,202,942. Overseas trade, year ended June 30, 1929, comprised imports of $56,423,895 and exports of $113,154,476.

Queensland's net funded debt as of June 30, , was $551,642,108, upon which interest charges averaged 4.8%. Of this, $283,[illegible],222 or 51% represented loans invested in the State railways.

Application will be made to list these Bonds on the New York Stock Exchange.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

A partial breaking of the drought in the Canadian northwest and a weakened technical position, incident to a four day advance in the wheat market, was largely responsible for a break of 2⅛@2¼c yesterday.

An early dip was followed by a strong rally on short covering, but houses with Winnipeg connections became good sellers and found support less aggressive and the finish was at net losses of 1⅛@1½c with July, $1.07@1.07⅛, and September, $1.10@1.10⅛.

Local sentiment was distinctly bearish and there was persistent selling, due to expectations of further rains in the spring wheat area as suggested by the official forecasts. Foreign news was likewise less bullish, and press reports indicated that complaints of slow seeding operations in Russia were being put out in order to stimulate a further increase in the area. Winnipeg closed 1⅛@1¼c lower, while Liverpool was unchanged to ⅛d higher, the latter rallying after an early decline.

Weather Conditions.

Weather conditions in Texas were favorable for harvest operations and it is expected that cutting of wheat in Oklahoma will be general around June 15. Further mention was made of a thin stand in parts of the southwest, but the trade in general looks for the private crop estimates today to show well above the 525,000,000 bu indicated by the government May returns.

The trade was greatly disappointed over the decrease of only 1,389,000 bu in the domestic visible. The latter is 116,846,000 bu, against 96,427,000 bu last year. It is estimated by Minneapolis interests that there is 40,000,000 bu wheat held in northwestern country elevators, and that the Stabilization corporation will secure 14,000,000 bu on July 1 when loans made early in the season mature.

Corn Shows Strength.

Corn developed independent strength and showed an oversold condition. Local shorts covered freely, advancing prices 1½c over Saturday's finish, part of the bulge being maintained, despite the weakness in wheat. Final trade were at net gains of ½@⅝c with July, 81@81⅛c, and September, 82¼@82⅜. Country offerings were generally held above buyers' views. A decrease of 937,000 bu in the visible supply brought the total down to 10,825,000 bu, against 14,259,000 bu last year, supplies being the smallest for this time of year since 1923.

Unfavorable crop comments were received on oats from a large area, and rains would be very beneficial, especially in states east of the Mississippi river. Futures showed a firm understone and closed ¼@½c higher with July, 40c, and September, 39⅞c. Cash houses were buyers on the late recession.

Bulk of the trading in rye was in exchanging between July and September at 4¼c difference. Closing trades were 1⅛@1⅜c lower with July, 63c, and September, 67¼c.

I. C. C. DISMISSES APPLICATION OF NICKEL PLATE

Washington, D. C., June 2.—(AP)—The application of the Nickel Plate railroad for permission to acquire control of the Wheeling and Lake Erie system was dismissed today by the interstate commerce commission.

The Nickel Plate is understood to be preparing to renew the demand for permission to retain the Wheeling control, but in view of the commission's promulgation of the general rule of consolidatoin plans will prepare its petition in a new form.

Hear Bethlehem Steel May Get Pickands, Mather Co.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 2.—A report that the Bethlehem Steel corporation was negotiating for the acquisition of Pickands, Mather & Co., a large producer of iron ore with properties located principally in Michigan and Minnesota was received here today. The rumor, which could not be confirmed here indicated that if the merger were effected, Samuel Mather, who is identified with Pickands, Mather & Co., would resign as a director of the United States Steel corporation.

Will Be No Apple Stand at New Board of Trade

There is to be no apple and gum stand on the floor of the new Board of Trade, it is understood. For more than twenty years Mrs. Mary Ratto has had the concession and sold apples, lemonade, and oranges to traders on the Board of Trade floor. There has been an apple stand since the Board of Trade started on South Water street eighty-two years ago. The restaurant operated by Arthur O. Simpson in the board building for twenty-three years is to occupy part of the second floor of the Traders building across the street.

Motors to Replace Steam Engines on Erie Trains

New York, June 2.—(AP)—Motors will replace steam engines as the drawing power for 74 commuter passenger trains on the Erie railroad this year as the result of an order for ten high powered gas-electric motors placed this week by President E. C. Denney. They will be put into service on the lines serving New York and northern New Jersey.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Estimates on wheat and other crops by Chicago private statisticians is due at 10 o'clock today. Expectations for winter wheat are for 535,000,000 to 550,000,000 bu. The Bennet estimate is 549,000,000 bu. Average of private reports last month was 545,000,000 bu. In June last year the government estimate was 622,000,000 bu and final harvest 578,000,000 bu. Spring wheat estimates are for 250,000,000 to 265,000,000 bu. On the outside figures the total crop would be 815,000,000 bu, against last year's final of 807,000,000 bu. Estimates on corn acreage are for an increase of 3 to 5 per cent. Last year's harvest was 98,018,000 bu. Condition figures are 83 to 86. Oats acreage is increased 2 to 4 per cent, with condition 84 to 86; last year's was 92.2 which is unusually high.

It is said that unless there is more serious damage to the winter wheat crop than has developed so far the trade is inclined to sell on all bulges. There are no leaders on either side of the market. A few of the big professionals take advantage of all bulges to press sales and secure profits on small recessions. A few local traders are inclined to buy July corn, believing it has been oversold.

Look for 5% Reduction in Tire Prices to Dealers

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 2.—A cut of approximately 5 per cent in tire prices to dealers by the large tire manufacturing companies immediately after June 20 is expected by the industry. The reason for the reduction is due to a recent cut of approximately this amount by the leading mail order houses. Although some manufacturers are opposed to extending the cut beyond the secondary lines, it is believed that it will be made throughout the list. The last change in tire prices by the manufacturing companies was in October last year, when a cut ranging from 5 per cent to 10 per cent was announced.

NATURAL GAS
The Most Profitable Utility

OVER the old Santa Fe Trail, when America was first in the making, moved the slow ox teams of the traders, bringing the products of the east to the capital of the great Southwest.

America is still in the making, and today the lure of the country that captured the imaginations of Coronado and Cabeza de Vaca is daily drawing new settlers to the cities and ranches lying in that land of health and sunshine.

Southern Union is fortunate in being permitted to serve this prosperous and growing territory and no wagon train of eastern luxuries was ever more welcome to the old timers of Santa Fe than the arrival of Natural Gas will be to its citizens of today, adding their community to Albuquerque and the long list of other cities and towns which the Company has franchises to serve.

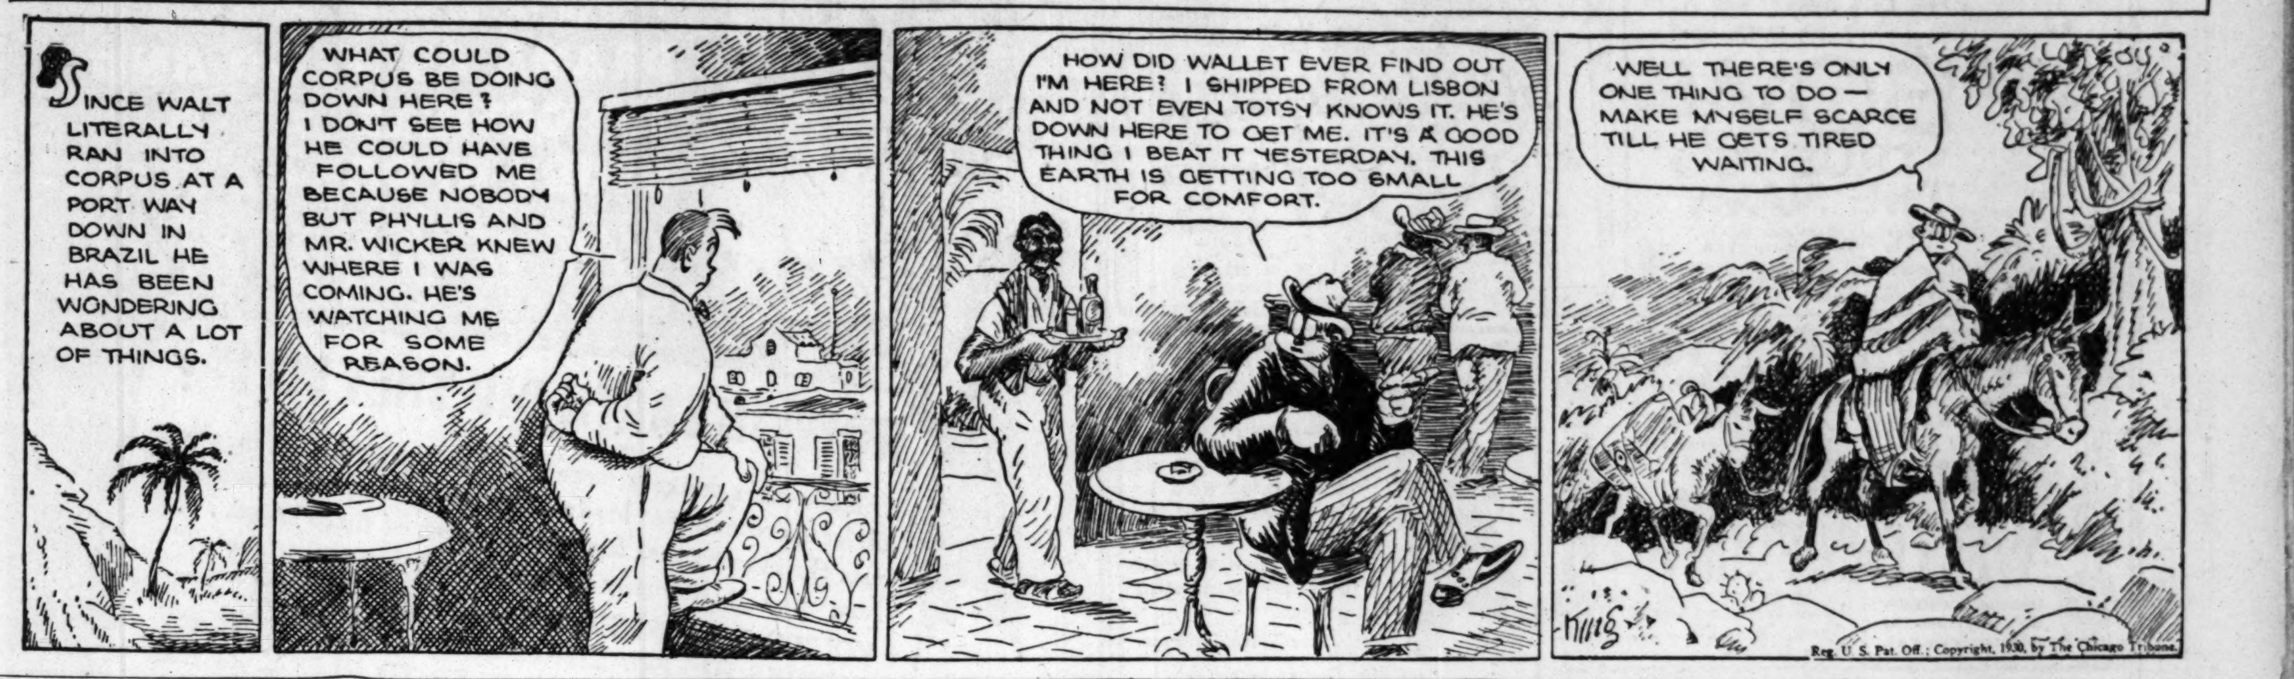
GASOLINE ALLEY—A GUESSING GAME



SPIDER WEB

By ALICE CAMPBELL

SYNOPSIS.

Catherine West of Boston, on her way to Paris, meets Geoffrey Macadam in the Havre to Paris train. Macadam is an Englishman who lives in Paris. Catherine tells him that she is going to visit her cousin's widow, Mme. Belmont Bender. She is a little apprehensive about the coming visit because she had received just before sailing a letter from Hermione Cushing, who tells her that Mme. Bender is far from well. Macadam is a lawyer and he tells Catherine that his firm handles Mme. Bender's affairs, but he doesn't know the widow very well. He had heard that she was ill. Arrived in Paris, Catherine is a little disappointed when her cousin's chauffeur is not at the station to meet her. Geoffrey sees her into a taxi, giving her his address and telephone number. He tells her that he will be anxious to know how things are at the Bender apartment and she promises to call him. Arrived at Mme. Bender's apartment, she is treated coldly by the servants and Jeanne, Mme. Bender's maid, suggests that she go to a hotel. Catherine insists on staying in the apartment, as she is suspicious of the servants. Jeanne tells her that Mme. Bender attempted to commit suicide the night before. The next morning Catherine goes in to see Germaine Bender, who is pathetically glad to see her. She tells Catherine how she had taken poison by mistake.

Geoffrey invites Catherine to dine with him and it is a relief for her to get out of the apartment and to tell him of her vague fears. He is disturbed, too. Geoffrey escorts her back to the apartment. The door is locked, but Geoffrey arouses Eduardo, who says he thought Miss West had come in long before.

The next morning Catherine calls on Miss Cushing, who takes her to her milliner, where she sees a man she has noticed hanging around the Bender apartment. Back in the apartment she finds the gallery open for the first time and she goes in only to discover a number of pictures and tapestries missing. She asks Jeanne about them and the maid says they were sold shortly before Mr. Bender's death. Catherine feels she is lying and believes she and Eduardo are thieves. She finds Jeanne is exerting a baneful influence on Mme. Bender. Jeanne denounces Catherine to the invalid.

Geoffrey again takes Catherine out to dinner and she unburdens herself to him. He has already put an investigator on the case. When he takes her back to the Bender apartment he takes her in his arms as he says good-night. Catherine responds to his kiss. He asks her to marry him, but she wants time to be certain of her feelings. On the way to her room she hears Germaine sobbing and goes to her. She retires hurriedly at Jeanne's return. Next morning Catherine is violently ill and the doctor is called in. On recovering Catherine goes to visit Geoffrey's sister at Fontainebleau, and after her arrival calls long distance to inquire about Germaine.

INSTALLMENT LVI.
SUSPICIONED MISCHIEF.

For a single instant Catherine's heart almost stopped beating. Germaine at the telephone? But this was impossible! Yet it was unmistakably her voice. Confused ideas rushed headlong upon her, instinctive attempts to supply an explanation for the phenomenon. At the same time she was so paralyzed from shock that speech deserted her, and she could only gasp, clutching the receiver in a hard grip. When the pause had become noticeable, the voice at the other end of the line spoke again, this time with some impatience.

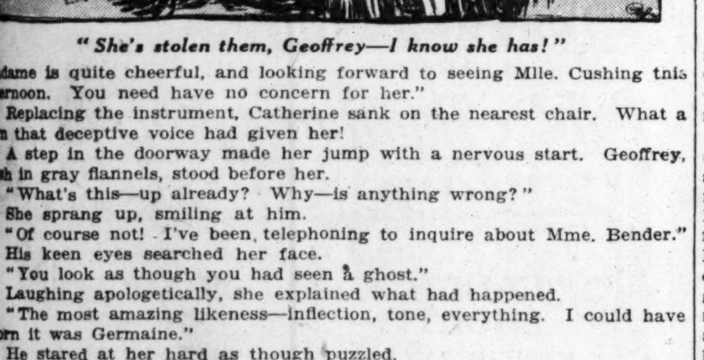
"Allo! Who is it? Is it Mlle. West speaking?"

Mlle. West! A second shock neutralized the first, but left her weak. So it was not Germaine at all, but Jeanne herself. Jeanne—but with a tone, an accent indistinguishable from those of her mistress! What an amazing similarity! Never before had Catherine noticed it, but then never till now had she spoken to the woman over the telephone. People's voices played strange tricks over the wire. . . .

"Yes, yes, Jeanne. I only want to know if madame passed a good night, and is feeling well this morning?"

The answer came promptly, with reassuring emphasis:

"But certainly, mademoiselle, everything is going marvelously well!



"She's stolen them, Geoffrey—I know she has!"

Madame is quite cheerful, and looking forward to seeing Mlle. Cushing this afternoon. You need have no concern for her."

Replacing the instrument, Catherine sank on the nearest chair. What a turn that deceptive voice had given her!

A step in the doorway made her jump with a nervous start. Geoffrey, fresh in gray flannels, stood before her.

"What's this—up already? Why—is anything wrong?"

She sprang up, smiling at him.

"Of course not! I've been telephoning to inquire about Mme. Bender."

His keen eyes searched her face.

"You look as though you had seen a ghost."

Laughing apologetically, she explained what had happened.

"The most amazing likeness—inflection, tone, everything. I could have sworn it was Germaine."

He stared at her hard as though puzzled.

"By jove!" he exclaimed under his breath, and then again, "By jove!"—in a manner betokening a sudden revelation.

"Is anything wrong about it?" she inquired curiously.

He shook his head. "No, only it struck me as queer."

She was unconvinced, but said no more till they had wandered out into the garden and seated themselves on a bench beneath the lime trees. Then, seeing that he was distrait, his brow furrowed in perplexity, she attacked him boldly.

"Geoffrey, you can't fool me. What is it you've got in your mind?"

Seeing that she was in earnest, he gave in reluctantly and in a few words related what he had learned about Jeanne and the bank manager.

"I should not have given it much thought if you hadn't mentioned this trick about the voices. Now I am naturally asking myself if Ellsworth didn't mistake Jeanne's voice for Mme. Bender's."

"You say she took the pearls away with her?"

"Calmly, my dear! Only the copy. The actual necklace is in the bank now."

She quivered with electric excitement, her brain working rapidly.

"But don't you see? The whole affair is probably a fraud. I am quite sure Germaine has not spoken on the telephone for many months, and as for the note supposed to have come from her, couldn't it have been a forgery? By the way, was it written by hand, or typewritten and simply signed?"

"I'm ashamed to say I didn't inquire, but I will do so."

He wondered if the note was still on file, as well as the one in which Mme. Bender had applied for the new key.

"Still, if all the woman did was to take out a string of imitation pearls——"

She turned on him with withering scorn.

"You poor innocent! Have you ever seen a really good copy of an actual pearl necklace? You couldn't tell it was imitation. I couldn't. Only an expert would know the difference, and a bank clerk is no expert. No, the more I think of it the surer I am that Jeanne put the copy into the box and took away the real ones!"

No good trying to smooth down her ruffled feathers. He could only stand abashed by her ruthless argument.

"She's stolen them, Geoffrey—I know she has! Even now they are probably disposed of, one by one. O! To think what the wretched creature has been up to while we've looked quietly on!"

"You may be right. I've a suspicion myself that there's been mischief going on. But as far as the pearls are concerned we can do nothing without a statement from your cousin. We can't open her private box and examine its contents. Do you think we ought to tell her what we believe?"

She looked at him dumbly.

"I daren't risk it," she murmured after a pause. "The shock might kill her. Later, when Jeanne is away and we have got her into a more normal frame of mind I might sound her on the subject."

"I thought you'd say that. It's a question of which is more important—Mme. Bender's recovery, or the loss of something she can well afford to part with."

She nodded, her face filled with painful doubt.

"Those were Hermione's pearls. What a blow it will mean to her!"

"Never mind Hermione," he retorted with slight impatience. "What we've got to be careful about now is to see that Mme. Bender does not execute some fantastic will, leaving her property to Jeanne."

Her eyes widened in alarm.

"Then you think that, after all, that is what she is up to?"

"I do. I come to believe that her pretending other people are after her mistress' money is merely a blind."

"But why——? I don't understand. She seems to be actually trying to prevent her from making her will."

"So she is—now. That is because she's afraid the money would go to some one else. But I am pretty certain she pictures herself ultimately as the fortunate legatee."

"Good heavens!" cried the girl, jumping up in fresh agitation. "Then I'd better hurry back at once!"

He laughed at her look of fright.

"It's not so bad as all that. Even if the will were drawn up it wouldn't be irrevocable, and besides I fancy Miss Cushing will act as a restraining influence while you are away."

"That is so," she admitted thoughtfully. "What a blessing I managed to make it up between them! No, I suppose there's no danger at the moment. For that matter, Jeanne's practically beaten, although she has used every possible weapon against me. Why, I almost believe she . . ."

She checked herself abruptly, on the verge of relating the idea which had come to her that morning in regard to the cause of her illness. She reminded herself that the notion was a little far fetched, but even so, if she spoke of it Geoffrey might exert himself to prevent her return.

"There's one thing we can do," he remarked. "We can submit those various letters of Mme. Bender's to a handwriting expert, and determine if they're genuine. If they turn out to be forgeries we can arrest Jeanne on the spot."

Good morning!

Miss Ruby Nolan, siren to sailors, meets her match in one Gunner McCoy! (So the headlines might read were this a news story instead of a movie review.)

"True to the Navy" is lively, has some funny lines, several amusing situations and is creditably acted. Its faults are a too obvious story, Miss Bow's atrocious hair-mattress coiffure and the mis-casting of Frederic March. Mr. March was built for the drawing room, the lawyer's office, the golf links—aye, the yacht!—but his mother never raised that boy to be a sailor, as you can tell by looking at him. Acting's willing but anatomy's weak.

Ruby Nolan is a San Diego soda fountain girl who has been ordered by her boss, Mr. Bimberg, to be nice to gentlemen customers. Who, then, shall blame Ruby if she wins the heart of every tar who frequents the place and sends him away with her promise to be true?

Who would ever guess that the entire Pacific fleet would be ordered to San Diego bay for target practice and that the legion of bluejacket fiancés should all bounce into Bimberg's at the same embarrassing moment?

What happens we will leave to your imagination, only whispering that Gunner McCoy, upon whom Ruby has never laid eyes before, enters the story at this point.

Mr. Bimberg's gambling activities across the border, which become much entangled with the romance of Nolan and McCoy, offer some diversion. Harry Green is comical as Bimberg and Sam Hardy gives an able performance as the suave gentleman who separates the former from his money and makes him like it.

This is by no means the best picture Clara Bow has had, but it's diverting enough entertainment for a languid June day.

Radio "Preview" of Talkies Is Started by Theater Chain

A new radio feature which will give listeners pre-auditions of forthcoming moving pictures, the dialogue, music and sound of an all-talkie, were broadcast tonight out of Chicago for the first time in the history of the movie and radio industries, according to an announcement by Publix-Balaban & Katz.

Five scenes from "Paramount on Parade," a picture yet to be released were put on the air throughout the midwest over station WIBO from the projection room atop the Chicago theater for a full half hour between 8:30 and 9 o'clock.

W. K. Hollender, general manager of the theater chain, who conceived the idea, declared that the success of tonight's broadcast means that Publix will furnish the public with radio "previews" of other feature pictures in the future.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

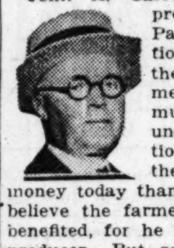
Do you think repealing the eighteenth amendment would help relieve the unemployment situation?

The Answers.

Alfred Bornemon, 3631 Dickens avenue, pattern maker—If the eighteenth amendment were repealed, probably that would help solve the unemployment situation. The farmer, for one, could hire more help, because of increased market for his grains. Conditions generally would be improved.

Albert G. Kellermann, 1619 Walnut street, manufacturer—Repealing the eighteenth amendment would relieve the unemployment situation more than 50 per cent. The revenue from liquor licenses alone would save the country millions of dollars. Something must be done soon.

F. H. Bowser, Elkhart, Ind., engineer, N. Y. C. R. R.—I believe the repeal of the amendment would help much in solving the terrible unemployment situation. I am convinced Uncle Sam should have the sale of booze controlled and well regulated. I also am convinced that would help general conditions. Farmers would be benefited.



John A. Carroll, Flossmoor, Ill., president of Hyde Park, Kenwood National bank—Repealing the eighteenth amendment would not have much to do with the unemployment situation. Do you know the banks have more money today than ever before? I do believe the farmer would be greatly benefited, for he is after all the real producer. But, somehow, I don't feel that the repeal would help the unemployment situation much.

Frank Humberstone, 214 North Austin boulevard, Oak Park, secretary — I don't believe I am qualified to speak, but somehow I feel repeal might help. I don't see how conditions can be much worse. Something ought to be done. If repealing the eighteenth amendment would mean some relief, by all means repeal it.

Hot Weather Strikes Blow at Poor Kids

Does It Make You Think of Camp Algonquin?

Yes, it was hot yesterday—real summer. But there are more hot days coming. Days that have a different kind of heat for the back o' yards folks than for those of other parts of town who play golf, or swim, or sail the cool lake, ride into the country, or speed away to a pleasant summer cottage.

That old man thermometer will keep rollin' along and there'll be no stopping him until late next fall. And what the heat will do to tenement homes! It will blister the bare feet of boys and girls who have no other playground than the streets or sidewalks. It will make babies sick and cross, and some mothers short tempered. In fact, there isn't much that is pleasant any time of the year about living in a tenement. Trucks rumbling by continually, no place for the children but out on the street or in the stuffy little two or three rooms much too small for families of eight and ten.

Just compare that with THE TRIBUNE's Camp Algonquin. Quiet and green and shady, up there on the Fox river near the summer cottages of more fortunate Chicagoans. Cool and comfortable with room to spread out. At night it is so quiet you fall asleep to the drone of insects and wake with the birds. There's a nurse who takes care of the baby and young men and women trained to take charge of the older children and direct their play. And a tenement mother can rest.

It is your help, readers, that gives all that and more to tenement families. Your $10 gives two weeks' vacation to a mother or a child. Your gift puts new hope in their hearts and new life in their eyes. If your check reaches the cashier of THE TRIBUNE this week or next, we'll see that it gives some of the first 180 mothers and children a real vacation, beginning June 17, at Camp Algonquin.

BEG YOUR PARDON.

The caption on a photograph of William A. Smyth, Crane college student, which was published in THE TRIBUNE yesterday, erroneously stated that Smyth had been nominated for entrance to West Point. Smyth's appointment is for the Naval academy at Annapolis.

A STRAIN ON THE FAMILY TIE

THE STAGE

"MANY A SLIP," the comedy which won so much praise and so little attendance at the Cort theater, vanished abruptly from the theatrical map last Saturday night. Apparently the recruiting of Wallace Ford in place of Douglass Montgomery did not arouse much excitement at the box office. Sylvia Field and Dorothy Sand, their contracts ended, went off for their summer holidays, and the "perfect cast" of which the critics sang became nothing but a memory.

For a few days last week the management flirted with the idea of running along at cut rates with an inexpensive cast. Charlotte Learn was put into rehearsal for Miss Sands' part, and Miss Field's understudy was told that she had inherited the heroine's rôle. But as the week ended this plan was abandoned, and "Many a Slip" was reported on Sunday night as "spurlos versenkt"—sunk without trace.

Subscription theaters to be operated next season in affiliation with the Dramatic League of Chicago have been organized recently in Cleveland and Pittsburgh. Local committees, composed of city officials, clubwomen, and workers in civic and cultural movements, are coöperating. At the meeting in Pittsburgh addresses were made by clergymen of three denominations. At the roundup in Cleveland the city manager [D. E. Morgan] and the mayor [John D. Marshall], sat at the speakers' table.

The theater to be used in Cleveland is the Hanna, built by the late Dan Hanna, son of the famous Mark Hanna. In Pittsburgh the theater will be the old Alvin, built in the 1890s by Charles L. Davis, who made a fortune as the author, producer, and star of a rural drama called "Alvin Joslyn."

If any one wants to see the drama under a tent he can find it by motoring out to Lake street and the Mannheim road. The first repertory organization to appear under canvas in the Chicago metropolitan area is now located there. It announces seats for 2,000 and parking space for 3,000 cars.

At the Playhouse of Cleveland, O.—which has some resemblances to the Goodman of Chicago—Sacha Guitry's comedy, "The Fall of Berg-Op-Zoom," is being acted this week. The adaptation was made by Gilbert Seldes, also the translator and adapter of the version of the "Lysistrata" of Aristophanes which will have a New York opening next Thursday night. Kenneth Macgowan intends to stage the Guitry comedy in New York next fall if the Cleveland performances please him.

Walker Whiteside plans to appear in New York next September in a play called "Birthdays," by Jessie Trimble and Belle Trimble Mattson. It will give him the rôle of an orchestra leader. Mr. Whiteside is better known "on the road" than in New York, therefore this venture has an adventurous aspect. His last New York appearance was in "The Royal Box," a revival of an old school melodrama fashioned from "Kean," which was written by none other than the elder Dumas of "The Three Musketeers."

"Mrs. Moonlight," a play by Benn W. Levy, is announced by Charles Hopkins to start the season at his New York theater about Sept. 22. Edith Barrett, now appearing in his production of "Michael and Mary," and Guy Standing will play the leading rôles.

"Mrs. Moonlight" was first produced at the Kingsway theater in London on Dec. 5, 1928. At that time it was described as a "pastiche" in three periods ranging from 1881 to the present. Leon Quartermaine and Joan Barry headed the London cast. Mr. Hopkins has held the American rights to the play for more than a year. Sylvia Field, recently of "Many a Slip," has been offered a rôle in it.

Constance Collier [star of "The Matriarch" last winter] has left for Los Angeles. There she will direct a production of "Rebound," starring Ina Claire, at the Curran-Belasco theater.

Lew Cantor will produce three shows in New York next season, one of which will be a musical comedy. His first offering will be the musical piece called "Top Hat." The plays are "Nearer the Rainbow," by Alexander De Moroff, and "On the Veranda," by Vivian Peters. The producer is going to Hollywood this week to negotiate with Charles Farrell and Janet Gaynor for the leading rôles in the first production. While he is on the Pacific coast he will stage "Soldiers and Women," "Many a Slip," and "Mendel, Inc.," his three New York productions of this season.

Alice Brady, who failed to find a successful vehicle this season, is going into vaudeville for the summer. She will begin an engagement at the Palace here June 14. C. C.

Music's Gayety Cloaks Bitter Wit in Opera

"Yeoman of the Guard" Is Last of Series.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

With "The Yeomen of the Guard" the first series of operettas presented by the Civic Opera company comes to an end. This Gilbert and Sullivan work will continue throughout the week. Next week come three of the four works they already have done, four performances of "The Bohemian Girl," two of "The Gondoliers," one of "The Yeomen." Then farewell until another season. "The Daughter of Mme. Angot," on the first announcements, has been postponed until then.

It has been as refreshing an experiment in design and execution as has come this way in many a long day. In fact performance frequently has outrun the works to be performed. When one has the pleasure of beholding a company with so much youth, enthusiasm, and intelligence as there is in the gallant organization at the Civic theater, one finds something exceptional and transfiguring.

"The Yeomen of the Guard" always has registered as one of the less popular works of the Gilbert and Sullivan partnership. Gilbert insisted upon and argued Sullivan into accepting a theme which should take the operetta form of song and spoken dialogue and yet be serious. His innate bitterness, which up to that time had been shown only in biting jests upon contemporary affairs and contemporary persons, was here exposed, sometimes without the clothing of his wit. Jack Point, the jester, is sometimes feeble with his jests, but intensely in earnest in his comments. As it turned out, either the subject was wrong for the form, or the form for the subject. In either event, it was a tactical error.

Gilbert did not abandon his lilting verse, however, and Sullivan could not set it in any other way, though perhaps a little more elaborately, than he had formerly done in the merrier worlds of make-believe that they had been creating. So you find large quantities of lighthearted music in the midst of situations dealing with a hero under sentence of death in the Tower of London, a resident head jailer and assistant tormenter, and similar blithe subjects. To be sure, you frequently find the same sort of thing in the opera that calls itself grand.

But whatever may be the trouble with the work, there is nothing the matter with the performance. They had been working night and day to get it into shape, and they got it. Such singing as proceeded last night from the throats of Hilda Burke and Charles Kullman, such wise and experienced personalities of the stage as are Lorna Doone Jackson and Mark Daniels, such a conductor as Frank St. Leger, ruling with flexible beat such a chorus and such an orchestra were capable of making even a duller opera stand out. This one is by no means dull. It is just off on the wrong foot.

It would seem as though Bertram Peacock conceived of Jack Point as more a humorous person than a sardonic philosopher. He is really more the latter. Just the same, Jack Point has some first rate songs to sing, and Mr. Peacock did them excellently. Barre Hill found himself in something of the position of the house of lords as related in "Iolanthe," but like that house, did it very well. Herbert Gould found himself in a straight part, acted and sung with some distinction, and there was efficient assistance from Chauncey Parsons, Constance Eberhart, Edith Trewartha, and others.

Sarane Otis, Robert Burns are Married

BY THALIA.

Miss Sarane Otis and Robert Burns of Los Angeles were married at the Fourth Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon.

The church and its altar were decorated with calla lilies and long white candles.

Miss Otis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Chester Otis, wore a Lanvin model of heavy satin with no ornamentation except a strip of heirloom rosepoint lace down the center of her long court train. Her billowy tulle veil fell from a coronet of the same lace and was caught at the sides with clusters of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was the latest in floral styles—long spray of lilies of the valley and gardenias arranged to be carried like a muff.

The matron of honor and maid of honor, Mrs. James Otis and Miss Florence Otis, wore chiffon and d'Alençon lace frocks of Talisman red, with hats of lace straw banded with velvet ribbon.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Howell Howard, Miss Emily Otis, Mrs. Ralph Chester Otis Jr., Mrs. John T. Pirie Jr., Mrs. Stephen Y. Hord, Mrs. Frederick Spencer, Mrs. William Chisholm, and Mrs. Henry Hatch of Cleveland, O.; Miss Edith Fairbanks and Miss Elinor Farwell wore similar gowns of cream colored lace, hats of cream colored straw with Talisman red ribbons and matching slippers.

The dresses (the modiste who has been making wedding party outfits for fashionable nuptials for 27 years says they are the loveliest she has ever been authorized to make) were long and full skirted with lace ruffled capes. The matron and maid of honor carried huge bouquets of yellow roses and deep blue flowers, and the maids' flowers were Talisman roses, lavender sweet peas, and lace flowers. The bride's mother wore a georgette gown of Nile green with a cape edged with sable and a small brown horsehair hat. Fritz Bernard Burns was best man for his brother, and the ushers were Stuart, Ralph C., and James Otis, John Elliott Jenkins, George Allen of Houston, Tex.; Robert Atwater, Keeney Smith, and Frederick Spencer.

The marriage of Miss Betty Ann Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Bogardus Shaw, to Joseph Andrew Kroeck was solemnized yesterday afternoon at the Shaw residence at 1120 Lake Shore drive. A reception at the Drake followed.

The bride wore a gown of pale peach color satin and a tulle veil falling from a pearl coronet. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor, Miss Alice Sincere, wore a French blue taffeta frock.

The bridesmaids, Miss Eloise Dickens, Miss Gladys Marz, Mrs. Chancellor Dougall, and Mrs. Bryan T. Adriance, were gowned in yellow, orchid, pink, and green taffeta, respectively. All of the attendants carried muffs of pastel flowers and tulle.

Mr. and Mrs. Kroeck will sail on Friday on the Ile de France for a honeymoon in France, Germany, and Switzerland.

Even though it's six months away, it's not difficult to tell that the benefit the Infant Welfare society is arranging for Sunday evening, Nov. 16, will be one of the gala events of the late fall season. Admiral Richard E. Byrd is to give a lecture on his trip to the south pole on that occasion, according to an announcement just issued by Philip D. Armour, president of the Infant Welfare.

The Vocational Society for Shut-ins will hold a sale tomorrow at the residence of Mrs. Walter A. Strong at 1377 Tower road, Winnetka. The committee of assistants is composed of Mrs. Horace W. Armstrong, Mrs. Ayres Boal, Mrs. Daniel Burnham, Mrs. Edwin H. Clark, Mrs. Arthur F. Cushman, Mrs. Raymond C. Cates Durham, Mrs. Victor Elting, Mrs. Helga Hansen Dean, Mrs. Sherman Hay, Mrs. William G. Hibbard, Mrs. John P. Hooker, Mrs. Carl Kelley, Mrs. J. Waller Marshall, Mrs. Philip W. Moore, Mrs. Gilbert Scribner, and Mrs. Willoughby Walling.

There will be a luncheon for board members and tea will be served in the afternoon by a group of Winnetka debutantes, including Miss Margaret Emily Lynde, Miss Elizabeth Parker, Miss Winifred McKeown, and Miss Louise Lackner.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest James Stevens are to give a dinner dance next Tuesday evening at the Stevens hotel for Miss Dorothy Moulds, who is to become the bride of Ernest Street Stevens on June 12 at the Hyde Park Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold D. K. Mason of Highland Park announce the birth of a daughter, Phyllis Louise, on May 28. Mrs. Mason was, before her marriage a year ago, Miss Phyllis Louise Harrington of Milton Center, Mass.

Mrs. Robert E. Wood of Highland Park and her daughter, Miss Frances Wood are aboard the S. S. Majestic which is due in New York City today from Europe. They have been away for several months.

Miss Marian Olcott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Olcott of 425 Fullerton parkway, has returned from a visit of two months in the east.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Slade of 180 East Delaware place have left for a motor trip through the east.

Young J. Borden Harriman, Actor, Has Breakdown

New York, June 2.—[Special.]—J. Borden Harriman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Harriman, who made his first stage appearance in 1923 in a stock company and has since appeared in New York and London in various plays, is recovering from a nervous breakdown, it was learned today. Mrs. Harriman, his mother, said she had brought her son from London. He had suffered a breakdown there.

Matisse Brush Hovering Over De Koven Art

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

An exhibition of paintings, pastels, and drawings by Seymour De Koven opened yesterday in the Knoedler gallery and will continue to June 14. Mr. De Koven is a Chicagoan who has lived abroad a number of years and, though he is only in his twenties, he is already being spoken of in Paris as a coming man. That he has talent may pass undisputed. That he is beyond his student years is a matter of doubt.

The present show gives in full the exact period to which so far he has attained. He is still cradled in modernism and being nursed on facts. Realism is the exaggeration of the commonplace. Spoons and cups and kitchen vegetables have in modernist realism an importance altogether out of proportion with their intrinsic value. Mr. De Koven has not as yet sorted his values. He put his hand into the grab-bag of life and paints each object as he brings it out. Unfortunately the grab-bag is still with him in its culinary tradition.

Unless you are tired, as we are, of being shoved up against females with huge breasts and vaster thighs and mountainous hips, these attributes topped by insignificant heads wearing, when they wear any, a banal and complacent expression—unless, we say, you are tired of such females, you may rejoice in Mr. De Koven's exhibit. It is full of females. One hates to call them women because they are such a reflection on woman as a class. These De Koven modernist figures are direct offspring of the creatures fathered by Matisse. Matisse is responsible for much of the modernist exaggeration of hte human torso. There are others who share his responsibility, but he is so flagrantly responsible that his name jumps to mind in any sober consideration of the subject.

It is a difficult exhibition to classify. On one hand there is good drawing and meticulous care in detail; on the other hand there is vulgarity and clumsiness. There is much that is banal and much that should be relegated to the class room. On the credit side there is purpose and vigor in the work and undoubted talent. The portrait of "Grock," the clown, a figure in Paris, is very fine. The "Adele" is smug. The "Girl with Guitar" has all run to leg; the "Nude Study" has run to fat, billows of it; the "contortionist" is a normal girl, effectively displayed, with slim lines that are a joy; the "Transition" is a fantasy in shells and snails and humanity, in which the snails have much the more dignified part.

Society Women Prepare for Two Days of Carnival

It was a warm day yesterday, but society women worked anyway tacking billboards all over the front of the Potter Palmer residence on Lake Shore drive in preparation for the carnival there on Friday and Saturday for the benefit of the Red, White and Blue club, settlement house at 1340 Wade street. Space on the boards was bought by Chicago merchants for about $10,000.

EDITS YEAR BOOK

MISS EILEEN L. CLIFFORD.

Miss Eileen Louise Clifford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Clifford of 1508 Estes avenue, was graduated yesterday with a bachelor of arts degree from Clarke college in Dubuque, Ia. Miss Clifford has been prominent in the college activities, and as editor in chief supervised the publication of the first edition of the college year book.

Golf Widows Grow Restive; Take to Divorce Courts

BY DORIS BLAKE.

What quaint ideas some husbands still seem to have about women!

Take the golf maniac, who begins now to make his annual appearance as disturber of domestic peace! Where to take him I don't know. But he ought to be taken somewhere where he would get a good sound earful on how to treat the little woman.

These same little women, given hours upon hours and Saturdays and Sundays to turn thoughts inward, are apt to turn into great big menaces. Nothing short of alimony grants have been known to accrue to women given time and companionless hours for self commiseration.

Just a friendly tip, and a seasonal one, for golf fiends like Mary H's husband! What a touching optimism invades the heart of a mate who expects a wife to radiate joy over the golf score that delayed the dinner hour after its scheduled time. What blithering faith to expect lonesome Saturdays and Sundays to breed content in the modern female soul!

"Time after time," protests the golf widow H, "I have dinner nearly ready. The phone rings. The message is 'I won't be home until late. I'm going to play.' Saturdays and Sundays he is gone. No recreation for me. I cook, sew, clean, and do everything.

"We're paying for a nine room house, so I can't afford help. I'm strong, reasonably young, can play tennis, and would life golf—but what can I do, with the babies and the meals to get? Trying to reason with my husband, he says: 'You're selfish. What would you do if I ran around and gambled?'"

Just to prove that the mate too optimistic never can tell what may be brewing in the little woman's mind, Mary H. has the scheme under consideration of selling the home and renting a small apartment. Then she could afford help or have more time free to get out for a little recreation on her own. Also, this would eliminate the discord that follows when things about the house that need a man's attention are neglected for golf.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Just Hard Luck.

"Dear Miss Blake: What is it if I love a boy and he doesn't like me? "WORRIED."

It's hard luck, Worried.

Domineering Friend.

"Dear Miss Blake: My boy friend tries to boss me. I don't let him. What shall I do? SNOOKY."

Tell him a kindly manner is more effective than a bossy one.

The Modern Ritzy Office Calls for a Pretty Chic Steno

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

It probably was a mere coincidence, but there was the young woman at the information desk in a reception room that outmoderned anything yet observed in modernistic office setting. She was done in golden brown and shell pink. A coral tipped hand reached for a telephone [French design]. The telephone, my sisters of the hard working gentry, was tinted shell pink with traceries of golden brown working through to its nonutilitarian looking surface.

Me and me umbrella [borrowed from my kind hearted elevator man] made a dive for an obscure corner. We weren't shell pink nor golden brown, either one of us. We looked like a rainy day and felt like a whole season of 'em. So we took to the softly shaded niche.

When we got our ribs straightened out after a fall into one of the legless wonders known as chairs in modern arty coicles, we were led into an office that decided for me and me boneheaded pal that next time we went office calling we were going de luxe. Rain or no rain—we're going in "tints," if we have to call up ahead and inquire whether it should be gold and pink, lavender and gray, silver and black, or what?

We're not going to be shown up for a coupla hardy perennials in a setting the reminds you of rose leaves, cyclamen, jasmine, and larkspur. Not if it's wash tubs, frying pans, axle grease, or barn door paint we're setting out to inquire about. We're gwine to be dressed for modern office atmosphere.

Great days are ahead for the poor woikin' gal. Tough days—if the Big Boss puts all his silver into the walls. She's goin' to need more pay to keep up with the house her girlish charm qualifies her for.

I've always contended, though, that what we woikin' gals needed was a more charming background to bring out our daylight graces. Now, we're getting it, from the looks of several offices I've been in lately.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

G. K.: EXTRA CARE SHOULD BE given the cuticle at the base of the nail. If it is not kept pushed back the shape of the nail is destroyed, and it may become torn and hangnails develop. Manicuring instructions may be had for a stamped addressed envelope.

B. C. S.: MILD CASES OF PERspiration are benefited by bathing the affected parts with hot water to which either boric acid or alum has been added. Where the odor is more pungent more drastic measures are required. Send a stamped addressed envelope for booklet on excessive perspiration.

Paderewski Plans Tour of U. S. Starting in October

New York, June 2.—(AP)—Restored to health, Ignace Paderewski will come to the United States in October to fulfill engagements which were cancelled last season because of his illness. Arranging for his 17th U. S. tour, he so cabled his American manager today from Paris. He suggested that arrangements be made "for a mild winter." He is 69 years old.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Deserving Family Needs Help.

"I would like to know if you could help me. I am expecting a baby in a few weeks and my husband has been out of work for some time. The little money we had saved we had to use to live on as we have other children. I would like to have some clothing for the baby and some night gowns and sheets for myself. We will be glad to get anything to help us out. "MRS. A. J."

Isn't it pitiful that this siege of unemployment should have to come just at the time when additional money is needed and the mother should be relieved of worry and distress. Perhaps you can dispel some of this uneasiness by donating at least the clothing which is so badly needed.

Egg Missed Its Cue.

My most embarrassing moment was one of those things that simply do not happen to people. Our dramatic class was giving a play which required me to throw an egg on the floor in a fit of rage. In order to save the rug [which was borrowed] we removed the inside of the egg before the big scene. When I threw the egg on the floor, instead of breaking like a well mannered egg should, it bounced off the stage into the audience. The play made a big hit, but I haven't gone back to class since. E. Variety in Line and Color Produces Chic

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—Just when you think that the Paris couturiers have exhausted every possible sartorial combination, one of them springs something new and charming, and as variety is the prime essential of chic this year, their trouvailles are eagerly sought after.

Vionnet has introduced a new and graceful line into her costumes for informal afternoon wear. That is to say, she has adapted a line that had disappeared for many moons from feminine fashions—the flaring three-quarter tunic. And to render the novelty even more striking she makes the tunic in a color contrasting with the narrower underskirt.

She has chosen navy blue and Burgundy red for the tunic ensemble sketched above. These two colors do something marvelous to each other, creating a rich, fresh harmony which makes a fair skinned woman look simply dazzling. Vionnet cuts the Burgundy red wool tunic with her famous diagonal closing under the arm and drapes it softly round the waist, so that it is becoming to a full as well as to a slender figure. Its circular skirt flares out smartly above its narrow fourreau of navy satin which is recalled by the navy scarf draped round the neck and tied in a bow on the left shoulder. A triangle of red wool buttons holds the bodice in place.

I saw this ensemble worn by one of the smarest women at the races. She was carrying Vionnet's large square bag in navy blue leather, and her Reboux hat in navy blue satin felt, with winged brim in the new uplifted Mercury movement, was trimmed with Burgundy red grosgrain ribbon.

Food Talk.

Many people find the eating of spinach a health duty. Just the other day I saw and heard this: A man in line at the cafeteria said to his friend behind him, "O, I guess I'll eat spinach today." The tone of his voice sounded as if he had had some advice from his wife or doctor. There is a cause for this attitude, and I believe it can all be traced to poor cooking. The only way many have ever seen spinach served is in an ugly colored, mushy, bitter tasting mass.

Fortunately all of these qualities may be reversed through good cooking. Too often those who prepare spinach do not appreciate the great possibilities of this green plant. It is all in the knowing how to cook it. Since spinach is such a valuable source not alone of iron, but also of vitamins A and B with some C and D, it should be cooked so that it will be palatable.

The green coloring matter known as chlorophyll causes the trouble in cooking. Heat and acids change the beautiful green color to the characteristic, unattractive brown that is brought to the table. The flavor is also affected by acids.

The acid that spoils the color comes from the spinach itself. This acid is liberated as the vegetable is heated and passes off with the steam. A covered cooking vessel, however, holds in the acid, allowing it to react on the chlorophyll. For this reason spinach, as well as all other green vegetables, should be cooked in an open kettle and cooked as quickly as possible to preserve the color.

The water that clings to the leaves from the washing water is usually sufficient for cooking the spinach. As the spinach becomes hot a large amount of the water within the leaves is drawn out—enough to finish cooking. Six to ten minutes of boiling is ample.

To many the flavor of spinach is greatly improved if some lettuce is combined with it. Such a combination has a much milder flavor than spinach alone would give. The outer envelope leaves of lettuce, not desirable for salads, may be used.

SEE DRIVE FOR KEGEL PLAN IN SLUSH REPORTS

Refrigerant Issue Ready for Council.

An attempt to force the city council to adopt Health Commissioner Kegel's ordinance for the regulation of mechanical refrigerators was seen yesterday by members of the council health committee in the report that Edgar J. Cook, attorney for the plumbers' union, is investigating rumors that a $100,000 slush fund was raised to influence action on the refrigerator legislation. The committee recommended the boiler inspection department's ordinance to the council.

"It appears to be a method of intimidation to force the council to adopt the Kegel ordinance," said Ald. Joseph C. Ross [40th]. "Or it is a cheap attempt to cloud the issue, warp the judgment of the aldermen and cause a further delay in getting an ordinance passed.

Tells of Study Made.

"The committee studied all the ordinances before it from a health viewpoint, which was Dr. Kegel's only consideration, and also from a viewpoint of economics and public policy. If the committee had adopted the Kegel ordinance and all the revisions made to it the aldermen would have legislated the Chicago refrigerator manufacturing industry out of business."

Ald. William D. Meyering [8th], who introduced the motion to recommend the boiler department ordinance, said that he had done so because he was convinced, after a year's study, that it was the best ordinance.

"If Cook has any information that a slush fund was raised he should push his investigation to the limit," said Ald. Meyering.

Refuses to Disclose Evidence.

Attorney Cook said he could not disclose his evidence, but is waiting until his investigation has been concluded. Asked if he would turn over his evidence to the state's attorney he replied: "Why take it to the state's attorney? It will die there."

BURY AUSTRIAN EX-ARCHDUKE AS SOCIALISTS JEER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, Austria, June 2.—The body of former Archduke Rainer-Karl Hapsburg, who until his death a week ago peddled movie films by motorcycle, was buried today beside the coffin of Emperor Francis Joseph. Vienna hardly noticed the funeral.

The former archduke, one of the last of the Hapsburgs, went to his grave in the Capucine monastery, where 137 Hapsburgs lie, as a private citizen. As the funeral procession passed through the streets a crowd of Socialist working men hooted and jeered at Royalists and members of European nobility in the parade.

A few old generals of the former imperial army and a few members of European royalty, together with Capucine monks, formed the funeral march. The dead Hapsburg was the eldest son of Archduke Leopold Salvator and Princess Blanche of Castille.
